NEXT, INC.

NOTES TO CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Organization and Operations of Company

Next, Inc., (NEXT or the Company) is the parent company of (i) Next Marketing, Inc., (Next Marketing), (ii) Blue Sky Graphics, Inc., (Blue Sky), (iii) CMJ Ventures, Inc. (CMJ), and (iv) Lil Fan, Inc. (Lil Fan). The Company is a creative and innovative sales and marketing organization that designs, develops, markets and distributes licensed and branded promotional products and imprinted sportswear primarily through key licensing agreements and the Company's own proprietary designs. See Note 8 of the Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements for a description of the Lil Fan acquisition.

2. Basis of Presentation and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Presentation

The condensed consolidated financial statements contained herein have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles for interim financial statements, the instructions to Form 10-QSB and Item 310 of Regulation S-B. Accordingly, these financial statements do not include all the information and footnotes required by generally accepted accounting principles for annual financial statements. In addition, certain comparative figures presented have been reclassified to conform the prior year's data to the Company's current financial statements. In the opinion of management, the accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements contain all the adjustments necessary (consisting only of normal recurring accruals) to fairly present the financial position of the Company at May 31, 2004, and its results of operations and cash flows for the three and six months ended May 31, 2003 and May 31, 2004. Operating results for the three and six months ended May 31, 2004, are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the fiscal year ending November 30, 2004.

Principles of Consolidation

The accompanying unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and its wholly owned subsidiaries. All significant intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated.

Customer Base & Credit Concentration

NEXT has, over the last three years, developed a large, diverse, and distinguished customer base of traditional retailers, ranging from national as well as large regional chains, specialty retailers, corporate accounts, college bookstores, motor sports, souvenir and gift shops, and golf shops. This expansion has been achieved through the acquisition of CMJ and Lil Fan and their respective substantial customer base, the introduction of additional major product lines and distribution channels, such as the Motor Sports Division, which sells to a national auto dealers market consisting of approximately 9,000 dealers, of which, the Company has sold to 1,072 dealers thus far, as well as expansion of its traditional national retail merchant customer base. As a result of the expansion, the Company has lessened its dependence on any one large customer or distribution channel. During the six months ended May 31, 2004, the Company's sales to three customers comprised 43.1% of total sales, one of which was not a customer in the six months ended May 31, 2003. During the six months ended May 31, 2003, the Company's sales to two customers comprised 58.7% of total sales one of which represented a one-time order related to the Iraq war of approximately $2,500,000. The Company's management believes that its credit risk exposure, based on current information available on the financial strength of its customers and previously recorded reserves, is limited. Such estimate could change in the future.

SFAS No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets became effective for the Company during 2002. SFAS 142 requires, among other things, the discontinuance of goodwill amortization. In addition, the standard includes provisions for the reclassification of certain existing recognized intangibles as goodwill, reassessment of the useful lives of existing recognized intangibles, reclassification of certain intangibles out of previously reported goodwill and the identification of reporting units for purposes of assessing potential future impairment of goodwill. SFAS 142 also requires the Company to complete a transitional goodwill impairment test six months from the date of adoption. The provisions of these interpretations that are applicable to the Company were implemented on a prospective basis as of January 1, 2002, which had no material effect on the Company's financial statements.

3. Inventories

This standard requires, among other things, recognition of future tax expenses or benefits, measured using enacted tax rates, attributable to taxable or deductible temporary differences between financial statements and income tax reporting bases of assets and liabilities.

The ultimate realization of deferred tax assets is dependent upon the attainment of forecasted results of operations. Management has taken these and other factors into consideration in recording the deferred tax estimate. The tax effects of temporary differences that give rise to significant portions of the deferred tax asset and liabilities at May 31, 2004, are as follows:

Introduction

As noted elsewhere in this report, the Company's principal customers are large national and regional retailers. In order to maintain its relationship with these customers, enhance revenues from them and enable them to improve their revenues and margins, the Company must work closely with these customers to ensure they receive the Company's products expeditiously and economically. The Company works diligently to maintain what Management calls "supply chain excellence" a way for the Company to provide value added services to its customers.

In servicing its customers, the Company faces competition from numerous other providers of licensed promotional products. Many of these competitors are larger and better capitalized than the Company. Additionally, if the Company is to continue to grow its business by adding additional products and by making strategic acquisitions, it will require additional capital. Therefore, Management may enter into negotiations with sources of equity in an effort to furnish additional capital.

In assessing the Company's performance, Management focuses on (a) increasing revenues primarily through enhancing its licensing programs and (b) protecting such revenues by diversifying its customer bases regionally and demographically. In order to enhance profitability, Management monitors and seeks to improve gross margins primarily by internal cost controls and through international purchases of raw materials. Management also strives to reduce fixed costs as a percentage of sales, improve inventory turnover and reduce receivables measured by days sales outstanding, all in an effort to improve profitability and cash flow.

Overview

The Company is a creative and innovative sales and marketing organization that designs, develops, markets, and distributes licensed and branded promotional products and imprinted sportswear primarily through key licensing agreements and the Company's own proprietary designs. Management believes that there are substantial growth opportunities in the promotional products and imprinted sportswear industries. Management believes that NEXT is well positioned to take advantage of such growth opportunities. Management believes that the Company has an excellent reputation in the marketplace as a result of its ability to provide quality products and services, on-time delivery, at competitive prices. In recent years, licensed imprinted sportswear has become very popular. Licensing agreements are available for branded products and services, amateur and professional sports teams, and many other promotional areas. Operations and Expansion

The Company has implemented its strategy of The Total Solution Company to meet its customers' key requirements including: art design and development, manufacturing (for imprinted sportswear), sourcing (for distributed products), warehousing and fulfillment.

Table of Contents

NEXT has, over the last three years, developed a large, diverse, and distinguished customer base of traditional retailers, ranging from national as well as large regional chains, specialty retailers, corporate accounts, college bookstores, motor sports, souvenir and gift shops, and golf shops.

The Company is actively engaged in discussions with various potential acquisition targets and plans to grow through strategic acquisitions of complementary businesses. The Company has embarked on an aggressive acquisition program that targets companies servicing other segments of the promotional products and imprinted sportswear industry not currently serviced by the Company. It is anticipated that such strategic acquisition targets will enable the Company to more effectively utilize its marketing and sales expertise, acquire the ability to cross-distribute its branded products and licenses throughout a wider distribution base, lessen its dependency on the seasonality of retail customers and reduce overall operating costs by consolidating its services and distribution facilities, to the extent feasible.

The Company has expanded its business to include e-commerce web sites through which some of the Company's most popular licensed products are marketed. The Company has been successful in establishing itself as a premier supplier under various e-commerce web sites, currently the most significant of which are www.campustraditionsusa.com; www.rpmsportswearusa.com; www.americanwildlifeusa.com; and www.americanbiker.net. The Company plans on establishing additional e-commerce web sites as other product lines are established. Another recent addition includes a corporate website, www.nextinc.net which gives information to the public about the Company.

Net Sales

Net sales decreased 23.7% to $3,916,114 for the three months ended May 31, 2004 from $5,131,944 for the three months ended May 31, 2003. Net sales also declined by 12.6% to $7,721,535 for the six months ended May 31, 2004 from $8,837,254 for the six months ended May 31, 2003. This decline in sales is primarily attributable to the inclusion of sales related to the Iraq war, which were approximately $1,828,000 for the three months ended May 31, 2003 and $2,500,000 for the six months ended May 31, 2003. Management believes the decline in sales was primarily related to the one time war order in 2003. Management believes that future sales growth will continue primarily through the diversification and expansion of the Company's customer base and its expanded product offerings.

Cost of Sales

Cost of sales was 70.1% for the three months ended May 31, 2004 compared to 72.2% of the Company's sales for the three months ended May 31, 2003. Cost of sales was 68.3% for the six months ended May 31, 2004 compared to 70.3% for the six months ended May 31, 2003. This reduction in cost as a percentage of sales resulted primarily from increased licensed business, which has higher margins.

Expenses included in cost of sales were primarily raw materials, labor, shipping supplies, and the depreciation of both the Company's principal manufacturing facility in Indiana and its equipment.

Operating and Other Expenses

General and administrative expenses were $490,288 (12.5% of sales) for the three months ended May 31, 2004 compared to $458,594 (8.9 % of sales) for the three months ended May 31, 2003. The increase in expenses is related to the addition of the Noblesville sales office, which the Company did not have in the prior year. General and administrative expenses were $1,009,000 (13.1% of sales) for the six months ended May 31, 2004 compared to $1,027,554 for the six months ended May 31, 2003 (11.6% of sales).

Royalty and commission expenses were $467,627 (11.9% of sales) for the three months ended May 31, 2004 compared to $371,420 (7.2% of sales) for the three months ended May 31, 2003. Royalty and commission expenses were $884,875 (11.5% of sales) for the six months ending May 31, 2004 compared to $756,662 (8.6% of sales) for the six months ending May 31, 2003. The increase in expense was directly related to a sales mix with higher royalty expense percentages than prior year. Commissions increased as a greater percentage of sales are generated by outside sales representatives.

Corporate expenses were $236,441 for the three months ended May 31, 2004 compared to $235,058 for the three months ended May 31, 2003 basically flat. Corporate expenses were $516,854 for the six months ended May 31, 2004 compared to $426,961 for the six months ended May 31, 2003. The increase in corporate expenses were a result of higher banking costs associated with the LaSalle bank loan, investment banking expense associated with the LaSalle transaction, insurance coverage, and higher audit fees.

Table of Contents

Interest expense relates to the Company's short and long-term debt. Interest expense was $113,764 for the three months ended May 31, 2004 compared to $117,401 for the three months ended February 28, 2003. The decrease in interest expense is attributable to lower debt partially offset by higher interest rates on the line of credit. Interest expense for the six months ended May 31, 2004 was $231,335 compared to $226,652, which relates to the higher interest rates charged by LaSalle for the period December 1, 2003 through April 15, 2004. The Company has replaced LaSalle with a new more cost effective banking relationship effective April 15, 2004 (See NOTE 5).

Other expense includes an unusual one-time write off of $639,000, offset by $13,000 of other income, in the three months ended May 31, 2004. The components relate to $501,000 of fees and expenses associated with the Company's former bank, LaSalle Business Credit, LLC that was terminated on April 15, 2004. It also includes $138,000 of one time legal fees that were advanced on behalf of the former Chairman and CEO related to a complaint filed in the Southern District of New York that was dismissed on May 10, 2004, and cost was expensed accordingly.

The provision for income taxes for the three months ended May 31, 2004 was a benefit of $361,579, which is attributable to the Company's year-to-date net operating loss adjusted by book and income tax recognition of temporary differences. Provision for income taxes for the three-month period ended May 31, 2003, was $94,165, which was higher related to the pre-tax income and recognition of book and tax temporary differences. These amounts are due to the Company's year-to-date net operating loss adjusted by book and income tax recognition of temporary differences. Benefits for income taxes for the six months ended May 31, 2004 was $379,847 as compared to the six months ended May 31, 2003, which was a provision of $75,320.

Financial Position, Capital Resources, and Liquidity May 31, 2004 and November 30, 2003

At May 31, 2004, working capital was $7,456,743 representing an increase of $830,748 from working capital at November 30, 2003 of $6,625,995. The increase in working capital was primarily due to a reduction in accounts payable, which was facilitated by the equity infusion in the second quarter. The Company is subject to seasonality in its sales cycle due to the amount of college-licensed products. The seasonality of sales has the effect of incurring the majority of the Company revenues in the third and fourth quarters.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

The Company has historically financed its operations through a combination of earnings and debt. The Company's principal sources of debt financing are its revolving line of credit with National City Bank and promissory notes issued by First Federal Bank. The credit facility has a maximum limit of $8,000,000 of which the Company has drawn $4,059,341 as of May 31, 2004. This credit facility matures on April 1, 2006 and is governed by various financial covenants. The First Federal Bank Promissory Notes consist of one principal loan in the amount of $2,838,565 payable in monthly installments of $26,000 of principal and interest and with a balloon payment of $2,647,805 due January 16, 2006.

The Company's principal use of cash is for operating and cost of goods sold expenses, interest, and working capital. Cash used in operations for the six months ended May 31, 2004 was $456,536 as compared to $702,560 of cash used in operations for the six months ended May 31, 2003. The decrease in cash used stemmed primarily from reduction in accounts receivable and inventory.

Cash used for investing activities was $166,675 for the six months ended May 31, 2004 compared to $318,734 for the six months ended May 31, 2003. The Company's investing activities during these periods was primarily the purchase of new equipment and acquisition costs, which were reduced in the six months, ended May 31, 2004.

Net cash provided by financing activities was $152,355 for the three months ended May 31, 2004 compared to $1,073,710 provided by financing activities for the six months ended May 31, 2003. This net decrease of $921,355 was related to the reduction in the revolving credit facility offset by proceeds from bank notes received in 2003.
