Item 1.01. Entry Into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On February 11, 2011, Odyssey Marine Exploration, Inc. executed an agreement with Galt Resources, LLC under which Galt will have the right to participate in the net proceeds, if any, from one of Odyssey's projects to be chosen by Galt before the end of 2011. Under the terms of the agreement, Galt has the right to receive half the net proceeds from the selected project until Galt has received their initial investment and three times the amount of their initial investment. Thereafter, Galt will receive a residual 1% of net proceeds for each $1 million invested with respect to the selected project up to a maximum $10 million. The return to Galt is based solely on the net proceeds, if any, from one project. Thus far, Odyssey has received $5.6 million from Galt under this agreement and may receive up to a maximum of $10 million with the approval of both parties. Net proceeds under the agreement are all proceeds to Odyssey after any amounts payable to governments or other priority claimants and after direct selling expenses not to exceed 10%.

Galt is managed by JCM Marine Ventures, LLC, a company founded and controlled by John Morris, a consultant to Odyssey. Morris co-founded Odyssey and served as Odyssey's CEO until he retired from Odyssey's management team in 2008. He organized JCM Marine Ventures and Galt to leverage the extensive experience he has gained in financing deep-ocean exploration projects during the past 25 years.
