The Adjusted Net Income stood at R$7.625 billion in the 12-month period of 2008, accounting for a 5.8% increase over the same period of 2007. This income is used as the basis for the analyses and comments in this Press Release and in the Report on Economic and Financial Analysis.

The decrease in Net Income during the 4Q08 is mainly due to increases in claims that reduced the income from Insurance, Pension Plans and Savings Bonds.

¹ Includes Sureties and Guarantees, receivables from credit cards (cash purchases and credit purchases) and loan granting (FIDC).

In 2008, loans to Corporations were affected by the capital markets slowdown and shortage of foreign credit lines occurred in 4Q08 affecting both working capital and investments. The highest growth in 2008 was experienced in leasing, working capital, export financing and mortgage.

In the Individuals segment, we see a decrease in the demand for consumer finance loans, a result of consumer cautiousness in an uncertain economic scenario. In this segment, the largest growth came in the products of leasing, mortgages and agricultural loans.

Excluding sureties and guarantees, receivables from credit cards and loan granting (FIDC), the Loan Portfolio totaled R$173.423 billion, up R$42.116 billion, or 32.1% in relation to December 2007, and an increase of R$12.789 billion, or 8.0%, in the 4Q08.

The evolution of the main credit lines is presented as follows:

Provision for Loan Losses (PLL) and Delinquency

The balance of Provision for Loan Losses (PLL) stood at R$10.263 billion as of December 31, 2008, of which R$8.642 billion are required provisions and R$1.621 billion are excess provisions.

Expenses with Provision for Loan Losses (PLL)

PLL expenses of R$7.287 billion (without considering non-recurring PLL of R$597 million in the 4Q08) were recorded during the 12M08, an increase of R$1.789 billion, or 32.5%, compared with 12M07. This growth follows the evolution of the Loan Portfolio, which grew by R$53.938 billion, or 33.4%, in the period.

In the 4Q08, the expense variation of R$138 million was reflected by expected increase in the delinquency ratio (loans overdue by more than 90 days) which inched up 0.1 p.p. due to the downturn in the macroeconomic scenario.

Coverage and Delinquency Ratios

	Dec08	Sept08	Dec07
PLL / Loan Portfolio	5.9%	5.7%	6.0%
Loans overdue by more than 60 days / Loan portfolio	4.5%	4.2%	4.2%
PLL / Loans overdue by more than 60 days	130.7%	135.7%	140.7%
Loans overdue by more than 90 days / Loan portfolio	3.6%	3.5%	3.5%
PLL / Loans overdue by more than 90 days	165.6%	163.6%	168.7%

In 2008, we experienced an increase in the delinquency ratio (loans overdue by more than 90 days), primarily affected by the Individuals segment, which rose from 6.4% to 6.7%. For the quarter, the highest increase came in the micro and SME segments, which saw this ratio rise from 2.4% to 2.7%.

We also highlight the coverage ratios, which remained stable.

Deposits, Debentures and Subordinated Debts

In the following table, we show the growth of these types of funding:

Capital

In December 2008, the Book Value of the Shareholders' Equity stood at R$34.257 billion, while the Reference Shareholders' Equity totaled R$47.263 billion.

The Capital Adequacy Ratio, calculated according to the New Capital Rules (Basel II) in a standardized approach stood at 16.1%. This index shows a capital margin of R$14.945 billion. If the profile of Bradesco's current loan portfolio is maintained, this margin would allow the portfolio to additionally grow R$165 billion (for further information, see page 190 of the Report on Economic and Financial Analysis).

Unrealized Results

Unrealized results, represented primarily by securities, posted a reduction in this quarter, following the market volatility in the period. It is worth mentioning that most of these securities are used to guarantee technical provisions which are long-term liabilities that are not marked-to-market.

In the comparison between 12M08 and 12M07, the NII increased by R$3.349 billion, accounting for a 15.0% growth, due to the following factors:

the increase of R$3.787 billion in income from interest-earning operations, of which R$6.036 billion derived from the increase in average volumes and R$2.249 billion from spread contraction;

Mitigated by:

the decrease of R$438 million in non-interest income, mainly due to lower treasury/securities gains, in the amount of R$776 million, which includes the negative mark-to-market effect in loan derivatives (CDS – Credit Default Swaps) on sovereign Brazilian bonds issued abroad, in the amount of R$326 million, due to the volatility of global financial markets in the 2H08 and offset by higher recovery of credits, in the amount of R$360 million.

In the comparison between 4Q08 and 3Q08, the variation of R$338 million was due to:

the increase in interest-bearing operations in the amount of R$275 million, comprised of a R$682 million growth in average volume and a R$407 million decline in spreads due to the change in the mix of the portfolio (higher growth of the large corporate segment);

the increase in non-interest income of R$63 million, deriving from higher treasury/securities gains, even taking into account the negative mark-to-market effect in loan derivatives (CDS – Credit Default Swaps) on sovereign Brazilian bonds issued abroad, in the amount of R$126 million (R$276 million) in the 4Q08 and (R$150 million) in the 3Q08, caused by the volatility in the world financial markets.

Adjusted NII

The adjusted NII of interest-earning operations is shown in the chart below. Note the growth in nominal terms in the quarter and the decrease in the average rate due to the growth in the corporate segment operations, which have lower spreads vis-à-vis the portfolio for individuals.

Breakdown of the Adjusted NII

The origin of the Adjusted NII is shown in the chart below. Note the importance of the relative participation of loan operations, which accounted for 69% of the total in December 2008, compared to 67%, in December 2007.

Credit NII

A summary of the credit margin is shown in the chart below:

- The first line shows the income from loan operations net of the cost of opportunity (basically the Interbank Deposit rate - the CDI).
- The third line incorporates the expenses delinquencies, represented by the Provision for Loan Losses (PLL) added by the discounts given in renegotiations, net of credit recoveries.
- The second line shows the net margin, i.e. loan interest income net of the losses associated with these loans, which shows consistent growth in nominal terms, with cumulative growth of 18.6% over the past 12 months.

Edgar Filing: BANK BRADESCO - Form 6-K

In the comparison between 12M08 and 12M07, the R$409 million increase was due to:

- the R$585 million growth in Cards fees, driven by the increase of 15.9% in the base of cards, moving from 70,469 thousand in 2007 to 81,691 thousand in 2008, as well as by the 19.7% increase in the number of transactions, moving from 798,474 thousand on December 31, 2007 to 955,902 thousand on December 31, 2008;
- the R$131 million increase in Asset Management fees, derived from the 5.5% increase in assets under management, which moved from R$177.5 billion on December 31, 2007, to R$187.2 billion on December 31, 2008, as well as by the higher number of business days in 2008;
- the R$114 million growth in Collections, related to higher business volumes, where Bradesco is market leader with a 30.1% market share (Sisbacen as of September 2008); and
- the R$82 million growth in Consortium fees, due to the increase of 15.9% in the number of outstanding quotas, moving in a y-o-y basis from 298,618 to 345,969.

Mitigated by:

- The declines in checking account (R$92 million) and individual loan operation fees (R$350 million), primarily due to the process of fee adjustment, and the loan operations fee (TAC) which can no longer be charged from individuals.

In the comparison between the 4Q08 and the 3Q08, the main variations were:

- the R$86 million increase in Cards fees, related to the 1.9% increase in the base of cards moving from 80,207 thousand, at the end of September 2008, to 81,691 thousand, at the end of December 2008, as well as to the 9.8% increase in the number of transactions, which rose from 240,654 thousand to 264,333 thousand in the same period.

Mitigated by:

- smaller fees from individuals loan operations (R$34 million) due to the lower volume of operations, especially in the area of vehicle financing;
- lower income from asset management due to the reallocation of funds to more conservative investments, such as Savings Accounts and CDs; and
- and lower revenues from underwriting operations, in the amount of R$26 million.

Personnel Expenses

The breakdown and variations in personnel expenses in the respective periods are shown in the table below:

TOTAL	7,167	6,570	1,890	1,825	9.1	3.6

In the comparison between 12M08 and 12M07, the variation of R$597 million was due to:

- Structural:

Edgar Filing: BANK BRADESCO - Form 6-K

- the increase of the distribution network (from 29,982 outlets in 2007 to 38,183 in 2008, including 3,359 branches) and the increased number of employees (82,773 in 2007 to 86,622 in 2008), the wage increase granted under the collective bargaining agreement of 2007 (6%), benefits and other items in the amount of R$439 million, as well as the 2008 bargaining agreement (wage increase between 8.15% and 10%) of R$158 million (R$42 million related to the restatement of labor liabilities and R$116 million of payroll increase).
- Non-structural:
- higher expenses with provisions for labor proceedings in the amount of R$20 million;
- lower expenses with the management and employees profit-sharing (PLR), in the amount of R$45 million; and
- higher training expenses amounting to R$16 million.

In the comparison between 4Q08 and 3Q08, the increase of R$65 million comprised basically of:

- Structural:
- wages increase (between 8.15% and 10%) in the amount of R$34 million, with R$96 million recorded in the 4Q08 and R$62 million in the 3Q08; and
- increase of R$31 million, basically due to the expansion of the distribution network, with an increase of 1,045 employees.

- organic growth with the increase in the number of outlets (27% growth, 1,462 proprietary and 6,739 third-party);
- higher business volumes;
- investments in improvement and optimization of the IT platform; and
- adjustments of prices of contracts due to inflation (IGP-M of 9.8%, IPCA of 5.9%) .

In the quarter, the main variations were:

- growth in the number of outlets (up 6%, 376 proprietary and 1,667 third-party); and
- higher advertising expenses of R$61 million, due to the fourth quarter's seasonality;

Performance Indicators

Efficiency Ratio

The variation seen in the last two quarters reflects the organic growth and the investments in technology, an area in which we have focused more intensively over these periods and which results are expected to be seen over the next periods.

Coverage Ratio

The decrease in this index during the past few quarters is primarily due to: (i) the fee adjustment and TAC (loan operations fees) no longer charged to individuals as of 2008; (ii) the expansion of our distribution network and investments in IT, as previously mentioned.

Up to November 2008, Bradesco's Insurance Group's Net Income, accounted for 37.7% of the Net Income of the entire Brazilian insurance market.

In addition to the 9.2% increase in premiums, the following factors also influenced significantly to the 2008 result:

- the return to normal levels of technical provision in the Individual Health Insurance portfolio;
- the reduction of 0.6 p.p. in the y-o-y Claims Ratio;
- the sales ratio remained stable in the y-o-y comparison (Dec08 = 10.5 and Dec07 = 11.6), despite the sales increase mentioned above; and
- Mediservice goodwill amortization.

These factors offset the increase of Social Contribution (CSLL) from 9%, to 15%, occurred as of May 2008.

The 4Q08 result was influenced by an increase in health claims, which reflects the impact of U.S. dollar appreciation in laboratory costs, prosthesis and medicine related expenses, and flooding in the South and Southeast regions of Brazil, which led to higher occurrences of automobile and residential property claims and by the IBNR tail expansion of the life line from 5 to 7 years.

¹ Ratios were recalculated according to Susep Circular Letter #356 and for comparison purposes in the 4Q08 and year of 2008, we removed the amount of R$99.8 million referring to the IBNR tail expansion from 5 to 7 years (life line) The history increase of the relation between the occurrence date and the notice date was adjusted from 60 to 84 months in order to comprise with more accuracy the statistical behavior of older Judicial Claims.

Revenues from Private Pension Plans and VGBL represented 34.5% of the market in Nov/08, while Premiums from Life Insurance and Personal Accidents represented 16.7% of the market in Nov/08.

The balance of technical provisions includes the provision for insufficient contributions (PIC), which is calculated using the American table of mortality AT-2000, improved by 1.5% p.a., and a real interest rate of 4.3% p.a., considering men separately from women, who have a longer life expectancy.

Net income through December 2008 reflects improved performance in the life insurance (particularly in credit life insurance and group insurance) and VGBL segments, causing an increase of R$108 million in the management fees income.

In the previous 12 months of 2007, net income was impacted by adjustments in the Longevity and Improvement provisions, due to a reduction of real interest rates from 4.5% p.a. to 4.3% p.a.

The 4Q08 result remained in line with 3Q08, despite the IBNR tail expansion, which was offset by the better performance of multi-market funds compared to the previous quarter.

Technical provisions of Bradesco Vida e Previdência reached R$56.1 billion in December 2008, comprised of R$53.5 billion in VGBL products and R$2.6 billion in life, personal accidents and other lines, a 10.9% increase over December 2007.

Technical provisions of Open Private Pension Plan and VGBL represent a 38.4% market share Source: Fenaprevi (Market data as of November 2008).

* Data as of Nov/08, Nov/07 and July/08.

Compared to 2007, the 2008 result was stable, in spite of the volatility in the capital markets during the year. This is explained by the 9.3% growth in sales of savings bonds, consisting of higher sales of the new Pé Quente products: Pé Quente Bradesco Pessoa Jurídica (lump sum payment of R$1,000.00), Pé Quente Bradesco Amazonas Sustentável (monthly payment of R$20.00) and Pé Quente Bradesco Instituto Ayrton Senna (monthly payment of R$30.00) .

Despite a significant growth in the 4Q08 sales figures, the result was lower in relation to the previous quarter, mainly due to the non-realization of gains on sale of equities (occurred in 3Q08) and due to the drop in financial result.

Plans of Assignment of Draw Rights have shorter effective terms and grace periods and low ticket.

² For correct comparison between the periods, we excluded from the calculation, R$40 million referring to the losses caused by flooding in the state of Santa Catarina.

In the y-o-y comparison, the 2008 result was affected by losses occurred in 4Q08 caused by the flooding in the South and Southeast regions, which led to higher claims, partially offset by positive financial results, particularly profitability in fixed income funds.

In addition to the events mentioned above, the 4Q08 result was impacted by declines in production which, despite the retention of revenues from premiums written at the same levels seen in the previous quarter, reduced other revenues directly related to sales.

The increase in the 2008 net income compared to 2007 is attributable to the combination of the following factors:

the return of the constitution of technical provisions for the Individual Health insurance portfolio to normal levels;
 23.9% sales growth which increased the market share from 42.3% to 46.0%;
 increase in income from fixed income funds;
 increase in claims, reflecting the impact of U.S. dollar appreciation in laboratory costs, prosthesis and medicine related expenses and the increase in indemnifiable events; and R$80 million goodwill amortization paid in the Mediservice acquisition, in February 2008.

With the acquisition of Mediservice (Administradora de Planos de Saúde), Bradesco Saúde reached the level of 3.8 million clients. A large contribution from corporate insurance policies to the total of this portfolio (93.5% in December 2008) reflects the Company's high level of specialization and customization of corporate plans, which is a competitive edge in current supplementary health market.

The Challenge of the Planet, an educational quiz aimed at strengthening the awareness of our sustainability strategy, had the participation of more than 87% of the staff. To participate, the employee should know concepts and practices related to sustainability, thus, support material was prepared, such as Bradesco Sustainability Report (employee version), the e-learning Sustainability course and several leaflets. At the end of the Challenge, five winners won a trip to the Amazon.

In 2008, the Programa Voluntários Bradesco (Bradesco Volunteer Program) gathered over 10,000 employees in its initiatives. The Bradesco Volunteer Portal became the largest corporate V2V (volunteer to volunteer) network on the internet in Brazil with 7,000 registered people. Also, donation campaigns were a major source of mobilization, collecting three tons of powdered milk in June and 66,000 personal hygiene items in September. Additionally, the second Maratona Social Voluntários (Social Volunteer Marathon), gathered employees from all of the Bank's administrative sites (Cidade de Deus, Nova Central, Paulista, Alphaville and Santa Cecília), promoting a social transformation in 50 Institutions, benefiting nearly 7,200 people.

Once again, Banco Bradesco was selected to join the group of companies that comprise the Dow Jones Sustainability Index (DJSI) of the New York Stock Exchange, and the ISE, Corporate Sustainability Index of BM&FBOVESPA, which include the best companies traded in stock exchanges in terms of sustainability practices.

According to the consulting firm Management & Excellence (M&E), Bradesco is the company that best communicates its sustainability, corporate governance and social and environmental responsibility initiatives on the web.

Comments from the Economic Research Department

The 2008 reversal of the cycle of strong global economic expansion that began in 2004 was abrupt, and for many countries, sudden. In fact, the volatility in the financial and real economy of several countries was so extensive that it could be thought of as a period of many years in just one. In the first half of 2008, despite deceleration in several developed countries, main emerging economies continued showing signs of solid endogenous expansion, which helped to explain the fact that the commodity prices continued to rise to the highest levels ever recorded, causing inflationary pressures that led many authorities to enact tight monetary policies. By midyear, a generalized sense that the slowdown was beginning to spread and infect emerging markets, triggered a process of financial deleveraging, which affected various markets, including commodity markets. In September, the collapse of Lehman Brothers set off an unprecedented crisis, intensifying risk aversion. The reactions by national and multilateral authorities have been and continue to be unprecedented in scope, which will help to stave off a global depression, but will not be sufficient to avoid a strong downturn and deceleration in the global economy in 2009.

In the first three quarters of 2008, Brazil's economy grew by 6.4% y-o-y, with domestic absorption components performing especially well. Inflationary pressures caused by an imbalance between supply and demand and aggravated by high prices of commodities seen around the midyear point were answered with tightening monetary policies, which helped to ensure that Brazil avoided the higher levels of inflationary acceleration seen in several other countries. It should also be noted that Brazil saw a strong inflow of foreign direct investments that reached the US$45 billion record for the first time ever. In this scenario, the long-sought investment grade was reached in the first half. However, by mid-September, as was the case around the world, Brazil's robust domestic economy, negatively affected by the global crisis, began to show signs of downturn.

The main channels through which the Brazilian economy has been affected by the global downturn have been through currency devaluation, credit constraints and deteriorating levels of confidence among businesses and consumers alike. Deceleration of the Brazilian economy will be inevitable. GDP growth is expected to slide from an estimated level of 5.6% in 2008 to nearly 1.5% in 2009. Under this scenario, there will be more room for softened monetary and tax policies. Looking ahead, Bradesco reiterates its confidence as to Brazil's prospects, which remains positive despite the social and economic hardships of the domestic and international scenarios and to unfold in a democratic environment with very few parallels among emerging nations. For these prospects to become a reality, it is necessary to push through the reform agenda that will allow the GDP to grow at a higher and sustainable level. Perhaps the crisis will provide the opportunity for such reforms.
