Discovery in the Caxaréu Field

(Rio de Janeiro, March 2, 2007). □ PETRÓLEO BRASILEIRO S/A - PETROBRAS, [Bovespa: PETR3/PETR4, NYSE: PBR/PBRA, Latibex: XPBR/XPBRA, BCBA: APBR/APBRA], a Brazilian international energy company, announces that discovery well 4-ESS-172-ES (NPA acronym: 4-BRSA-446-ESS), has located reservoirs saturated with light oil (approximately 30° API) under a thick layer of salt at a water depth of 1,011 meters and at a final depth of 4,862 meters, which have shown to have excellent productivity in a formation test carried out with a lined well. This test indicated potential production may top-out at 10,000 barrels per day, while preliminary geological studies reveal an in place potential of some 570 million barrels.

This accumulation is situated in old BC-60 block, off the coast of Espírito Santo, nearly 120 km to the south of the city of Vitória and 15 km southeast of the Jubarte oil field. It constitutes a new exploratory horizon within the CAXARÉU oil field, in northern Campos Basin, which was already declared commercial to the National Petroleum Agency (NPA) in December 2006, a fact that was communicated to the market at the time.

The discovery was identified during the 1-ESS-121-ESS well campaign as part of the Discovery Assessment Plan, in an area operated by Petrobras which has 100% of the concession.

Additional studies will be undertaken to better evaluate the full potential of this field.
