Item 8.01. Other Events

On March 22, 2005, in the litigation matter InfraSource, Inc., F/K/A Exelon InfraSource Services, Inc. v. Hahn Yalena Corporation, Case No. A04A1896, a panel of the Court of Appeals of Georgia issued an opinion reversing a January 2004 $3.8 million judgment by the Superior Court of Fulton County, Georgia against InfraSource Incorporated, a subsidiary of InfraSource Services, Inc. (the Company). The January 2004 judgment, which included $3.2 million of punitive damages, resulted from a jury verdict which had upheld allegations by the plaintiff that, in 1999, InfraSource Incorporated (formerly known as Exelon InfraSource Services, Inc.) had fraudulently induced the plaintiff to incur expenses in connection with a proposed business acquisition that was never consummated. As a result of the jury verdict, the Company recorded a liability of $3.8 million in 2003.

The Court of Appeals panel reversed the trial court's decision on matters of law related to the plaintiff's fraud claims. The Court of Appeals panel also found for InfraSource Incorporated in the plaintiff's cross appeal by affirming the trial court's holding with respect to the plaintiff's trade secret claim. The plaintiff has ten days from the date of decision to file a motion for reconsideration of the decision of the Appeals Court or 20 days to file a notice of appeal with the Supreme Court of Georgia.
