FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

THE CHILDREN'S PLACE RETAIL STORES FILES INVESTOR PRESENTATION

Outlines Company's Strong Operational and Financial Performance Since Ezra Dabah Resigned;

Urges Stockholders to Vote the WHITE Proxy Card and Support the Company's

Highly Qualified and Independent Incumbent Nominees

Secaucus, New Jersey June 29, 2009 The Children's Place Retail Stores, Inc. (Nasdaq: PLCE) today announced that it has filed an investor presentation with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) in connection with the Company's 2009 Annual Meeting of Stockholders to be held on July 31, 2009. The Children's Place's Board of Directors recommends that stockholders vote FOR the Company's three highly qualified and independent incumbent directors up for election - Sally Frame Kasaks, Malcolm Elvey, and Norman Matthews - on the WHITE proxy card, rejecting the three hand-picked nominees of former Chairman and CEO Ezra Dabah. Since Mr. Dabah and his father-in-law Stanley Silverstein are existing members of the Board, election of Mr. Dabah's three hand-picked nominees would result in five of the nine members of the Company's Board being Mr. Dabah's personal designees.

Highlights of the presentation include:

- A detailed account of achievements by the Company's current Board and management, including the decisive steps taken to turnaround and revitalize the business after Mr. Dabah was forced to resign as CEO in September 2007 after Deloitte & Touche, then the Company's auditors, told the Board it was no longer willing to rely on his representations in connection with its audits.
- In the 21 months since Mr. Dabah's resignation, the Company has performed very well operationally and financially despite a recessionary economy and negative industry trends.
- The Company is performing well based on various metrics including: overall sales growth; comparable retail sales growth; operating margin; liquidity; and earnings per share.

- Importantly, the Company's stock price has outperformed all 15 companies in its peer group since the beginning of fiscal 2008. Shares of The Children's Place appreciated 39% for fiscal 2008-2009 year-to-date (through June 19, 2009) far ahead of the S&P Retail Index which is down 22%.
 - This success has been a direct result of the Board's commitment to achieving measured growth, increased profitability and enhanced liquidity.
 - An in-depth review of the tumultuous last years of Mr. Dabah's reign at The Children's Place, including an analysis of his ill-conceived and badly executed strategy and his disregard of accepted corporate governance standards.
 - During this period, Mr. Dabah put in place a number of high-risk, poorly developed strategies to accelerate top-line sales at the expense of operating profit, which significantly eroded gross margins and resulted in SG&A growth outpacing revenue growth, and operating income and earnings per share declining precipitously.
 - While Mr. Dabah was CEO, the Company significantly underperformed the S&P Retail Index from the time of the Company's IPO in September 1997 until his departure in September 2007. In fact, during this 10-year period under Mr. Dabah's leadership, The Children's Place stock underperformed the S&P Retail Index by 93 percentage points.
 - An outline of Mr. Dabah's attempts to gain control of the Company, which is not in the best interests of stockholders.

- Unable or unwilling to raise enough money for an acquisition after requesting a review of strategic alternatives, Mr. Dabah has initiated a proxy contest for control.
- Since Mr. Dabah and his father-in-law Stanley Silverstein are existing members of the Board, election of Mr. Dabah's three hand-picked nominees would result in his designation of five of nine directors – the majority of the Board – and de facto control of the Company.
- The facts underlying Mr. Dabah's departure as Chairman and CEO, combined with his recent actions, reinforce the Company's strong belief that Mr. Dabah is only looking out for his own interests and will place investors at risk.

The complete investor presentation is available under the Investor Relations section of the Company's website at: <http://www.childrensplace.com> and at the SEC's website at <http://www.sec.gov>.

The Children's Place has sent stockholders WHITE proxy cards which should be returned to vote FOR the Company's three director nominees. To vote FOR these nominees, stockholders should sign, date and return the WHITE proxy card as soon as it is received.
