Renhuang Pharmaceuticals, Inc. (the “Company”) is filing this Amendment No. 2 to Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended October 31, 2008 with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC”) to clarify under Item 9A(T)-Controls and Procedures the reasons why as of October 31, 2008, that its disclosure controls and procedures and internal control over financial reporting were not effective.

ITEM 9A(T) – CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

Disclosure Controls and Procedures

We conducted an evaluation, with the participation of our Chief Executive Officer and Principal Accounting Officer, of the effectiveness of the design and operation of our disclosure controls and procedures, as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, or the Exchange Act, as of October 31, 2008, to ensure that information required to be disclosed by us in the reports filed or submitted by us under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported, within the time periods specified in the SEC’s rules and forms, including to ensure that information required to be disclosed by us in the reports filed or submitted by us under the Exchange Act is accumulated and communicated to our management, including our Chief Executive Officer and Principal Accounting Officer, or persons performing similar functions, as appropriate to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure. We did not file our quarterly reports on Form 10-Q for the quarters ended January 31, 2008, April 30, 2008 and July 31, 2008 during the fiscal year ended October 31, 2008. These Form 10-Qs were filed in January, 2010. In addition, we were late filing our annual report on Form 10-K for the year ended October 31, 2008, and filed an amendment to such Form 10-K to restate fiscal 2008 financial statements due to the misstatement of sales rebates. Based on that evaluation, our Chief Executive Officer and Principal Accounting Officer have concluded that as of October 31, 2008, our disclosure controls and procedures were not effective.

Internal Control over Financial Reporting

Management, under the supervision of our chief executive officer and chief financial officer, is responsible for establishing and maintaining adequate internal control over financial reporting. Internal control over financial reporting (as defined in Rules 13a-15(f) and 15d(f) under the Exchange Act) is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States, or GAAP. Internal control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (a) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of assets, (b) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with GAAP, (c) provide reasonable assurance that receipts and expenditures are being made only in accordance with appropriate authorization of management and the board of directors, and (d) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use or disposition of assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements. A “material weakness” is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control over financial reporting such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the registrant’s annual or interim financial statements will not be prevented or detected on a timely basis by the company’s internal controls. A “significant deficiency” is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control over financial reporting that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those responsible for oversight of the registrant’s financial reporting. A “deficiency” in internal control over financial reporting exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect misstatements on a timely basis.

During our review of our financial statements and results for the year ended October 31, 2008, our management, under the supervision and with the participation of our chief executive officer and chief financial officer, assessed the effectiveness of our internal control over financial reporting.

As of October 31, 2008, we deemed the following material weaknesses:

- We have not yet completed documentation of controls placed in operation to adequately address our financial reporting risks. Accordingly, we have not yet had the opportunity to assess the effectiveness of our procedures to determine whether our internal control over financial reporting is effective.
- As discussed above, in light of our failure to timely file our periodic reports for fiscal 2008, we did not believe that our disclosure controls and procedures were effective at October 31, 2008.
- We incorrectly calculated the amount of sales rebates paid to our sales agents for the year ended October 31, 2008. As a result we were required to restate our financial statements for the year ended October 31, 2008.

Because of the forgoing, management has concluded that we did not maintain effective internal control over financial reporting as of October 31, 2008.

This Annual Report does not include an attestation report of our independent registered public accounting firm regarding internal control over financial reporting. Management's report was not subject to attestation by our independent registered public accounting firm pursuant to temporary rules of the SEC that permit us to provide only management's report in this Annual Report.

Remediation of Weaknesses

Management recognizes the importance of these weaknesses and is committed to remediation and will institute a comprehensive remediation plan. The plan will include, but not be limited to, hiring finance management resources and personnel with knowledge and experience in U.S. GAAP, and where necessary, the plan will utilize the services of external consulting professionals in the area of accounting advisory services. In this regard, subsequent to 2008 fiscal year end, in January 2010, we hired a new chief financial officer who is experienced with U.S. GAAP and SEC reporting. Further, management intends to allocate resources to insure that reports are filed on a timely basis in the future.

Changes in Internal Controls

Since the third quarter of our 2009 fiscal year, we have begun the implementation of some of the remedial measures described above, including hiring of a new chief financial officer in January 2010, additional staff, engaging consultants, training our staff, implementing more rigorous policies and procedures relating to period-end financial reporting, journal-entry approval, supporting documentation, and account reconciliations which affects our internal controls. We expect to continue to implement additional financial and management controls, reporting systems and procedures.
