Item 8.01 Other Events

Inland Western Retail Real Estate Trust, Inc. (the Company) elected to be taxed as a real estate investment trust (REIT) under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, commencing with the tax year ending December 31, 2003. In connection with the preparation for a potential listing of the Company's common stock on the New York Stock Exchange, it was discovered that the effective purchase price paid prior to May 2006 for shares that were issued under our dividend reinvestment plan (DRP) was slightly less than 95% of the offering price of those shares. During 2004 through April, 2006 daily distributions accrued on the shares issued to shareholders participating in the DRP. Through April, 2006, shares issued under the DRP were treated as issued on the first day of the month rather than the 10th day, which was generally when the cash distributions were paid to shareholders not participating in the DRP. The aggregate amount of the additional distributions that were paid through April, 2006 on the shares issued under the DRP was approximately $359 thousand out of approximately $360 million paid to shareholders.

Under a Revenue Ruling issued by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS), the IRS has taken the position that if a REIT discounts the price of shares issued under a dividend reinvestment plan by more than 5%, then the REIT's distributions may not count toward the dividends that a REIT must distribute to maintain qualification as a REIT. If all of the dividends that the Company paid prior to May 2006 did not count toward the REIT dividend distribution requirement, the Company may not have qualified as a REIT and may be subject to federal income tax on its taxable income at regular corporate tax rates for its open statutory years. The Company intends to voluntarily submit a request to the IRS for a closing agreement whereby the IRS would agree that the Company's dividends qualified for the REIT dividend distribution requirement for taxable years 2004 through 2006. There can be no assurance that the IRS will enter into a closing agreement with the Company; however, the IRS has entered into similar closing agreements with other REITs. Because the Company believes the IRS will enter into a closing agreement, it does not expect this matter will result in any tax or other significant liabilities.
