RESERVES

Unless noted otherwise, reserves information presented herein is presented as working interests (operated and non-operated) shares and royalty interests, is at December 31, 2014, and is rounded to the nearest hundred million barrels of oil or barrels of oil equivalent. For definitions of proved and probable reserves, Suncor's interest, location of the reserves and the product types reasonably expected to be produced, see the Offeror's 2014 Annual Information Form available at www.sedar.com and www.sec.gov. For more information on COS' reserves, see COS' most recent 2014 Annual Information Form. Certain oil and gas reserves presented in this presentation have been prepared in accordance with National Instrument 51-101, which has been adopted by securities regulatory authorities in Canada and imposes oil and gas disclosure standards for Canadian issuers, which differ from the oil and gas disclosure standards of the SEC under Subpart 1200 of Regulation S-K. The SEC definitions of proved and probable reserves are not comparable to those of NI 51-101. Therefore, proved and probable reserves disclosed herein in compliance with NI 51-101 are not comparable to those disclosed in the Offeror's 2014 Annual Information Form. Moreover, as permitted by NI 51-101, the Offeror has determined and disclosed its reserves and the related net present value of reserves disclosure using forecast prices and costs. In contrast, the SEC requires that reserves and related future net revenue be than forecast prices, but permits the optional disclosure of future net revenue estimates based on different price and cost criteria forecasts. Consequently, the oil and gas reserves estimates presented herein are prepared in accordance with NI 51-101 are not companies in their filings with the SEC.

Suncor's downstream is an industry leader in profitability and reliability

The integrated business model has enabled Suncor to capture margins across the value chain and maximize the value of Oil Sands production

Integration mitigates crude oil price differential volatility and provides downside protection in a low commodity price environment

Net earnings per barrel of capacity. Peers consist of Alon USA Energy, Inc., CVR Refining, LP, the U.S. downstream division of PBF Energy Corporation, the downstream divisions of Imperial Oil Limited and Husky Energy Inc., Marathon Petroleum Corporation, PBF Refining Company, Valero Energy Corporation and Western Refining, Inc. United Refining Company had not reported third quarter net earnings per barrel of capacity for the nine months ended September 30, 2015. Suncor, CVR Refining, LP and Husky Energy Inc. report net earnings per barrel of capacity on a first-in-first-out inventory valuation basis, while other peers report on a last-in-first-out basis and therefore Suncor's net earnings per barrel of capacity is comparable to those peers.

Frequently asked questions

Is Suncor

comfortable increasing
its exposure to oil sands, particularly to an asset that has experienced weak operational performance?

Oil sands

is at the very core of Suncor. We bring five decades of oil sands experience to the table.

We have steadily improved the reliability and profitability of our own mining and upgrading operations which are similar and adjacent to those of Syncrude.

We expect to improve the governance of Syncrude and continue to support the operator in achieving lower costs and increased reliability, following a successful offer. On what information is Suncor's offer for Canadian Oil Sands based?

As an existing owner of 12% of Syncrude, Suncor has access to the same information as COS and every other Syncrude owner.

COS chairs the Syncrude committees where this information is tabled (see page 9 of COS 2014 Annual Information Form). All material information we are aware of has been made public. How does Suncor's offer for COS compare to what it recently paid for an additional 10% working interest in Fort Hills?

Suncor
is offering
significantly
more
for COS
ownership
stake
in Syncrude

$76,800
1
per
flowing
barrel
at Syncrude versus $56,000 2
per flowing barrel at Fort Hills.

We value assets on their free cash flow profiles, however, and not on a cost per flowing barrel basis.

Fort
Hills
is
a
brand
new
asset,
operated
by Suncor,
that
is expected
to produce
high
quality
pipeline-ready
bitumen
at
operating and
sustaining
capital
costs

that
are expected
be
much
lower
than Syncrude's.
Has Suncor factored the value of Lease 29 into its bid?

We
believe
our
bid
includes
full
and
fair
value
for
all
of
COS
assets
and
liabilities.

Lease 29 is an asset that belongs to Syncrude. It's important to note that any decision to sell a Syncrude lease requires support from other Syncrude owners who would have to align on appropriate value, regardless of Suncor's ownership stake.
Will Suncor increase its offer?

On October 5, 2015, Suncor made a full and fair offer which includes:

A 57% premium to COS' pre-offer closing price 3

A 45% cash dividend uplift 4

An all share deal that is intended to enable a tax-deferred rollover

Ownership of Suncor shares that will provide continued exposure to oil prices.
