NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS - (UNAUDITED)

(dollars in thousands)

NOTE A - BASIS OF FINANCIAL STATEMENT PRESENTATION

The accompanying unaudited interim consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Cornerstone Bancorp, Inc., its subsidiary Cornerstone Bank (the Bank) and the Bank's subsidiary Cornerstone Business Credit, Inc. (CBC), collectively the Company. The interim consolidated financial statements have been prepared in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America for interim financial statements and the instructions to Form 10-QSB, and, accordingly, do not include all of the information and footnotes required by generally accepted accounting principles for a complete set of financial statements. While management believes that the disclosures presented are adequate so as not to make the information misleading, it is suggested that these interim consolidated financial statements be read in conjunction with the annual consolidated financial statements and notes included in the Form 10-KSB for the year ended December 31, 2003. The interim results of operations for the period ended March 31, 2004 are not necessarily indicative of the results to be expected for the year ending December 31, 2004 or for any other interim period.

In the opinion of management, the accompanying unaudited consolidated financial statements reflect all adjustments, consisting only of normal recurring accruals, necessary to present fairly the financial position, results of operations, changes in stockholders' equity and cash flows at the dates and for the periods presented. In preparing the interim consolidated financial statements, management is required to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities as of the date of the statement of condition and revenues and expenses for the period. Actual results could differ significantly from those estimates, as a result of changing conditions and future events. An estimate that is particularly critical and susceptible to significant near-term change is the allowance for loan losses.

Prior period amounts are reclassified, whenever necessary, to conform to the current period presentation.

NOTE B - EARNINGS PER SHARE

Basic earnings per share (EPS) excludes dilution and is computed by dividing income available to common stockholders (net income less dividends on preferred stock, if any) by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period. For this purpose, unvested shares of restricted stock are not considered to be outstanding. Diluted EPS is computed in a similar manner, except that the weighted average number of common shares is increased (using the treasury stock method) by additional common shares that would have been outstanding if all potentially dilutive securities (such as stock options and unvested restricted stock awards) were exercised or vested during the period. For the three month periods ended March 31, 2004 and 2003 the number of shares for diluted EPS exceeded the number of shares for basic EPS due to the dilutive effect of outstanding stock options and unvested restricted stock. For purposes of computing basic EPS, net income applicable to common stock equaled net income for these periods.

Table of Contents

NOTE C STOCK-BASED COMPENSATION

The Company accounts for stock-based compensation in accordance with Accounting Principles Board (APB) Opinion No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees, and related interpretations. Accordingly, compensation expense is not recognized for fixed stock options if the exercise price of the option equals the fair value of the underlying stock at the grant date. The fair value of restricted stock awards, measured at the grant date, is recognized as unearned compensation (a component of stockholders' equity) and amortized to compensation expense over the vesting period.

Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation, encourages the use of a fair-value-based method of accounting for employee stock compensation plans, but permits the continued use of the intrinsic-value-based method of accounting prescribed by APB Opinion No. 25. Under SFAS No. 123, the grant-date fair value of options is recognized as compensation expense over the vesting period (if any). The Company has elected to continue to apply APB Opinion No. 25 and disclose the pro forma information required by SFAS No. 123. Had stock-based compensation expense been recognized in accordance with SFAS No. 123, the Company's net income and earnings per common share would have been adjusted to the following pro forma amounts:

	Three Months Ended March 31,
	2004	2003

Table of Contents

NOTE D COMPREHENSIVE INCOME (LOSS)

Comprehensive income (loss) includes net income or loss, and any changes in stockholders' equity from non-owner sources that are not recognized in the income statement (such as changes in net unrealized gains and losses on securities available for sale). Other comprehensive loss reported in the statements of stockholders' equity for the three months ended March 31, 2004 and 2003 represents the change during those periods in the after-tax net unrealized gain on securities available for sale.

NOTE E STANDBY LETTERS OF CREDIT

The Company had outstanding letters of credit of $1,134 and $1,338 at March 31, 2004 and December 31, 2003, respectively. Substantially all of the Company's outstanding standby letters of credit are performance standby letters of credit within the scope of FASB Interpretation No. 45, Guarantor's Accounting and Disclosure Requirements for Guarantees, Including Indirect Guarantees of Indebtedness of Others (FIN 45). These are irrevocable undertakings by the Company, as guarantor, to make payments in the event a specified third party fails to perform under a non-financial contractual obligation. Most of the Company's performance standby letters of credit arise in connection with lending relationships and have terms of one year or less. The maximum potential future payments the Company could be required to make equals the contract amount of the standby letters of credit referred to above. FIN 45 also requires the recognition, at fair value, of a liability by a guarantor at the inception of certain guarantees issued or modified after December 31, 2003. The Company's recognized liability for performance standby letters of credit was insignificant at March 31, 2004.

NOTE F RECENT ACCOUNTING STANDARDS

SAB No. 105, Application of Accounting Principles to Loan Commitments was issued on March 9, 2004, which specifies that servicing assets embedded in commitments for loans to be held for sale should be recognized only when the servicing asset has been contractually separated from the associated loans by sale of securitization. SAB No. 105 is effective for commitments entered into after March 31, 2004. The adoption of SAB No. 105 will not have a material effect to the Company's consolidated financial statements.

FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

The statements contained in this report that are not historical are forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. Examples of such forward-looking statements include, without limitation, statements regarding expectations for earnings, credit quality, and other financial and business matters. When used in this report, the words anticipate, plan, believe, estimate, expect and similar expressions as they relate to the Company or its management are intended to identify forward-looking statements. All forward-looking statements involve risks and uncertainties. Actual results may differ materially from those discussed in, or implied by, the forward-looking statements as a result of certain factors, including but not limited to, competitive pressures on loan and deposit product pricing; other actions of competitors; changes in economic conditions; technological changes; the extent and timing of actions of the Federal Reserve Board, including changes in monetary policies and interest rates; customer deposit disintermediation; changes in customers' acceptance of the Bank's products and services; and the extent and timing of legislative and regulatory actions and reforms.

The forward-looking statements contained in this report speak only as of the date on which such statements are made.

FINANCIAL CONDITION

General

Total assets decreased to $221,105 at March 31, 2004 from $225,867 at December 31, 2003, a decrease of $4,762 (or 2%). The decrease in assets primarily relates to a decrease in cash and cash equivalents, which was partially offset by an increase in total securities and net loans. The decrease in cash and cash equivalents of $19,775 was attributed to a decrease in deposits of $9,933, an increase in total securities of $8,082, as well as increases in net loans (excluding loans held for sale) and loans held for sale of $5,857 and $1,658, respectively.

Loans

The net loan portfolio (excluding loans held for sale) increased to $127,285 at March 31, 2004 from $121,476 at December 31, 2003, an increase of $5,809 (or 5%). The increase in total loans primarily resulted from an increase in construction and non-residential real estate loans. The increase in construction loans primarily reflects advances in the existing portfolio and to a lesser extent $1,345 in new loan originations for the period. The increase in non-residential real estate was primarily due to new loan originations for the period.

Table of Contents

Major classifications of loans at March 31, 2004 and December 31, 2003 were as follows:

Residential mortgage loans held for sale at March 31, 2004 and December 31, 2003 were $982 and $595, respectively. Small Business Administration (SBA) loans held for sale at March 31, 2004 and December 31, 2003 were $1,455 and $184, respectively.

Non-performing Loans and the Allowance for Loan Losses

It is the Bank's policy to manage its loan portfolio to facilitate early recognition of problem loans. The Bank commences internal collection efforts once a loan payment is more than 15 days past due. The Bank's data processing system generates delinquency reports on all of the Bank's loans weekly, and management reviews the loan portfolio to determine if past due loans should be placed on non-accrual status. Unless the customer is working with the Bank toward repayment, once a loan payment is 90 days past due, the Bank generally initiates appropriate collection or legal action.

Table of Contents

The following table summarizes, by type of loan, the recorded investment in non-performing loans at March 31, 2004 and December 31, 2003. Amounts are shown for (i) loans that were past due 90 days or more, segregated between those on non-accrual status and those that were still accruing interest, and (ii) loans that were current or past due less than 90 days for which interest payments were being applied to reduce principal balances.

Table of Contents

During the quarter ended March 31, 2004 the Bank recovered $690, of which $460 was a recovery of previously charged-off principal and $216 in interest which was subsequently applied to income. The ratios of the allowance for loan losses to total loans and to non-performing loans were 1.80% and 266% respectively, at March 31, 2004, compared to 1.96% and 210%, respectively, at December 31, 2003.

Securities

Total securities increased to $39,671 at March 31, 2004 from $31,589 at December 31, 2003, an increase of $8,082 (or 26%). The increase in the securities portfolio was primarily due to purchases of $13,036 in securities held to maturity, partially offset by maturities and principal paydowns totaling $4,931.

The following table sets forth the amortized cost and estimated fair value of the securities portfolio at the dates indicated.

Deposits

Deposits are the primary source of funds for the Company. Deposits are obtained from individuals, partnerships, small and medium size businesses and professionals in the Company's market area. The Company does not accept brokered deposits.

The following table indicates the composition of deposits at the dates indicated.

			Dollar	Percent
	March 31, 2004	December 31, 2003	Change	Change

Table of Contents

The decrease in deposits was primarily related to the decrease of approximately $9,831 in time deposits and, to a lesser extent, decreases of $1,100 in money market demand and NOW accounts as well as a decrease of $758 in demand deposits. During the first three months of 2004, decreases in time deposits were primarily attributable to a decline in 12-17 month and 36-47 month certificates of deposit of $8,132 and $1,003, respectively. Certificates of deposit in denominations of $100 or more were $15,750 at March 31, 2004 compared to $18,118 at December 31, 2003, a decrease of $2,368 (or 13%).

Liquidity and Capital Resources

At March 31, 2004, total short-term investments, which are made up of federal funds sold and securities maturing or callable in one year or less, totaled $60,294. The primary liquidity of the Company is measured by the ratio of net cash, short-term investments, and other liquidity sources to deposits and short-term liabilities. The primary liquidity ratio at March 31, 2004 was 30.98%, compared to 37.29% at December 31, 2003. The Bank also calculates a secondary liquidity ratio which contemplates loan sales and loan payoffs anticipated to occur within one year and the maturity of available and held to maturity securities beyond one year. The Bank's secondary liquidity ratio at March 31, 2004 was 47.56%, compared to 51.63% at December 31, 2003. The decreases in primary and secondary liquidity ratios in 2004 are primarily a result of the reduction in cash and cash equivalents at March 31, 2004 as compared to December 31, 2003. The effect of the lower level of cash and cash equivalents was partially offset by a reduction in time deposits at March 31, 2004 compared to December 31, 2003. The Company's internal guideline is to generally maintain a primary liquidity ratio of 10 to 15% and a secondary liquidity ratio of 20% or more, although a higher primary ratio may be maintained from time to time depending on cash flow patterns and loan demand.

Net cash used in operating activities was $266 for the three months ended March 31, 2004 as compared to $7,015 provided by operating activities for the three months ended March 31, 2003, primarily reflecting net cash outflows from loans held for sale in the first three months of 2004 compared to net cash inflows in the same period last year. Compared to the first three months of 2003, cash used in investing activities increased $5,099, primarily due to the effect of net loan disbursements of $5,805 during the three months ended March 31, 2004 as compared to net loan receipts of $3,447 during the three months ended March 31, 2003. The decrease in net cash provided by financing activities of $24,334 for the three months ended March 31, 2004, primarily resulted from a decrease in cash provided by deposits. Cash and cash equivalents decreased $19,775 for the three months ended March 31, 2004, compared to an increase of $16,939 in the first three months of 2003.

At March 31, 2004, the Company had outstanding loan commitments under unused lines of credit of $14,872 and outstanding letters of credit of $1,134.

Table of Contents

At March 31, 2004 and December 31, 2003, the Company's consolidated leverage capital ratio was 9.9% and 9.7%, respectively. At March 31, 2004 and December 31, 2003, the Company's consolidated Tier 1 risk-based capital ratio was 13.7%. The Company's consolidated total risk-based capital ratio at March 31, 2004 and December 31, 2003 was 15%. The Bank's regulatory capital ratios at these dates were substantially the same as the consolidated ratios, and the Bank was classified as a well-capitalized institution for regulatory purposes.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

General

The Company's results of operations depend primarily on its net interest income, which is the difference between the interest income on earning assets, such as loans and securities, and the interest expense paid on deposits and borrowings. Results of operations are also affected by non-interest income and expense, the provision for loan losses and income tax expense. Non-interest income includes banking service fees and charges, income on bank-owned life insurance, and gains and losses on sales of securities available for sale and loans held for sale. The Company's non-interest expense consists primarily of salaries and employee benefits, occupancy and equipment expenses, data processing expenses and professional fees. Results of operations are also significantly affected by general economic and competitive conditions, particularly changes in market interest rates, government policies and actions of regulatory authorities.

Critical Accounting Policies

In the course of the Company's normal business activity, management must select and apply many accounting policies and methodologies that lead to the financial results presented in the consolidated financial statements of the Company. Some of these policies are more critical than others. Management considers the accounting policy relating to the allowance for loan losses to be a critical accounting policy because of the uncertainty and subjectivity inherent in estimating the levels of allowance needed to cover probable credit losses within the loan portfolio and the material effect that these estimates can have on the Company's results of operations. While management uses the best available information to determine the allowance for loan losses, future adjustments to the allowance may be necessary based on a variety of factors, including changes in economic and real estate market conditions, particularly in Southwestern Fairfield County, Connecticut.

All accounting policies are important and readers of this report should review these policies, as included in Note 1 to the Consolidated Financial Statements in the 2003 Annual Report on the Company's Form 10-KSB, to gain a greater understanding of how the Company's financial performance is reported.

Comparative Analysis of Operating Results for the Three Months Ended March 31, 2004 and March 31, 2003

Net Income. Net income was $1,055 for the three months ended March 31, 2004 compared to $413 for the three months ended March 31, 2003, an increase of $642 (or 155%). Diluted earnings per common share were $0.82 for the three months ended March 31, 2004 and $0.33 for the three months ended March 31, 2003 based on weighted average common shares of 1,281,380 and 1,239,815, respectively. The annualized return on average common stockholders' equity was 20.43% and 8.59% for the three months ended March 31, 2004 and 2003, respectively. The annualized return on average assets was 1.97% for the three months ended March 31, 2004 and 0.77% for the three months ended March 31, 2003.

The higher net income for the three months ended March 31, 2004 was attributable to a credit provision in the provision for loan losses primarily as a result of the loan recovery previously mentioned and proceeds from key man life insurance, which was partially offset by an increase in salaries and other employee benefits.

Net Interest Income. Net interest income is the difference between the interest income the Company earns on its loans, securities and other earning assets, and the interest cost of deposits and other interest-bearing liabilities necessary to fund these earning assets. It is the primary component of the Company's earnings.

Net interest income was $2,106 for the three months ended March 31, 2004, an increase of $17 (or 1%) from the $2,089 reported for the three months ended March 31, 2003. The average yield on interest-earning assets decreased 29 basis points for the quarter ended March 31, 2004 compared to March 31, 2003, while the average rate paid on interest-bearing liabilities decreased 45 basis points. Declining interest rates during 2003 continued to impact the yields on the Company's loans and federal funds sold. Interest income on a previously charged-off loan and the increased average volume of interest-earning assets (primarily federal funds sold) partially offset the general decline in market rates. These continuing low rates also contributed to the decline in the average rate paid on time certificates of deposit. These changes resulted in a 3 basis point decrease in the net interest margin to 4.26% for the quarter ended March 31, 2004 compared to 4.29% for the quarter ended March 31, 2003.

Interest Income. Average earning assets for the three months ended March 31, 2004 were $199,521 compared to $197,459 for the three months ended March 31, 2003, an increase of $2,062 (or 1%). Total interest income, which is a function of the volume of interest-earning assets and their related rates, was $2,753 for the three months ended March 31, 2004 compared to $2,851 for the three months ended March 31, 2003, representing a decrease of $98 (or 3%).

Loans represent the largest component of interest-earning assets. Interest income on loans was $2,338 for the three months ended March 31, 2004 compared to $2,326 for the three months ended March 31, 2003, an increase of $12 (or 1%). Average loan volume decreased slightly during the quarter ended March 31, 2004 compared to March 31, 2003, but the declining yields on the Company's loan portfolio had a more significant effect on interest income. The effect of declining yields was partially offset by a recovery of interest on a loan charged-off in December 2000. Average loans outstanding in the three months ended March 31, 2004 were $124,660 compared to $125,087 during the three months ended March 31, 2003, a decrease of $427. The average yield on loans remained unchanged at 7.54% for the quarter ended March 31, 2004 and March 31, 2003, primarily due to the aforementioned recovery of interest.

Average investments in securities and federal funds sold were $74,861 for the three months ended March 31, 2004 compared to $72,372 for the three months ended March 31, 2003, an increase of $2,489 (or 3%). Related income decreased to $415 for the three months ended March 31, 2004 from $525 for the three months ended March 31, 2003, a decrease of $110 (or 21%). Average investments in securities, not including federal funds sold, decreased by $5,541 (or 14%) during the three months ended March 31, 2004. The decrease in income from securities was due to a decrease in the average volume of securities. Average federal funds sold increased by $8,031 (or 24%). Although the average volume of securities declined from year to year, approximately $8,105 in net purchases (purchases of new securities less maturing securities) were made during the first quarter of 2004 to reduce the level of federal funds.

Interest Expense. Interest expense was $647 for the three months ended March 31, 2004 compared to $762 for the three months ended March 31, 2003, a decrease of $115 (or 15%). Interest expense is a function of the volume of interest-bearing liabilities and their related rates. Average interest-bearing liabilities during the three months ended March 31, 2004 were $152,133 compared to $142,959 during the three months ended March 31, 2003, an increase of $9,174 (or 6%). The decrease in the rate paid on interest-bearing liabilities resulted in a decline in the average rate paid on interest bearing liabilities of 45 basis points to 1.71% for the quarter ended March 31, 2004 compared to 2.16% for the quarter ended March 31, 2003.

Provision for Loan Losses. The periodic provision for loan losses represents the amount necessary to adjust the allowance for loan losses to management's estimate of probable credit losses inherent in the existing loan portfolio at the reporting date. Management's determination of the allowance for loan losses is based on the results of continuing reviews of individual loans and borrower relationships, particularly in the commercial and commercial real estate loan portfolios. A review of the quality of the loan portfolio is conducted internally by management on a quarterly basis, using a consistently-applied methodology, and the results are presented to the Board of Directors for approval. The evaluation covers individual borrowers whose aggregate loans are greater than $100, as well as all adversely-classified loans. Management also considers factors such as the borrower's financial condition, historical and expected ability to make loan payments and underlying collateral values. The determination of the allowance for loan losses also considers the level of past due loans, the Bank's historical loan loss experience, changes in loan portfolio mix, geographic and borrower concentrations and current economic conditions. The allowance for loan losses is also reduced by charge-offs and increased by recoveries. Management's evaluation of the allowance for loan losses indicated that the necessary provision for loan losses was $(511) the three months ended March 31, 2004 and $105 for the three months ended March 31, 2003. Net loan recoveries were $468 in the quarter ended March 31, 2004 compared to net loan recoveries of $8 in the first quarter last year. Approximately $460 in principal was recovered during the quarter ending March 31, 2004 on loans to one borrower which were charged-off in December 2000.

At March 31, 2004, the Company had $879 of non-performing loans, including $238 of non-accrual loans and $499 of accruing loans greater than 90 days past due. Loans less than 90 days past due for which interest payments were being applied to reduce principal balances were $142 at March 31, 2004. At December 31, 2003, the Company had $1,139 of non-performing loans, including $9 of non-accrual loans and $912 of accruing loans greater than 90 days past due. Loans less than 90 days past due for which interest payments were being applied to reduce principal balances were $218 at December 31, 2003.

Non-interest Income. Non-interest income was $983 for the three months ended March 31, 2004 compared to $586 for the three months ended March 31, 2003, an increase of $397 (or 68%). The increase of $518 in other income is directly attributable to the net proceeds of $495 received by the Bank on a key man life insurance policy on the former Vice Chairman. The $90 decrease in the net gain on sale of loans and loan servicing for the three months ended March 31, 2004 compared to March 31, 2003 relates to the reduced volume of mortgage loans available for sale of $982 and $1,345 at March 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively.

Non-interest Expense. Total non-interest expense was $2,165 for the three months ended March 31, 2004 and $1,909 for the three months ended March 31, 2003, an increase of $256 (or 13%).

The following table summarizes the dollar amounts for each category of non-interest expense, and the dollar and percent changes:

Category	Three Months Ended March 31,		Increase (Decrease) 2004 vs 2003
	2004	2003	$ Change	% Change
Salaries and employee benefits	$ 1,350	$ 1,104	$ 246	22%
Occupancy	189	183	6	3
Furniture and equipment	113	102	11	11
Data processing	133	142	(9)	(6)
Professional fees	95	93	2	2
Advertising and promotion	45	46	(1)	(2)
Other	240	239	1
Total non-interest expense	$ 2,165	$ 1,909	$ 256	13%

The increase in salaries and employee benefits primarily relates to increased benefit accruals for the retirement and medical benefits of the former Vice Chairman who passed away on January 8, 2004.

Table of Contents

The following table summarizes dollar amounts for each category of non-interest expense as a percentage of total operating income (interest income plus non-interest income). Operating income increased by $299 (or 9%) in the first quarter of 2004 compared to the same period in 2003.

Category	Three Months Ended March 31,
	2004	2003
Salaries and employee benefits	36.14%	32.12%
Occupancy	5.07	5.32
Furniture and equipment	3.02	2.97
Data processing	3.56	4.13
Professional fees	2.54	2.71
Advertising and promotion	1.20	1.34
Other	6.42	6.95
Total non-interest expense	57.95%	55.54%

Income Taxes. The provision for income taxes increased to $380 for the three months ended March 31, 2004 from $248 for the three months ended March 31, 2003, primarily due to higher income before income tax expense which was partially offset by a lower effective tax rate.

Item 3. Controls and Procedures

An evaluation of the effectiveness of the design and operation of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures as of March 31, 2004 was conducted under the supervision and with the participation of the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer. Based on this evaluation, the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer have concluded that the Company's disclosure controls and procedures were adequate and designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed by the Company in this report is recorded, processed, summarized and reported in a timely manner, and that such information is accumulated and communicated to management, including the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, as appropriate to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

During the quarter ended March 31, 2004, there was no significant change in the Company's internal control over financial reporting that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect the Company's internal control over financial reporting.

Reference is made to the Certifications of the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer about these and other matters included as Exhibits to this report.
