3. REPORTS OF THE DIRECTORS

3.1 Management Discussion and Analysis of the Overall Operations during the Reporting Period

The following discussion and analysis should be read in conjunction with the unaudited financial report of the Group (the Company and its subsidiaries) and the notes in the 2016 interim report. Unless otherwise specified, the financial data hereinafter are extracted from the unaudited interim financial report prepared in accordance with IFRS.

Review and Discussion of Operating Results

During the first half of 2016, the global economy had a tortuous progress. The volatility of the financial market increased, growth of investment in international trade declined and the recovery of economy slowed down in general. The United States economy experienced moderate growth but lacked sufficient drive. The Eurozone economy was not expected to turn the table in the foreseeable future despite the continuing recovery. As downward pressure persisted, the growth of developed economies was less than expected. Emerging economies faced more severe challenges as a result of a prolonged downturn in staple commodities, global financial fluctuation and difficulties in resolving structural economic problems.

The economy of China, faced with complicated domestic and international environment and the increased downward pressure on the economy, accelerated its supply-side structural reform and advocated business start-up and innovation which facilitated the economy to achieve an overall steady development and recorded a gross domestic products (GDP) growth of 6.7% for the first half of 2016, representing a decrease of 0.3 percentage points as compared to the same period of last year. The petrochemical industry in China in general was steady for the first half of 2016 as consumption of major products increased steadily, profitability of refined oil products improved while profit from the petrochemical business grew comparatively rapid. However, downward pressure affecting the development of the industry remains. While investment decreased and a new growth drive had yet to come, the industry was in the process of bottoming out and regaining confidence.

Table of Contents

In the first half of 2016, the Group endeavoured to achieve progress in safety and environmental protection, operation optimization, market exploration as well as cost and expenses reduction while facing the adverse and intensive market competition. Benefited from the significant year-on-year decline in the global crude oil price, the Group's cost of crude oil processing dropped, which led to an increase of the products' gross profits and further boosted the profitability remarkably. In particular, the floor price for domestic refined oil contributed to the results of the Company in the first quarter of 2016. As international crude oil prices began to rebound in February 2016, the cost of crude oil in transit and in stock was relatively low due to the long procurement cycle for imported crude oil of the Group, which led to an increase in profit in the second quarter. As of 30 June 2016, the Group recorded turnover of RMB36,968.5 million, decreased by RMB5,157 million, representing a decrease of 12.24% compared to the same period of last year. The profit before tax was RMB4,101.9 million (profit before tax for the same period of last year was RMB2,279.9 million), representing an increase of RMB1,822 million from last year. Profit after tax and non-controlling shareholder interests was RMB3,148.6 million (profit for the same period of last year was RMB1,770.9 million), representing an increase of RMB1,377.7 million from last year.

In the first half of 2016, the total production volume of the Group reached 6,510,500 tons, representing a year-on-year decrease of 8.53%. From January to June of 2016, the Group processed 7,354,000 tons of crude oil (including 1,316,800 tons of crude oil processed on a sub-contract basis), which remained at the same level as last year. The production volume of refined oil products reached 4,437,200 tons, representing a year-on-year increase of 0.56%. Among which, the output of gasoline was 1,562,600 tons, representing a year-on-year increase of 4.79%; the output of diesel was 2,038,800 tons, representing a year-on-year decrease of 4.79%; and the output of jet fuel was 835,800 tons, representing a year-on-year increase of 7.20%. The Group produced 414,800 tons of ethylene and 330,800 tons of paraxylene, representing a year-on-year decrease of 2.05% and 2.96%, respectively. The Group also produced 527,200 tons of synthetic resins and plastic (excluding polyesters and polyvinyl alcohol), representing a year-on-year decrease of 0.88%; 333,300 tons of synthetic fiber monomers, representing a year-on-year decrease of 21.52%; 217,500 tons of synthetic fiber polymers, representing a year-on-year decrease of 0.09%; and 110,400 tons of synthetic fibers, representing a year-on-year decrease of 4.66%. For the first half of the year, the output-to-sales ratio and receivable recovery ratio of the Group were 98.25% and 100.00%, respectively.

- 1 On 13 January 2016, the National Development and Reform Commission of the PRC announced the Notice of the National Development and Reform Commission on Further Improving the Pricing Mechanism of Refined Oil (Fa Gai Jia Ge [2016] No.64) (the Notice), stating that when the price of crude oil in the international market with which the domestic refined oil price is affiliated is lower than US$40/barrel, the domestic refined oil price will not be adjusted downward further (the so-called floor price). The Notice states that when the price of crude oil in the international market is lower than US$40/barrel, which is the regulatory lower limit, the amount of refined oil price that has not been adjusted will be put into a risk reserve fund. A dedicated account will be set up which requires the approval of the government before using. The fund will mainly be used for energy conservation, emission reduction, oil product quality upgrading and oil supply security. Specific management measures will be announced separately. As at the date of this announcement, the specific management measures have not been announced yet.

The Group maintained control of safety and environmental protection in general and stable operation of its equipment. For the first half of the year, the Group thoroughly took full responsibility on and implemented safe production, strengthened hidden hazard identification and investigation as well as risk identification, carried out pollution reduction and environmental treatment, and proactively implemented Leak Detection and Repair (LDAR) measures. During the first half of the year, the Group inspected a total of 740,000 sealed spots of oil refining and petrochemical devices and fixed leakages that were identified. The Company performed volatile organic compounds (VOCs) emission checks on nine aspects, including storage tanks, loading and unloading, leakage and flue gas combustion, so as to advance the comprehensive VOCs treatment and keep reducing VOCs emission. The Group continued to meet its safety and environmental target of Seven Zeros, (i.e. zero in work related deaths, serious injuries, major fires or explosions, major environmental pollution accidents, major occupational hazard accidents, major traffic accidents and major safe production responsibility accidents). The compliance rate of waste water, waste solid and waste gas disposal (Three Wastes) reached 100%. The total emission of chemical oxygen demand (COD), ammonia nitrogen, sulfur dioxide and nitrogen oxides decreased by 4.05%, 16.88%, 14.50% and 11.11% respectively over the same period of last year. The Group maintained stable operation of production devices and strengthened the evaluation on production and operation performance with all technical and economic indicators improved effectively. During the first half of the year, out of the 83 major technical and economic indicators under assessment, 43 indicators improved over last year, representing a year-on-year improvement rate of 51.81%, while 20 were among the top of the industry. Industry advance ratio was 24.10%.

The Group further implemented production and operation optimization, cost and expenses reduction aiming at increasing profitability. The Group adhered to the dynamic optimization mechanism of daily computation of gross profit margin and weekly exploration of plant potential during the first half of 2016. Regarding the optimization of equipment workload, the Group adjusted the workload based on market changes and profitability forecast, suspended or limited the production of certain equipment, such as the 1# ethylene glycol, PTA, 1# polyester staple, polyester and acrylic plants to minimize the loss in profitability in the first half of 2016. At the same time, the Group optimized the raw material structure with a focus on raw material dry points and oil yield on hydrogen cracking devices, so as to ensure the quality of raw materials for ethylene. The Group streamlined the processing workflow by timely commencing the operation of the 1# coking devices to reduce production of asphalt, given the increasing gap in gross profit margin between coked products and asphalt products to reduce loss. In terms of product structure improvement, the Group adjusted the output of atmospheric vacuum equipment and ethylene cracker feed, reduced the output of diesel, as well as increased gasoline production and ratio of high-grade gasoline. During the first half of the year, the ratio of diesel to gasoline was 1.30:1 (ratio for 2015 was 1.38:1), while the proportion of high-grade gasoline reached 32%, representing a year-on-year increase of 6.82 percentage points. The Group further enhanced cost reduction and efficiency improvement. For the first half of 2016, it strived to procure crude oil types of high cost-effectiveness and centralized crude oil procurement to reduce cost. Market Outlook and Work Plans for the Second Half of the Year

In the second half of 2016, the global economy will face with more uncertainties. Given low prices for staple commodity, stagnant growth of developed countries, sluggish investment and trading, coupled with the impact of uncertainties such as geopolitics and Brexit (the United Kingdom leaving the European Union), the global economy will continue to be in a stage of profound adjustments and the challenges to economic recovery will still be severe. The fundamental long-term positive trend of China economic development remains unchanged. However, the downward pressure on the economy is still tremendous as the structural conflicts in China's economy is still prominent. New drives for economic growth are yet to emerge, and it will take time to come up with solutions to the overcapacity problem. Facing the serious structural overcapacity of the petrochemical industry in China, as well as the reform of resource tax in China and fees imposed on pollutants emissions, costs of petrochemical enterprises will definitely be increased. The increasingly stringent safety and environmental standards of the country and acceleration of oil products upgrade will also pose tremendous challenges to the industry.

In the second half of 2016, the prospect of global economy recovery does not look optimistic with the market's concern about the impact of Brexit on oil demand. Seasonal increase in oil demand in the third quarter, and the decreasing production of crude oil in the United States and Venezuela helps to bring a fundamental balance between demand and supply. Nevertheless, various negative factors in the crude oil market, such as the global inventory level which is still close to its record high, gradual resumption of production in Nigeria, possible slowing down of the growth rate of imported crude oil in China, strengthening of the US dollars boosted by a potential hiking of rates by the Federal Reserve, will alleviate the driving force of oil price increase. It is expected that the demand and supply of crude oil in general will strike a balance, and the price will remain at low level with fluctuations, but will be higher than the average price in the first half of the year.

In the second half of the year, the Group's approach will be more profit-oriented and market-oriented to ensure achievements in aspects including safety and environmental protection, optimization of system, reduction of cost and expenses, as well as corporate management, which in turn will bring a continuous improvement of effectiveness.

Table of Contents2.3 Background, reasons for the transactions, pricing policies and the proposed Annual Caps*2.3.1 Purchase of raw materials

Background: The Company produces over 60 different types of products representing a broad range of synthetic fibres, resins and plastics, intermediate petrochemicals and petroleum products. Each of these products is created from the chemical processing of crude oil, naphtha, ethylene, propylene, aromatics and other intermediate petrochemicals. In order to ensure a steady, orderly, continuing and efficient operation of the Company, since the Company's initial public offering on 6 July 1993, the Company has been purchasing and will continue to purchase most of petrochemical raw materials (such as crude oil, naphtha, ethylene, etc.) and other materials and goods (such as spare parts) from or via Sinopec Corp. and its associates at market prices, for producing various types of products.

The Company has also been utilising the crude oil reserves of China Petrochemical Corporation by borrowing and purchasing crude oil from Sinopec Petroleum Reserve Company Limited (Sinopec Reserve) according to the Company's production plans, stocks of crude oil and estimates on market demand.

The table below sets out the historical figures of the Company's aggregate purchases of petrochemical raw materials and other materials and goods from China Petrochemical Corporation, Sinopec Corp. and their associates for each of the two years ended 31 December 2014 and 2015 and for the six months ended 30 June 2016:

Table of Contents

The Company entered into the Existing Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement, which governs, among other things, the continuing connected transaction regarding the purchase of raw materials, with China Petrochemical Corporation and Sinopec Corp. on 25 October 2013. The Existing Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement and the continuing connected transactions contemplated thereunder were approved at the 2013 EGM. Except for the termination of the Chenshan Oil Depot Area Assets Lease Agreement, as at the date of this announcement, the terms of the Existing Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement and the continuing connected transactions contemplated thereunder continue to have full effect and remain unchanged. Given that the Existing Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement will expire on 31 December 2016, the Company entered into the Renewed Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement with China Petrochemical Corporation and Sinopec Corp. on 23 August 2016 so as to continue to purchase petrochemical raw materials and other materials and goods which are necessary for production from or via China Petrochemical Corporation, Sinopec Corp. or their associates at market price for the three years ending 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019. The effectiveness of Renewed Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement is conditional upon the passing of the resolution at the EGM approving the Renewed Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement and the Continuing Connected Transactions contemplated thereunder, including the Annual Caps.

Reasons for such transactions: As the Group does not possess reserves of crude oil and other raw materials, it is necessary for the Company to continue to purchase raw materials to ensure continuing operation of its business. The oil and petrochemical industry in the PRC has always been subject to extensive regulations by the PRC government which implements a regulation on issuing licences to qualified crude oil business operators. The Company may only purchase crude oil from licensed crude oil suppliers. China Petrochemical Corporation, Sinopec Corp. and their associates (e.g. China International United Petroleum & Chemicals Company Limited and Sinopec Reserve) are licensed crude oil suppliers. In addition, China Petrochemical Corporation, Sinopec Corp. and its associates have large crude oil storage tanks and pipeline transportation facilities which are close to the Company's production site. The Company considers that using the pipeline facilities of China Petrochemical Corporation, Sinopec Corp. and their associates to import crude oil ensures a stable and secure supply of crude oil and reduce transportation costs of crude oil.

The Company has been purchasing petrochemical raw materials (such as crude oil, naphtha, ethylene, etc.) and other materials and goods at market prices from or via Sinopec Corp. and its associates (including China International United Petroleum and Chemicals Company Limited, Shanghai Secco Petrochemical Company Limited, etc.). The Company considers that an interruption of raw materials supply from Sinopec Corp. would cause difficulties to and increase costs of the operation of the Company, and therefore have a material adverse impact on the Company's production of its petroleum products and petrochemical products. The Company has also been utilising the crude oil reserves of Sinopec Reserve by purchasing and borrowing crude oil from Sinopec Reserve, which allows the Company to reduce its stock of crude oil, and to adjust and optimise its stock of crude oil according to production plans, stock status of crude oil and estimates on market demand.

Table of Contents

Accordingly, the Board believes that reliability and stability of supply of raw materials is crucial to the safe, steady, long-term, fully-loaded and optimised operation of the Company and it is in the interest of the Company and its Shareholders as a whole to continue the purchase and borrowing of raw materials from or via China Petrochemical Corporation, Sinopec Corp. and their associates.

Pricing: Pursuant to the Renewed Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement, the purchase of petrochemical raw materials (such as crude oil, naphtha, ethylene, etc.) and other materials and goods from or via China Petrochemical Corporation, Sinopec Corp. and their associates are priced in accordance with the following pricing policies:

- (a) if there are applicable State (central and local governments) tariffs, the pricing of the Company's purchases shall follow the State tariffs; or
- (b) if there are no State tariffs, but if there are applicable State's guidance prices, the pricing of the Company's purchases shall follow the State's guidance prices; or
- (c) if there are no applicable State tariffs or State's guidance prices, the pricing of the Company's purchases shall be determined in accordance with the prevailing market prices (including any bidding prices).

Based on the above pricing policy:

As at the date of this announcement, there are no applicable State (central and local governments) tariffs or guidance prices in relation to the raw materials purchased from or via China Petrochemical Corporation, Sinopec Corp. and their associates. The price of raw materials shall therefore be determined in accordance with the prevailing market prices.

The price of crude oil purchased from Sinopec Corp. and its associates are determined on the basis of prevailing market prices that Sinopec Corp. and its associates acquire crude oil from the open market at the prevailing market prices plus an agency fee, which is determined in accordance with prevailing market commission rates for agency purchases of crude oil from the open market. The Company closely tracks the market and chooses the type and quantity of oil on its own, leaving the price to be decided by the market; and the price of crude oil purchased from China Petrochemical Corporation and its associates (such as Sinopec Reserves) is determined on the basis of the average price one month before crude oil is planned for delivery from stocks (pricing month) while taking into account any price adjustment, and the average price is calculated based on the daily spot prices of the relevant type of crude oil in the pricing month published by Platts (a division of the McGraw Hill Companies, Inc.); the freight is determined on the basis of the average freight for the routes of China Petrochemical Corporation and Sinopec Corp. for that type of oil during the pricing month; and the exchange rate is calculated at the exchange rate on the first trading day of the month in which crude oil is planned for delivery from stocks. The fee of usage of crude oil borrowed by the Company is calculated on the basis of 70% of the costs of purchase such as CIF, miscellaneous purchase expenses, transportation expenses, insurance expenses and taxes for the same type of oil in the month of borrowing the crude oil (borrowing month), and on the basis of 90% of the interest rate for a six-month loan as announced by the PBOC during the borrowing month.

Table of Contents

The price of other petrochemical raw materials (other than crude oil) purchased from China Petrochemical Corporation, Sinopec Corp. and their associates is determined in accordance with the order price or contract price of external sales, taking into account of factors, such as freight rate and quality.

The price of other materials and goods (such as spare parts) is determined through price enquiry and comparison on the relevant price websites or by referring to the prices of similar transactions in surrounding markets or by tender through the e-commerce system.

The Company will settle the payment for its raw material purchases by way of cash in accordance with the payment terms set out in each of the individual contracts for the purchase of such raw materials.

Annual Caps: For the three years ending 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019, the Company proposed that the annual transaction values in relation to the purchase of raw materials from China Petrochemical Corporation, Sinopec Corp. and their associates shall not, in aggregate, exceed the Annual Caps of RMB63.257 billion, RMB74.689 billion and RMB80.286 billion, respectively. In 2013, the then Independent Shareholders of the Company approved the Annual Caps of RMB85.254 billion, RMB91.444 billion and RMB94.475 billion in relation to the purchase of raw materials for the two years ended 31 December 2014 and 2015 and the year ending 31 December 2016, respectively. The Annual Caps for 2014 and 2015 were not exceeded and based on the current estimate, the Company is of the view that the Annual Cap for 2016 will not be exceeded.

Table of Contents

The Annual Caps for the three years ending 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019 are determined with reference to:

- (a) the previous transactions conducted and transaction amounts in respect of purchases of raw materials from or via China Petrochemical Corporation, Sinopec Corp. and their associates;
- (b) considering the fluctuation of crude oil prices in the last few years, the Company's estimate of the impact of possible price fluctuations on crude oil and other major raw materials brought by geopolitical factors, fluctuation of exchange rate of US dollars and speculations on energy prices caused by speculative funds in the international capital market;
- (c) the Company's estimate of its business growth and expansion of business of the Company's subsidiary, Jinshan Associated Trading Company; and
- (d) the Company's estimate that the exchange rate of the RMB to US Dollar may fluctuate in the future.

The increase in the proposed Annual Caps for the three years ending 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019 compared to the historical figures is primarily due to:

- (a) the historical figures were far below the annual caps approved by the then Independent Shareholders of the Company in 2013, which was primarily due to the unexpected decrease in the crude oil prices in the international market. Crude oil is the main raw materials for the Company and the prices of which is affected by many factors. It is difficult to do an accurate projection of the prices. Based on the crude oil transactions in recent years (the average price of Brent oil on the London International Exchange for 2012-2015 was US$111.63/barrel, US$108.65/barrel, US$98.95/barrel and US$52.38/barrel, respectively) and with reference to the projections by various professional institutions, the Annual Caps are determined with reference to the crude oil CIF price of US$70/barrel, US$80/barrel and US$80/barrel for the three years ending 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019 (which are at the higher end of the projections by the professional institutions) and the estimated exchange rate of US$1:RMB7; and
- (b) the Company plans to construct new 790,000 T/Y 3# Ethylene plant and 100,000 T/Y EVA plant, Refined oil products upgrading and mix improvement project, Feedstock flexibility improvement project on ethylene plant, Ethylene products utilization project as well as other environmentally-friendly, energy-saving technological upgrade projects. Construction and operation of the abovementioned projects will further increase the Company's demand for raw materials and goods.

Table of Contents

Accordingly, the Company expects the demand for raw materials and the transaction amounts to increase as a result.

2.3.2 Sale of petroleum products and petrochemical products

Background: Transactions involving sale and purchase of petroleum products including gasoline, diesel, jet fuel and liquefied petroleum gas, etc., are subject to regulations by the PRC government which implements a regulation on issuing licences to qualified petroleum products business operators. The Company is only allowed to sell petroleum products to companies with the licenses to conduct transactions involving sale and purchase of petroleum products including gasoline, diesel, jet fuel and liquefied petroleum gas, etc., Sinopec Corp. and its associates (e.g. Sinopec Huadong Sales Company Limited) are licensed petroleum products business operators, hence, since the Company's initial public offering on 6 July 1993, the Company has been selling and will continue to sell petroleum products to Sinopec Corp. and its associates.

Sinopec Corp. was one of the Company's five largest customers for each of the two years ended 31 December 2014 and 2015 and for the six months ended 30 June 2016. The table below sets out the historical figures of the Company's aggregate sales of petroleum products to Sinopec Corp. and its associates for each of the two years ended 31 December 2014 and 2015 and for the six months ended 30 June 2016:

The table below sets forth the historical figures of the Company's total sales of its petrochemical products to Sinopec Corp. and its associates for each of the two years ended 31 December 2014 and 2015 and for the six months ended 30 June 2016:

The Company entered into the Existing Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement, which governs, among other things, the continuing connected transaction regarding the sale of petroleum products and the sale of petrochemical products, with China Petrochemical Corporation and Sinopec Corp. on 25 October 2013. The terms of the Existing Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement and the continuing connected transactions contemplated thereunder were approved at the 2013 EGM. Except for the termination of the Chenshan Oil Depot Area Assets Lease Agreement, as at the date of this announcement, the terms of the Existing Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement and the continuing connected transactions contemplated thereunder continue to have full effect and remain unchanged. Given that the Existing Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement will expire on 31 December 2016, the Company entered into the Renewed Mutual Product Supply and the Sale Services Framework Agreement with China Petrochemical Corporation and Sinopec Corp. on 23 August 2016 so as to continue the sale of petroleum products and petrochemical products to Sinopec Corp. and its associates for the three years ending 31 December 2017, 2018 and 2019.

The Company has historically categorized the sale of petroleum products and petrochemical products as two categories of connected transactions. Taking into account the transactions are in substance one transaction involving the sale of products to Sinopec Corp. and its associates, going forward the Company will consider the sale of petroleum products and petrochemical products as one category of connected transaction.

The effectiveness of the Renewed Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement is conditional upon the passing of the resolution at the EGM approving the Renewed Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement and the Continuing Connected Transactions contemplated thereunder, including the Annual Caps.

Reasons for such transaction: Transactions involving sale and purchase of petroleum products including gasoline, diesel, jet fuel and liquefied petroleum gas, etc., are subject to regulations by the PRC government which implements a regulation on issuing licences to qualified petroleum products business operators. The Company is only allowed to sell petroleum products to companies with the licences to conduct transactions involving sale and purchase of petroleum products including gasoline, diesel, jet fuel and liquefied petroleum gas, etc., Sinopec Corp. and its associates (e.g. Sinopec Huadong Sales Company Limited) are licensed petroleum products business operators. In addition, Sinopec Corp. and its associates own widespread petroleum products sales network and possess a fairly high market share in domestic petroleum product market. Therefore, selling petroleum products via the channel of Sinopec Corp. and its associates would help the Company benefit from its solid commercial network and improve the Company's competitiveness.

The Company believes that the sale of petrochemical products to Sinopec Corp. and its associates at market price reduces the needs for a prolonged storing of its petrochemical products in its inventory, optimises its operation, largely reduces impact of fluctuation of market demand and ensures stable profits. In addition, as the Company has already established an amicable customer-supplier relationship with Sinopec Corp., it believes that an alliance with a reputable international petrochemical corporation such as Sinopec Corp. can assist the retention of its existing product users and the development and market expansion for its products.

Pricing: Pursuant to the Renewed Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement, the sale of petroleum products and petrochemical products to Sinopec Corp. and its associates is determined in accordance with the following pricing policies:

- (a) if there are applicable State (central and local governments) tariffs, the pricing of the Company's sales shall follow the State tariffs; or
- (b) if there are no State tariffs, but if there are applicable State's guidance prices, the pricing of the Company's sales shall follow the State's guidance prices; or
- (c) if there are no applicable State tariffs or State's guidance prices, the pricing of the Company's sales shall be determined in accordance with the prevailing market prices (including any bidding prices).

Based on the above pricing policy:

(i) State tariffs and State's guidance prices
