Corning expects Avanex to hire approximately 400 employees from Corning and its Italian subsidiary in this transaction. Corning also paid Avanex $20 million in cash at closing plus an amount equal to its warranty expenses for certain other warranty repairs. At closing, Avanex issued to Corning a number of its shares of Common Stock equal to 17% of the outstanding shares of Common Stock (the Corning Share Issuance ).

Simultaneously with the Corning Share Issuance and pursuant to the terms of the Purchase Agreement, Alcatel transferred the stock of its French subsidiary Optronics France to Avanex, together with certain specified additional intellectual property and cash in the amount of U.S.$40 million, 15 million euros and certain additional amounts relating to restructuring costs. Avanex assumed the liabilities of the Optronics France subsidiary other than certain enumerated real property and other obligations which was assigned to Alcatel or its subsidiaries at the closing. At the closing under the Purchase Agreement, Avanex delivered to Alcatel the number of shares of Avanex Common Stock equal to 28% of the outstanding shares of Common Stock (the Alcatel Share Issuance ).

This description is only a summary of the terms of the Purchase Agreement which is Exhibit 99.1 to the original Schedule 13D and is incorporated herein by reference.

Stockholders Agreement

At the closing of the transactions contemplated by the Purchase Agreement, Corning and Alcatel entered into a Stockholders Agreement with Avanex. With respect to Corning and its affiliates, the Stockholders Agreement provides that for a period of three years after the closing under the Purchase Agreement with respect to the Corning Share issuance Corning will not, and will cause its affiliates not to, directly or indirectly, alone or in concert with any other person: (a) acquire record or beneficial ownership of any Avanex securities other than those acquired in the Corning Share Issuance, by way of stock split, dividend or other recapitalization, or any incidental indirect investment made by employee-benefit plan related trusts; (b) propose or seek a merger, consolidation, recapitalization, reorganization, restructuring, sale, lease, exchange or other disposition of substantially all of the assets of, or other business combination involving, or tender or exchange offer for securities of Avanex or any other transaction which would result in the stockholders of Avanex immediately prior to the transaction holding less than 50% of the equity securities of the surviving or resulting corporation or parent entity after the transaction; (c) publicly seek to exercise control or influence of the management of Avanex, provided that any Corning nominee who is a director of Avanex may take any action necessary to fulfill his fiduciary obligations to the stockholders of Avanex; (d) solicit or participate in the solicitation of any proxies in opposition to a recommendation of the Board of Directors of Avanex (as such terms are defined under the Exchange Act); or (e) form or join a group or act in concert with any person or take any similar action to acquire, hold, vote or dispose of any Avanex securities, other than an acquisition of up to 5% of the Avanex securities through an acquisition, business combination or merger with any entity owning such securities. In addition, the Stockholders Agreement provides that so long as Corning and its affiliates own 5% or more of the outstanding voting securities of Avanex, Corning will vote, and cause any affiliate holding the shares of Common Stock to vote, the securities beneficially owned by Corning in the manner recommended by a majority of the Board of Directors of Avanex and will cause such securities to be present in person or by proxy at all meetings of Avanex stockholders for the purposes of establishing a quorum. For a period of one year and two business days following the date of the Stockholders Agreement, Corning and its affiliates will agree not to sell or otherwise transfer record, beneficial or economic ownership of the shares of Common Stock it receives in the Corning Share Issuance. Thereafter, Corning and its affiliates will dispose of no more than 10% of the shares issued upon the Corning Share Issuance during each calendar quarter thereafter, together with any portion of the previous quarters permitted dispositions not disposed of in the prior quarters. Avanex will agree to register the shares of Common Stock held by Corning in increments corresponding to the rights of disposition after the initial lock-up period. Corning also has certain demand registration rights and piggy back rights and will agree to suspend any offering from time to time if requested by Avanex upon the occurrence of certain conditions when Avanex has material information which it would be detrimental to Avanex to disclose at such time, the prospectus is or becomes misleading, or the continued offering would materially interfere with a material corporate transaction or event involving Avanex. Corning has also agreed to withhold its Common Stock from the market for 90 days upon the request of Avanex or its underwriters if Avanex is publicly offering its securities.

For a period of five years after the closing of the transactions under the Purchase Agreement and so long as Corning and its affiliates hold at least 5% of the outstanding Common Stock, Corning will have the contractual right under the Stockholders Agreement to purchase new securities offered by Avanex for cash or, if the Avanex offering is for other than cash, the cash equivalent as determined by the Board of Directors of Avanex, that number of new securities of Avanex which will permit Corning to maintain its proportionate interest in Avanex. The terms and conditions of the sale to Corning upon the exercise of any such right would be on the same terms and conditions as other purchasers in the issuance, subject to Corning obtaining any required governmental approvals. Certain securities issuances by Avanex would not be subject to the right of purchase by Corning, including: issuances to officers, employees, directors and others pursuant to stock incentive or benefit plans or programs approved by the stockholders of Avanex, securities issued upon exercise of securities outstanding as of the closing of the transactions contemplated by the Purchase Agreement, securities issued by Avanex in the acquisition of another corporation or assets by Avanex, securities issued to financial institutions pursuant to commercial leasing or debt financing transactions approved by the Board of Directors, securities issued in connection with sponsored research, collaboration, technology license, development, OEM, marketing or similar agreements or strategic partnerships approved by the Board of Directors of Avanex, securities excluded from the right by unanimous vote of the Board of Directors, and any right, option or warrant to acquire any such securities.

Pursuant to the Stockholders Agreement, Corning will, after the Corning Share Issuance and so long as it owns 5% or more of the outstanding shares of Avanex Common Stock, have the right to designate one individual reasonably acceptable to Avanex to be elected to the Board of Directors of Avanex and the Board will recommend to the Avanex stockholders the election of such designee for a term of not more than three years. Upon the request of Avanex made at a time when Corning holds less than 5% of the outstanding Common Stock, the Corning designee will resign from the Board of Directors within five days of such request.

This description is only a summary of the terms of the Stockholders Agreement which is Exhibit 99.3 to the original Schedule 13D and is incorporated herein by reference.
