Cash Offer by

Coinside Limited

a wholly owned subsidiary of

Ryanair Holdings plc

for

Aer Lingus Group plc

RYANAIR ANNOUNCES MERGER PROPOSAL WITH AER LINGUS, BY OFFERING €1.40 PER AER LINGUS SHARE WHICH WILL LEAD TO ONE STRONG IRISH AIRLINE GROUP, LOWER FARES FOR CONSUMERS, RAPID FLEET GROWTH AND 1,000 NEW JOBS IN AER LINGUS. OFFER WORTH OVER €325M IN CASH TO IRISH GOVERNMENT AND ESOT/ AER LINGUS EMPLOYEES.

Summary

The Board of Ryanair today announces its intention to make a Cash Offer of €1.40 per Aer Lingus Share for 100 per cent. of the issued and to be issued share capital of Aer Lingus. Ryanair intends to make this offer through its wholly-owned subsidiary, Coinside. Ryanair already owns approximately 29.82 per cent. of the current issued share capital of Aer Lingus and expects to accept the Cash Offer in respect of these shares.

The Board of Ryanair proposes to merge the two airlines into one strong Irish airline group under common ownership. Similar to previous European airline mergers such as Air France/KLM and Lufthansa/Swiss, both airlines will operate as separate companies, with distinctive brands, thereby preserving the best features of both, including Ryanair's low fare, high punctuality operations, and Aer Lingus' special brand, service culture as well as its long haul operations.

Benefits for Aer Lingus Shareholders

The Offer values the entire issued ordinary share capital of Aer Lingus at approximately €748 million. Key features of the Offer are:

- This is an all cash offer
- It represents a premium of approximately 28 per cent. over the average Closing Price (€1.09) of an Aer Lingus share for the 30 days to 28 November 2008 (being the last Business Day prior to the date of this announcement)
- It represents a premium of approximately 25 per cent. over the Closing Price (€1.12) of an Aer Lingus Share on 28 November 2008

Benefits for Aer Lingus and its Employees

Ryanair has requested an early meeting with the Chairman and Board representatives of Aer Lingus, as well as the ESOT trustees, to explain the benefits Ryanair believes will flow to the Aer Lingus business and its employees from this proposed merger, including:

Edgar Filing: RYANAIR HOLDINGS PLC - Form 6-K

- The Aer Lingus ESOT and employee shareholders will receive over €137 million in cash if the Offer is successful
- A commitment to double the size of the Aer Lingus short haul fleet, from 33 to 66 aircraft over the next 5 years, thereby creating 1,000 new jobs in Aer Lingus during that period
- Better promotion prospects for Aer Lingus employees through this rapid growth
- Improved job security as part of one strong Irish airline group
- Aer Lingus employees will join one of Europe's Big Four airline groups (Air France/KLM, Lufthansa/Swiss, British Airways Group and Aer Lingus/Ryanair)
- Aer Lingus employees join an Irish national champion with pan-European network
- Aer Lingus to remain a separate company and retain its special brand like KLM and Swiss precedents
- The Aer Lingus Chairman will be invited to join the Board of Ryanair

Benefits for Irish Government and Consumers

Ryanair has requested early meetings with the Minister for Finance and the Minister for Transport to highlight the benefits Ryanair believes will flow from this merger for the Irish Government and consumers including:

- Ireland will establish one of Europe's "Big Four" airlines which will be financially strong, as well as managed and headquartered in Dublin
- Securing Aer Lingus' special brand, Heathrow slots and connectivity for Ireland
- Doubling Aer Lingus' short haul fleet to 66 aircraft and creating 1,000 associated new jobs in Aer Lingus over a 5 year period
- Irish Government will receive over €188 million in cash if the Offer is successful, which will make a valuable contribution towards current budget spending in areas such as health and education
- Ryanair's commitment to growth and lower fares will help the government combat recent declines in Irish traffic and tourism
- Merged Irish group will have the cleanest, most fuel efficient fleet of Europe's Big Four airline groups
- Ryanair's commitment to cut Aer Lingus' average short haul fares (€94 in 2007) by 5% for 3 years, generating an approx €40 million p.a. saving for consumers
- Ryanair's commitment to eliminate Aer Lingus' long haul fuel surcharges on completion, generating an approx €100 million p.a. saving for consumers
- Improve Aer Lingus' on-time performance to Ryanair's levels
- Ryanair secures the Cork and Dublin slots at Heathrow, as well as Heathrow connectivity at lower fares for Ireland
- Ryanair will upgrade and develop Aer Lingus' long haul product and service

Ryanair believes this Cash Offer provides attractive and certain value for Aer Lingus shareholders. Ryanair believes the Cash Offer is generous in the context of:

- The collapse in Aer Lingus' share price from a high of over €3.00 in December 2006 to less than €1.00 in November 2008

Edgar Filing: RYANAIR HOLDINGS PLC - Form 6-K

- Aer Lingus' load factors which have declined by over 7% (long haul) and almost 2% (short haul) in 2008
- Aer Lingus' forecast operating losses for 2008 and again in 2009
- The current airline industry crisis amid the deepening economic recession
- Declining equity prices

In the opinion of the Board of Ryanair, Aer Lingus' management have failed to deliver on the reasons they articulated in their 2006 defence documents for remaining an independent airline. Since 2006, when Aer Lingus rejected Ryanair's €2.80 offer, they have:

- Spent over €24 million on its defence of Ryanair's 2006 €2.80 offer
- Allowed its director's basic annual fee to almost treble from €17,500 to €45,000
- Allowed its non-executive Chairman's basic annual fee to increase fivefold from €35,000 to €175,000
- Increased short haul fares by 7% to €94
- Increased fuel surcharges 5 times to a current average of €75 per sector
- Suffered repeated strike threats in April 2006, February, August and November 2007, February and November 2008
- Closed its Shannon base in December 2007
- Opened a Belfast base in December 2007 which is performing poorly
- Ordered new A330 aircraft in 2007 (at the top of the cycle), but then deferred an A330 delivery in November 2008
- Suffered short haul and long haul load factor declines in 2008
- Forecast operating losses of €20 million in 2008 and another operating loss for 2009

Ryanair believes that Aer Lingus is an isolated, uncompetitive, loss making EU flag carrier which has been bypassed by accelerating EU wide airline consolidation. Ryanair believes that Aer Lingus needs to find a strong airline partner to secure its future. Over the past two years, the trading environment for all European airlines has deteriorated dramatically as a result of high oil prices and the global recession. This has triggered a wave of EU airline closures and failures (in all, over 30 airlines have failed this year). In response, pan-European airline consolidation has accelerated as Europe sees the emergence of three large mega-carriers, Air France, British Airways and Lufthansa, and the rapid growth of Ryanair, Europe's largest low fares airline. So far this year, the following consolidations have been either announced, proposed or are being considered:

- Easyjet - GB Airways
- ClickAir - Vueling - Iberia
- Alitalia - Air One
- Lufthansa - SN Brussels
- Air France/KLM - VLM
- Air France/KLM - Martinair (proposed)
- Lufthansa - BMI (proposed)
- Lufthansa - Austrian (proposed)
- British Airways - Iberia (being considered)
- Air France/KLM or Lufthansa - Alitalia/AirOne (being considered)

Ryanair believes that today's Offer provides a financially robust partner, in one strong Irish airline group, within which Aer Lingus will retain its separate brand as well as secure the Heathrow slots and connectivity for Ireland at lower fares.

The Cash Offer, which will be made by Coinside, a wholly owned subsidiary of Ryanair, will be subject to certain conditions set out in Appendix I, including, amongst other conditions, the acceptance by Aer Lingus Shareholders holding not less than 90 per cent. of the issued and to be issued share capital of Aer Lingus (or such lower percentage as Ryanair may determine, subject always to the Takeover Rules), the passing of the Ryanair Shareholder Resolutions at an EGM to be held as soon as reasonably practicable to approve the Cash Offer, and Ryanair obtaining EU Commission clearance or (as the case may be) Irish and other applicable EU member state competition law clearance for the combination of Ryanair and Aer Lingus.

Commenting on the Offer, Ryanair's Michael O'Leary said:

"This proposed merger of Ryanair and Aer Lingus will form one Irish airline group with the financial strength to compete with Europe's 3 major airline groups - Air France, British Airways and Lufthansa.

The world has changed dramatically over the past two years, as high oil prices and deep recession have caused a flood of airline bankruptcies, consolidations and capacity cutbacks. Aer Lingus, as a small, stand alone, regional airline has been marginalised and bypassed as most other EU flag carriers consolidate.

Over the past 2 years, the management of Aer Lingus have failed its shareholders, customers and staff. Its shares have fallen from over €3, to less than €1 recently. Fares and fuel surcharge increases have cost consumers over €140m p.a. and repeated restructurings have led to pay cuts and job losses with no substantial benefit as operating costs per passenger have risen by 18% in just 2 years. Aer Lingus is now suffering load factor declines, and has recently announced capacity reductions and forecast operating losses in 2008 and again in 2009.

Ryanair's merger proposal today offers Ireland a better future by:-

- delivering over €325m in cash to the Irish government, the ESOT and Aer Lingus employees
- guaranteeing that Aer Lingus will remain a separate company with a special brand
- securing Heathrow slots and their connectivity for Ireland at lower fares

Edgar Filing: RYANAIR HOLDINGS PLC - Form 6-K

- doubling of Aer Lingus' short haul fleet to 66 aircraft within 5 years, creating over 1000 associated new jobs in Aer Lingus
- cutting Aer Lingus' short haul fares by 5% for 3 years, saving consumers over €40m annually
- removing Aer Lingus' long haul fuel surcharges, saving consumers over €100m annually
- creating an Irish national champion in the airline sector with a growing pan-European and transatlantic network
- assuring Aer Lingus' future in one of the EU's Big Four airline groups (Air France/KLM, British Airways Group, Lufthansa/Swiss & Aer Lingus/Ryanair)

We have today requested early meetings with the Irish Ministers for Finance and Transport, the Board of Aer Lingus, and Aer Lingus's ESOT trustees to highlight the benefits for Ireland and all other stakeholders of this comprehensive and valuable merger proposal."

Cash Offer

by

Coinside Limited

A wholly owned subsidiary

of

for

Aer Lingus Group plc

1. Introduction

The Board of Ryanair today announces the terms of a Cash Offer for 100 per cent. of the entire issued and to be issued ordinary share capital of Aer Lingus. Ryanair intends to make this offer through its wholly-owned subsidiary, Coinside. The Ryanair Group owns approximately 29.82 per cent. of the current issued share capital of Aer Lingus and expects to accept the Cash Offer in respect of these shares. The making of the Cash Offer is subject to certain conditions set out in Appendix I, including amongst other conditions, the acceptance by Aer Lingus Shareholders holding not less than 90 per cent. of the issued and to be issued share capital of Aer Lingus (or such lower percentage as Ryanair may determine, subject always to the Takeover Rules), the passing of the Ryanair Shareholder Resolutions at an EGM to be held as soon as reasonably practicable to approve the Cash Offer, and Ryanair obtaining EU Commission clearance or (as the case may be) Irish and other applicable EU member state competition law clearance for the combination of Ryanair and Aer Lingus.

2. The Cash Offer

Coinside will offer to acquire all of the issued and to be issued share capital of Aer Lingus, subject to the conditions and on the terms set out in Appendix I to this announcement and the full terms and conditions which will be set out in the Offer Document and the related Form of Acceptance, on the following basis:

€1.40 in cash for every Aer Lingus Share

The Cash Offer values the entire issued ordinary share capital of Aer Lingus at approximately €748 million. Key features of the Offer are:

- It is an all cash offer
- It represents a premium of approximately 28 per cent. over the average Closing Price (€1.09) of an Aer Lingus share for the 30 Business Days to 28 November 2008 (being the last Business Day prior to the date of this announcement)
- It represents a premium of approximately 25 per cent. over the Closing Price (€1.12) of an Aer Lingus Share on 28 November 2008

The Board of Ryanair believes that the Cash Offer represents very attractive and certain value to Aer Lingus Shareholders. If they accept the Cash Offer and the Offer is successful, the Irish Government will realise, with certainty, a further €188 million from the sale of its Aer Lingus Shares (in addition to the approximately €160 million realised in September 2006 at the time of the Aer Lingus Initial Public Offering). This is clearly beneficial in the context of the current recessionary environment and will make a valuable contribution towards budget spending in such important areas as health and education. In addition, the Aer Lingus ESOT and Aer Lingus employees (including through a combination of their Tailwind investment vehicle and Irish Airline Pilots Pensions Limited holdings) will realise, with certainty, over €137 million if they accept the Offer and the Offer is successful. Ryanair believes that this Cash Offer is generous in the context of:

- The collapse in Aer Lingus' share price from a high of over €3.00 in December 2006 to less than €1.00 in November 2008
- Aer Lingus' load factors which have declined by over 7% (long haul) and almost 2% (short haul) in 2008
- Aer Lingus' forecast operating losses for 2008 and again in 2009
- The current airline industry crisis amid the deepening economic recession
- Declining equity prices

In addition the merger will establish for Ireland one of Europe's "Big Four" airline groups which will be financially strong, and Irish managed and headquartered; a key objective of all stakeholders. This new airline group will have the cleanest, most fuel efficient fleet of Europe's Big Four airline groups.

In contrast, the Board of Ryanair believes that the shareholders and other stakeholders in Aer Lingus face significant uncertainty with regard to the future operating, financial and share price performance of Aer Lingus as an independent airline. The airline sector is under unprecedented pressure from the deepening economic recession and high oil prices. Over 30 carriers have failed in the year 2008 to date (including XL Airways UK, Futura, LTE and Sterling Airways). An isolated, uncompetitive, loss-making EU flag carrier like Aer Lingus, overly-dependent on a deteriorating Irish economy is, we believe, significantly more exposed to the global recession. In addition, we believe that Aer Lingus has few realistic third-party alternatives. The Board of Ryanair believes that a sale of Aer Lingus to one of the three other large mega-carriers that are consolidating the EU airline industry (Air France, British Airways and Lufthansa) represents a very unattractive outcome for all of Aer Lingus' stakeholders (potentially resulting in higher fares and fuel surcharges, a loss of Aer Lingus' Heathrow slots, a reduced route network, and Aer Lingus being headquartered and controlled from outside Ireland).

Compounding the malaise in the industry, it is the opinion of the Board of Ryanair that Aer Lingus' management have failed to deliver on the justifications for remaining an independent company put forward in 2006:

x “Track record of superior returns justifies premium rating”:

- The Board of Aer Lingus labelled Ryanair's previous offer of €2.80 per share as “derisory” yet they have presided over a share price that has declined from over €3.00 in December 2006 to under €1.00 in November 2008, resulting in a €960m loss in value
- Aer Lingus spent over €24 million on its defence of Ryanair's 2006 offer
- Aer Lingus has allowed its director's basic annual fee to almost treble from €17,500 to €45,000
- Aer Lingus has increased its non-executive Chairman's basic annual fee fivefold from €35,000 to €175,000

- In its interim management statement, released 11th November, 2008, Aer Lingus confirmed that it forecasts to make operating losses in both 2008 and again in 2009
 - Aer Lingus' most recent attempts to make its operating cost base competitive (through the out-sourcing of 1,300 staff) have resulted in further threats of industrial action
 - Aer Lingus has hedged the vast majority of its fuel costs in the remainder of 2008 and the majority of its fuel costs in 2009 at levels very significantly above current spot and future levels
 - Aer Lingus ordered new A330 aircraft in 2007 (at the top of the cycle), but then deferred an A330 delivery in November 2008
- x “Excellent prospects as an independent company”:
- EU-wide consolidation is accelerating and unsustainable stand alone EU flag carriers are consolidating under Air France/KLM, British Airways, and Lufthansa
 - As confirmed in its interim management statement, released 11th November, 2008, Aer Lingus is significantly reducing both long haul and short haul capacity and deferring aircraft delivery. Growth since Ryanair's previous offer has been loss-making
 - In December 2007, Aer Lingus closed its Shannon base and replaced it with a new Belfast base which is performing poorly
 - Aer Lingus' short haul fares continue to be uncompetitive versus Ryanair's and other low cost airlines such as easyjet
 - Aer Lingus' cost base is still not competitive by comparison with low cost airlines such as Ryanair and easyjet, and Ryanair believes that Aer Lingus' current restructuring plans will make no appreciable difference to this cost disadvantage
 - Aer Lingus continues to trail Ryanair and other airlines in punctuality and consistently does not publish its lost baggage and flight cancellation statistics
 - Ryanair believes Aer Lingus' fuel surcharges and load factors continue to damage its long haul competitiveness as evidenced by its 17 consecutive months of long haul load factor declines to end October 2008
 - Aer Lingus has suffered short haul load factor declines in 9 out of the 12 months to end October 2008
 - It is not possible to reconcile forecast operating losses in 2008 and again 2009 with “excellent prospects as an independent company”
- x A combination of Ryanair and Aer Lingus is “ill-conceived”:
- The Ryanair proposal to merge the two airlines will result in one strong Irish airline group under common ownership but with both airlines operating separately, with separate distinctive brands, thereby preserving the best features of both, including Ryanair's low fares, high punctuality operations, and Aer Lingus' special brand, service culture and long haul operations
 - The Board of Ryanair believes that the only way to secure the long-term future of Aer Lingus as a financially secure, Irish managed, regulated and headquartered airline is through this proposal
 - The rationale for one strong airline group for Ireland and European consumers is more compelling than ever given the rapid acceleration of EU-wide consolidation in the industry

The Offer will extend to all Aer Lingus Shares unconditionally issued on the date of the Offer, together with any further such shares which are unconditionally issued while the Offer remains open for acceptance or until such earlier date as, subject to the Takeover Rules, Ryanair may determine.

The Aer Lingus Shares are to be acquired fully paid or credited as fully paid and free from all liens, charges, equitable interests and encumbrances, rights of pre-emption and any other rights or interests of any nature whatsoever and together with all rights now and hereafter attaching thereto including voting rights and the right to receive and retain all dividends and other distributions (if any) declared, made or paid thereafter.

The Offer shall be made by Coinside, a wholly owned subsidiary of Ryanair.

4. Information on Ryanair and Coinside

Ryanair operates a low fares scheduled passenger airline serving short haul, point-to-point routes in Europe from its 31 bases at Dublin, London (Stansted), Glasgow (Prestwick), Brussels (Charleroi), Frankfurt (Hahn), Milan (Bergamo), Stockholm (Skavsta), Rome (Ciampino), Barcelona (Girona), Nottingham East Midlands, London (Luton), Birmingham, Liverpool, Shannon, Pisa, Belfast, Kerry, Edinburgh, Bristol, Bournemouth, Bremen, Dusseldorf, Marseille, Madrid, Alicante, Reus, Alghero, Cagliari, Trapani, Bologna and Cork airports, which together are referred to as "Ryanair's bases of operations" or "Ryanair's bases". In operation since 1985, Ryanair pioneered the low fares operating model in Europe under a new management team in the early 1990s. As of 28 November 2008, the Company offered 1,040 scheduled short haul flights per day serving 148 locations throughout Europe, including 26 locations in the United Kingdom and Ireland, with an operating fleet of 108 aircraft flying approximately 793 routes.

Ryanair had a turnover and operating profit before taxation of €2,713,822,000 and €438,927,000 respectively for the year ended 31 March, 2008.

Coinside is a wholly owned non-operating subsidiary of Ryanair. Coinside has not traded except for entering into transactions relating to Aer Lingus Shares.

Davy Corporate Finance and Morgan Stanley are acting as financial advisers to Ryanair and Coinside.

5. Reasons for the Offer and Ryanair's Strategy for Aer Lingus

The Board of Ryanair proposes to merge the two airlines into one strong Irish airline group under common ownership. Similar to previous European airline mergers such as Air France/KLM and Lufthansa/Swiss, both airlines will operate separately, with separate distinctive brands, thereby preserving the best features of both, including Ryanair's low fare, high punctuality operations, and Aer Lingus' special brand, service culture, and long haul operations. The Chairman of Aer Lingus will be invited to join the Board of Ryanair.

Ryanair believes that Aer Lingus is an isolated, uncompetitive, loss making EU flag carrier which has been bypassed by ongoing EU wide airline consolidation, and needs to find a strong airline partner to secure its future. Over the past two years, the trading environment and competitive landscape for all European airlines has deteriorated dramatically with high oil prices and the global recession. This has triggered a wave of airline closures and failures (in all, over 30 airlines have failed this year). In response, EU airline consolidation has accelerated as Europe sees the emergence of three large mega-carriers, Air France, British Airways and Lufthansa, and the rapid growth of Ryanair, Europe's largest low fares airline.

Ryanair believes that the harsh economic downturn, coupled with accelerating industry consolidation, leave Aer Lingus exposed to the risk that, as a small, isolated, uncompetitive and loss making airline, it will be unable to survive as a viable independent operator. Ryanair believes that today's Offer for Aer Lingus provides a financially strong partner, in one strong Irish airline group, within which Aer Lingus can continue to retain its special brand while improving its competitive base by lowering fares, eliminating fuel surcharges and reducing costs.

Against this background, Ryanair looks forward to receiving EU Commission clearance for this pro-consumer combination. European governments and the EU Commission have faced up to economic realities in endorsing consolidation over competition in both the airline and banking sectors and Ryanair hopes that a similar level of realism will be adopted in this scenario.

The Board of Ryanair believes that there are significant consumer benefits of combining these two Irish and European airlines for the stakeholders and customers of Aer Lingus and makes the following commitments:

Edgar Filing: RYANAIR HOLDINGS PLC - Form 6-K

- To cut Aer Lingus' average short haul fares (approximately €94 in 2007) by 5% for 3 years (generating an approx €40 million annual saving for consumers)
- To eliminate Aer Lingus' fuel surcharges on completion (generating an approx €100 million annual saving for consumers)
- To retain the Aer Lingus brand, guarantee the Cork and Dublin slots at Heathrow and secure Heathrow connectivity for Ireland at lower fares
- To double the size of Aer Lingus' short haul fleet (from 33 to 66 aircraft) creating a minimum of 1,000 associated new jobs over the next 5 years following the successful completion of the Offer
- To run Aer Lingus as a separate company under common ownership with Ryanair (like Air France/KLM and Lufthansa/Swiss) but competing on the routes where it overlaps with Ryanair

As an island nation with an economy in recession, it is critical that Ireland continues to benefit from strong and secure low fare airline services in order to sustain and support tourism and economic growth. Ryanair believes that the Offer may help to combat recent Irish traffic and tourism declines.

As outlined above, the Board of Ryanair envisages that the two companies would be run as separate subsidiaries of Ryanair Holdings plc so that nothing in this transaction will deflect Ryanair Limited from continuing to relentlessly focus on its own pan-European expansion, navigating the current industry downturn by lowering costs and thereby, Ryanair believes, doubling traffic and profits by 2012. In addition, Ryanair shareholders will benefit as there will be opportunities (through the combination of Ryanair's and Aer Lingus' combined purchasing power and marketing skills) to further reduce operating costs and increase efficiencies.

6. Financing

The Offer will be financed from the cash reserves of Ryanair.

Davy Corporate Finance and Morgan Stanley confirm they are satisfied that resources are available to Ryanair sufficient to satisfy full acceptance of the Offer.

7. Employees

Following the Cash Offer becoming or being declared unconditional in all respects, the existing employment rights of the management and employees of the Aer Lingus Group will be safeguarded in accordance with statutory requirements.

8. Ryanair Shareholder Approval

In view of the size of Aer Lingus relative to Ryanair, amongst other conditions to the Cash Offer (as set out in Appendix I), the approval of Ryanair shareholders at an EGM is required in accordance with the Listing Rules of the Irish Stock Exchange and the UK Listing Authority. An ordinary resolution of Ryanair shareholders will be proposed to approve, implement and effect the Offer by Ryanair and to authorise the directors of Ryanair to do all such things as they consider necessary or appropriate in connection with the Offer.

9. Offer Document

The Offer Document, containing the full terms and conditions of the Offer, will be posted as soon as practicable to Aer Lingus Shareholders.

10. Disclosure of Interests in Aer Lingus

As at the close of business on 28 November 2008, being the latest practicable day prior to the date of this announcement, Ryanair owned 159,231,025 Aer Lingus Shares representing approximately 29.82 per cent. of the existing issued ordinary share capital of Aer Lingus. As at the close of business on 27 November 2008, being the latest practicable day for this purpose, parties acting in concert with Ryanair owned 260,701 Aer Lingus Shares representing 0.048% of the existing issued ordinary share capital of Aer Lingus, of which 117,184 Aer Lingus Shares were held by an affiliate of Davy Corporate Finance on own account and on behalf of a number of discretionary clients and 143,517 Aer Lingus Shares were held by Morgan Stanley.

Save for these interests, neither Ryanair, Coinside, nor the directors of Ryanair or Coinside, nor any party acting in concert with Ryanair or Coinside, owns or controls any Aer Lingus Shares or holds any options to acquire or subscribe for any Aer Lingus Shares or any derivative referenced to Aer Lingus Shares.

Neither Ryanair, Coinside nor any persons acting in concert with Ryanair or Coinside has any arrangement in relation to Aer Lingus Shares, or any securities convertible or exchangeable into Aer Lingus Shares or options (including traded options) in respect of, or derivatives referenced to, Aer Lingus Shares. For these purposes, 'arrangement' includes an indemnity or option arrangement, any agreement or understanding, formal or informal, of whatever nature, relating to relevant securities which is, or may be, an inducement to deal or refrain from dealing in such securities.

11. Regulatory Issues

As discussed above, Ryanair looks forward to obtaining EU Commission approval for the transaction and implementing its proposed pro-consumer combination.

12. Settlement, Compulsory Acquisition, De-listing and Re-registration

The consideration will, in relation to Aer Lingus Shareholders who validly accept the Cash Offer up to the time the Cash Offer becomes or is declared unconditional in all respects, be despatched not later than 14 days after the Cash Offer becomes or is declared unconditional in all respects, or thereafter within 14 days of receipt of acceptance of the Cash Offer.

If Coinside receives acceptances of the Cash Offer in respect of, and/or otherwise acquires, 90 per cent. or more of the Aer Lingus Shares to which the Cash Offer relates (and in the case where the Aer Lingus Shares to which the Cash Offer relates are voting shares, not less than 90 per cent. of the voting rights carried by those Aer Lingus Shares) and assuming all other conditions of the Cash Offer have been satisfied or waived (if they are capable of being waived), Coinside intends to exercise its rights pursuant to the provisions of Regulation 23 of the Takeover Regulations to acquire the remaining Aer Lingus Shares to which the Cash Offer relates on the same terms as the Cash Offer.

As soon as it is appropriate and possible to do so and subject to the Offer becoming or being declared unconditional in all respects, and subject to any applicable requirements of the Irish Stock Exchange, the London Stock Exchange or the UK Listing Authority, Coinside intends to apply for the cancellation of the listing of the Aer Lingus Shares on the Irish Stock Exchange and the UK Official List and for the cancellation of admission to trading of Aer Lingus Shares on the markets of the Irish Stock Exchange and the London Stock Exchange and to propose a resolution to re-register Aer Lingus as a private company under the relevant provisions of the Companies (Amendment) Act, 1983. If this de-listing and cancellation occurs, it will significantly reduce the liquidity and marketability of any Aer Lingus Shares not assented to the Cash Offer. It is anticipated that the cancellations will take effect no earlier than 20 Business Days from either the date Coinside has acquired 75% of the voting rights in Aer Lingus or on the first date of issue of compulsory acquisition notices by Coinside pursuant to Regulation 23 of the Takeover Regulations.
