Announcement Announcement

UNILEVER SIMPLIFIES PLC SHARE STRUCTURE

London/Rotterdam, May 19th 2014. Unilever today announced that it has purchased, for a consideration of £715m, the rights left in family trusts by William Hesketh Lever which are convertible in 2038 into 70,875,000 Unilever PLC ordinary shares. The consideration is equivalent to £10.09 per ordinary share and represents a discount of 63% to the closing share price on Friday May 16th 2014.

As a result of this transaction core earnings per share will be enhanced by 2% on a full year basis as the fully diluted share count used in the calculation is reduced by 70,875,000 shares, or 2.4% of the combined Unilever Group total.

Jean-Marc Huët, Unilever CFO, said "I am very pleased that we have concluded this agreement with the trusts. It is good for all our shareholders. It is another step in the simplification of Unilever's capital structure, making Unilever easier to understand, and eliminating ahead of time the burden of a significant dilution of shareholders' interests."

NOTES TO EDITORS:

William Hesketh Lever, the first Viscount Leverhulme, was the founder of the company which became Unilever PLC, and which together with Unilever NV forms the combined Unilever Group . When he died in 1925, he left in his will a large number of PLC shares in various trusts. Consequently, some of these trusts owned shares in Margarine Union (1930) Limited, a subsidiary of Unilever PLC, which could be converted in 2038 into 70,875,000 PLC ordinary shares at zero cost. These shares, and the accompanying rights, have been bought back under the agreement announced today. Further details on these shares can be found on pages 46 and 108 of Unilever's published Annual Report and Accounts 2013.

The constitutional documents between Unilever NV and Unilever PLC operate such that a share in Unilever PLC is equivalent to a share in Unilever NV. Accordingly the reduction in the diluted share count of Unilever PLC as a result of this transaction has a directly applicable effect on the Unilever Group share count.
