6 Report of the Board of Directors

6.1 Business review in the reporting period

6.1.1 Business review

In 2009, Chinese economy was seriously impacted by the global financial crisis. The Chinese government implemented a stimulus package to promote the economic growth and carried out proactive fiscal policy and moderately easy monetary policy, thereby giving an impetus to the growth of Chinese economy and maintaining a GDP growth of 8.7%. The Company's business environment underwent significant and profound changes in 2009. At the beginning of the year, petroleum and petrochemical products witnessed a sharp drop in market demand and prices on a year-on-year basis. However, the market demand gradually recovered and the price went up accordingly after the first quarter. The Company spared no efforts in exploring market, reinforcing precision management and improving structure adjustment according to market condition, which not only guaranteed the stable growth in upstream, mid-stream and downstream production and operation, but also realized satisfactory profits.

6.1.1.1 Review of Market Environment

(1) Crude oil market

In 2009, international crude oil price rebounded after reaching the bottom. In the first quarter, international crude oil price remained low. However, the price climbed substantially since the month of May, fluctuating between US$ 60/bbl to US$ 80/bbl. The annual average spot price of Brent was US$ 61.5/bbl, with a year-on-year drop of 36.6%. Price trend of domestic crude oil was in line with the international markets.

(2) Refined oil products market

Domestic demand in domestic oil products market gradually increased in 2009. However, due to the sufficient supply, the market competition was fierce. With the rapid growth of domestic economy and substantial increase in domestic automobile consumption, the apparent consumption of oil products rose quarter by quarter. According to statistics, in 2009, apparent domestic consumption of oil products (inclusive of gasoline, diesel and kerosene) was 207 million tonnes, with a year-on-year increase of 0.9%.

(3) Chemicals market

Chinese central government's stimulus package promoted the consumption of chemical products in relevant industries in 2009, and boosted the demand in domestic chemical products market. According to the Company's statistics, the apparent domestic consumption of synthetic resin, synthetic fiber and synthetic rubber registered a year-on-year increase of 21.5%, 12.6% and 22.3% respectively. The apparent domestic consumption of ethylene equivalent increased by 8% compared with the previous year. Domestic prices of chemical products gradually recovered from a low level.

6.1.1.2 Production and Operation

(1) Exploration and Production

In 2009, the Company further implemented oil-and-gas resource strategy by reducing cost and fees instead of trimming production when oil price was low. The Company increased exploration input and reinforced trap reservoir. New breakthroughs were made in Leikoupo Formation in northeast Sichuan. The exploration in Tuoputai area of Tahe realized great achievement. New findings were acquired through exploring new layers in eastern matured fields and new blocks in the west. In 2009, the Company completed 14,515 kilometers of 2D seismic and 11,069 square kilometers of 3D seismic exploration, and drilled 570 exploration wells with a total footage of 1,643 kilometers. Addition of proved oil and gas reserve was 293.25 mmboe. As to development, Sichuan-East China Gas Project started trial operation. Construction of Songnan Gas Field with an annual capacity of 1 billion cubic meters was completed and put into operation. Meanwhile, the Company intensified its efforts and input in scientific and technological research of tertiary oil recovery and reserves that are difficult to recover, and enhanced single-well capacity and recovery rate, resulting in stable increase of oil and gas output. In 2009, the Company's turnover was RMB 1315.9 billion, representing a decrease of 6.9% over 2008. This was mainly due to the decrease in prices of crude oil, refined oil and chemical products over 2008 and expansion of operations of the Company. In addition, the Company received RMB 50.9 billion government subsidy for the strict control of oil products prices in 2008 (listed as other revenues), while no such subsidy has been paid since the reform on pricing, taxation and fees of oil products was put into effect in 2009.

The following table sets forth the Company's external sales volume, average realized prices and the respective rates of change from 2008 to 2009 for the Company's major products:

Most of crude oil and a small portion of natural gas produced by the Company were internally used for refining and chemical production and the remainings were sold to other customers. In 2009, the total revenue from crude oil, natural gas and other upstream products that were sold externally were RMB 19.3 billion, representing a decrease of 26.7% over 2008. The change was mainly due to the decrease in the price of crude oil.

In 2009, the Company's refining segment and marketing and distribution segment sold petroleum products (mainly consisting of refined oil products and other refined petroleum products) to external parties. The external sales revenue realized by these two segments were RMB 874.2 billion, representing a decrease of 6.5% over 2008, accounting for 65.0% of the Company's turnover, other operating revenues and other income. The decrease was mainly due to the decreased prices of refined oil products. The sales revenue of gasoline, diesel and kerosene was RMB 712.3 billion, representing a decrease of 5.0% over 2008, accounting for 81.5% of the total revenue of petroleum products. Sales revenue of other refined petroleum products was RMB 161.9 billion, representing a decrease of 12.8% over 2008, accounting for 18.5% of the total turnover of petroleum products.

The Company's external sales revenue of chemical products was RMB 192.7 billion, representing a decrease of 12.3% over 2008, accounting for 14.3% of its turnover, other operating revenues and other income. This was mainly due to the decrease in the price of chemical products.

This was mainly because the Company accrued the annuity, performance payroll and the housing subsidy for the personnel who joined the Company after 31 December, 1998 subject to related regulations in 2009, while the performance payroll was not accrued due to the decreased profit in 2008.

Taxes other than income tax was RMB 132.9 billion, an increase of 132.3% compared with 2008, and this was mainly due to domestic reform of prices, taxation and fees for oil products, which led to the increase in the consumption tax, urban construction tax and educational surcharge by RMB 101.4 billion over the same period of 2008. In addition, the special oil income levy decreased by RMB 25.7 billion compared with 2008 as a result of the decrease in the price of crude oil.

RISK FACTORS

In the course of its production and operations, Sinopec Corp. actively takes various measures to mitigate operational risks. However, in practice, it may not be possible to prevent the occurrence of all risks and uncertainties below.

Variation Risks in Macro-economic Situation: The operating results of the Company are closely related to the economic situation of China and the world. Although many countries are adopting macroeconomic policies to eliminate the negative influences resulting from the financial crisis, there still exists uncertainties as to the time and nature of the recovery of the global economy and world financial market. The business of the Company may be adversely affected by such factors as the impact on export due to trade protectionism of some countries, impact on import which is likely to be resulted from regional trade agreements and etc..

Cyclic Effects: The majority of the operational revenue of the Company comes from the sales of refined oil products and petrochemical products, and part of the operation and its related products are cyclic and are sensitive to macro-economy, cyclic changes of regional and global economy, the changes of the production capacity and output, demand of consumers, prices and supply of the raw materials, as well as prices and supply of the alternative products etc. Although the Company is an integrated energy covering up, middle and down stream business it can only counteract the adverse influences of periodicity of the industry to some extent.

Macroeconomic Policies and Government Regulation: Although the government is gradually liberalizing the market entry regulations on petroleum and petrochemicals sector, the petroleum and petrochemical industries in China are still subject to entry regulations to a certain degree, which include: issuing crude oil and natural gas production license, issuing crude oil and refined oil products business license, setting maximum retail, distribution and wholesale prices for gasoline and diesel, and ex-refinery price for jet fuels, the imposing of the special oil income levy and other tax and fees, formulation of import and export quotas and procedures, formulation of safety, quality and environmental protection standards; meanwhile, the changes may also occur to macroeconomic and industry policies such as: further improvement in pricing mechanism of refined oil products, reforming and improvement in pricing mechanism of natural gas, and reforming in resource tax and environmental tax. Such regulations may have material effect on the operations and profitability of the Company.

Change of Environmental Legal Requirements: Our production activities produce waste water, gas and solid. The Company has built up supporting effluent treatment systems to prevent and reduce pollution. The relevant government authorities may issue and implement stricter environmental protection laws and regulations, adopt stricter environment protection standards. Under the aforesaid situation, the Company may incur more expenses in relation to the environment protection accordingly.

Uncertainties with Additional Oil and Gas Reserves: The Company's ability to achieve sustainable development is dependent to a certain extent on our ability in discovering or acquiring additional oil and natural gas reserves. To obtain additional oil and natural gas reserves, the Company faces inherent risks associated with exploration and development and/or with acquiring activities. The Company has to invest a large amount of money with no guarantee of certainty of obtaining additional reserves. If the Company fails to acquire additional reserves through further exploration and development or acquisition activities, the oil and natural gas reserves and production of the Company will decline over time, which will adversely affect the Company's financial situation and operation performance.

Risk of External Purchase of Crude Oil: A significant amount of the Company's demand for crude oil is satisfied through external purchases. In recent years, especially impacted by the international financial crisis, the crude oil prices are subject to wild fluctuations, and the supply of crude oil may even be interrupted due to major incidents. Although the Company has taken flexible counter measures, it may not be fully shielded from risks associated with any wild fluctuation of international crude oil prices and disruption of supply of crude oil.

Operational Risks and Natural Disasters: The process of petroleum chemical production is exposed to risks of inflammation, explosion and environmental pollution and is vulnerable to natural disasters. Such contingencies may cause serious impact to the society, grievous injuries to people and major financial losses to the Company. The Company has implemented a strict HSE management system, in an effort to avoid such risks as much as possible. Meanwhile, the main assets and inventories of the Company have been insured. However, such measures may not shield the Company from financial losses or adverse impact resulting from such contingencies.

Investment Risk: Petroleum and chemical sector is a capital intensive industry. Although the Company adopted a prudent investment strategy and conducted rigorous feasibility study on each investment project, certain investment risk may exist resulting that expected returns may not be achieved due to major changes in factors such as market environment, prices of equipment and raw materials, and construction period during the implementation of the projects.

Exchange Rate: At present, China implements an administered floating exchange rate regime based on market supply and demand with reference to a basket of currencies in terms of the exchange rate of RMB. As the Company outsources a significant portion of crude oil in foreign currency which are based on US dollar-denominated international prices, fluctuations in the value of Renminbi against US dollars and certain other foreign currencies may affect our purchasing costs of crude oil.

9.3 Explanation for changes in significant accounting policies

√ applicable inapplicable

9.3.1 Changes in accounting policies on the financial statements under ASBE

In accordance with China Accounting Standards for Business Enterprises Bulletin No.3 (Bulletin No.3) issued in 2009 and the Notice on the Preparation of the 2009 Annual Report of Listed and Non-listed Companies (Cai Kuai [2009]16), which was issued during the year ended 31 December 2009, the Group changed the following significant accounting policies:

(1) Change in presentation of income statement and statement of changes in equity

Additional account captions, other comprehensive income and total comprehensive income, were included in the income statement under earnings per share. Other comprehensive income represents the after tax effect of total gains and losses, which have been not recognised in the net profit according to ASBE. Total comprehensive income represents the aggregate amount of net profit and other comprehensive income. The above changes have also been applied to the Group's consolidated income statement with account captions, total comprehensive income attributable to the equity shareholders of the Company and total comprehensive income attributable to minority interests, presented below the total comprehensive income.

The item of gains and losses recognised directly in equity and its breakdowns are deleted from the item of changes for the year in the statement of changes in equity. An item of other comprehensive income is added to show the changes of other comprehensive income occurred during the year.

Comparative figures have been restated to confirm with the above new change of presentation in the income statement and statement of changes in equity. Please see the income statement and statement of changes in equity for details.

(2) Segment reporting

Bulletin No.3 requires segment disclosure to be based on the way that the Group's chief operating decision maker manages the Group, with the amounts reported for each reportable segment being the measures reported to the Group's chief operating decision maker for the purposes of assessing segment performance and making decisions about operating matters. This contrasts with the presentation of segment information in prior years which was based on a disaggregation of the Group's financial statements into segments based on related products and services and on geographical areas. However, the adoption of Bulletin No.3 has not resulted in any significant changes to the presentation of segment information since the identification and presentation of reportable segments in prior periods were consistent with Bulletin No.3.

9.3.2 Changes in accounting policies on the financial statements under IFRS

The International Accounting Standards Board has issued certain new and revised IFRS that are first effective for the current accounting period of the Group. The new accounting policies and new disclosures resulting from the initial application of these standards or developments to the extent that they are relevant to the Group are summarised as follows:

- (i) As a result of the adoption of revised IAS 1 "Presentation of Financial Statements" ("revised IAS 1"), details of changes in equity during the year arising from transactions with equity shareholders in their capacity as such have been presented separately from all other income and expenses in a revised consolidated statement of changes in equity. All other items of income and expense are presented in the consolidated income statement, if they are recognised as part of profit or loss for the year, or otherwise in a new primary statement, the consolidated statement of comprehensive income. Corresponding amounts have been restated to conform to the new presentation.

- (ii) IFRS 8, Operating segments (“IFRS 8”), requires segment disclosure to be based on the way that the Group’s chief operating decision maker manages the Group, with the amounts reported for each reportable segment being the measures reported to the Group’s chief operating decision maker for the purposes of allocating resources to, and assessing the performance of the Group’s various lines of business. The adoption of IFRS 8 has not resulted in any significant changes to the presentation of segment information since the identification and presentation of reportable segments in prior periods were consistent with IFRS 8.
- (iii) As a result of the adoption of the amendments to IFRS 7, the financial statements include expanded disclosures about the fair value measurement of the Group’s financial instruments, categorising these fair value measurements into a three-level fair value hierarchy according to the extent to which they are based on observable market data.

The adoption of revised IAS 1, IFRS 8 and the amendments to IFRS 7 did not have any impact on the classification, recognition and measurement of the amounts recognised in the consolidated financial statements.

In prior years, property, plant and equipment were carried at revalued amount, being the fair value at the date of the revaluation less any subsequent accumulated depreciation and impairment losses. In 2009, property, plant and equipment are accounted for using the cost model, being the cost less any accumulated depreciation and impairment losses. This change is to align the Group’s accounting policy with industry peers to provide more relevant financial information to the users of the Group’s financial statements. This change has been applied retrospectively. Other than the elimination of the revaluation reserve by transferring the balance to retained earnings, this change in accounting policy has no effect on the financial condition as at 31 December 2008 and 2009, and the results of operation for the years then ended.

9.4 Details, adjusted amount, reason and impact of material accounting error

There is no material error in the current report period.

The formula of calculating annual interest: $I=B \times i$

Sinopec Corp. will not pay interest for Convertible Bonds which have been applied to be converted into A Shares on or before the relevant interest record dates.

The initial conversion price of the Convertible Bonds shall not be lower than (1) the average trading price of the A Shares of Sinopec Corp. within 20 trading days preceding the date of publication of the Offering Document (in the event that during such 20 trading days, the share price has been adjusted due to ex-rights or ex-dividend, the closing price of each of these trading days shall be adjusted with reference to the share price after ex-rights or ex-dividend), and (2) the average trading price of the A Shares of Sinopec Corp. on the trading day preceding the date of the Offering Document of the Convertible Bonds. It will be proposed at a general meeting for the Shareholders to authorise the Board to determine the actual initial conversion price with reference to the market conditions prior to the issuance of the Convertible Bonds and in consultation with the sponsor (the lead underwriter).

2. Adjustments to initial conversion price

The conversion price is subject to adjustment, upon the occurrence of certain prescribed events which affect the share capital of Sinopec Corp., including but not limited to scrip dividend, capitalization issue, issue of new shares, rights issue or cash dividend payment (excluding share issuance as a result of conversion of the Convertible Bonds). The initial conversion price will be adjusted based on the following formulas:

Scrip dividend or capitalization issue: $P1=P0/(1+n)$;

Issue of new Shares or rights issue: $P1= (P0+A \times k)/(1+k)$;

The two above occurring concurrently: $P1= (P0+A \times k)/(1+n+k)$;

Distribution of cash dividend: $P1=P0-D$;

The announcement will indicate the date of adjustment to the conversion price, adjustment method and suspension period of share conversion (if required). An announcement will also be published (if required) on the website of the Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited if it is required by the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on the Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited and the Articles of Association of Sinopec Corp.. If the conversion price adjustment date is on or after the CB Holder's application for conversion, and before the share registration date, then such conversion will be based on the adjusted conversion price.

In the event that the rights and benefits of the CB Holders derived from share conversion rights are affected by the change in the Company's share class, quantity and/or shareholders' interest due to the possible share repurchase, consolidation, separation or any other action which may be taken by Sinopec Corp.. Sinopec Corp. will adjust the conversion price based on the principles of fairness, justice, equality and protection of the CB Holders' rights. An announcement will also be published (if required) on the website of the Hong Kong Stock Exchange if it is required by the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on the Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited and the Articles of Association of Sinopec Corp.. Share conversion will be restored for application based on the revised conversion price on the trading date after the registration date (i.e. the effective date of the adjustment to the conversion price). If the adjustment date is prior to the registration date and on or after the share conversion application date, the share conversion application shall be executed based on the price after the adjustment.

(10) Conversion method of fractional share

The number of shares to be requested by the CB Holders for conversion shall be in whole number. For any year in which interest is accrued, Sinopec Corp. may redeem the Convertible Bonds upon first time when the conditions for redemption are satisfied. If the redemption right is not exercised when first time the conditions for redemption are satisfied, such redemption right shall not be exercised in the relevant year.

- i: Coupon interest rate of the Convertible Bonds; and
- t: Number of days of interest accrued, i.e. actual calendar days from the last interest payment date to the redemption date (excluding the redemption date).

I. Summary of Key Information

(I) Transaction Risks

The Transaction is conducted based on the principles of equality, fairness and openness, without concealing and deception. However, in consideration of the market system risk, market fluctuation risk and policy risk, the information below is hereby presented, and investors are advised to pay full attention.

1. Consideration fairness risk

In respect of the Share Acquisition, the consideration of the Target Shares is determined with reference to the reserve data in the Technical Report, and the final consideration is determined by both parties through negotiation on the basis of equality and fairness.

Due to the existence of time difference between the Valuation Date, execution date of transaction agreements and the Completion Date, as well as the uncertainty of international oil price and market fluctuation from time to time, any decrease of the international oil price or any decline of the value of relevant assets will lead to a decline in the value of the Target Shares, and adversely affect the fairness of the consideration.

2. Oil reserve valuation fluctuation risk

In respect of the valuation of the oil reserves of SSI, the reserve valuer has taken internationally accepted approaches, on an independent, fair and objective standpoint. However, any drop in the international oil price, on which the valuation was based, will lead to a drop in the value of the equity interest of SSI and a decrease in the value of the Target Shares.

3. Profitability fluctuation risk

After the completion of the Transaction, the Target Company will be consolidated into the financial statements of Sinopec Corp. The Transaction will improve the financial performance of Sinopec Corp. However, any negative market change may unfavorably affect the overall profitability of Sinopec Corp.

4. Approval and third-party consent risk

Pursuant to the Shanghai Listing Rules and the Hong Kong Listing Rules, the Transaction shall be proposed to the Independent Shareholders of Sinopec Corp. for their review, and shall be approved with the consent of a majority of the Independent Shareholders who present at the general meeting. According to the Shanghai Listing Rules, the New Connected Transactions shall be submitted to the Independent Shareholders of Sinopec Corp. for their review, and shall be approved with the consent of a majority of the Independent Shareholders who present at the general meeting.

According to relevant regulations, upon the approval by the Independent Shareholders, the following approvals and registrations are required for the Transaction: (1) the approval of the NDRC for the outbound investment project and its changes relating to the Transaction; (2) the approval of the MOFCOM for the outbound investments relating to the Transaction; and (3) the approval and/or registration of Beijing Administration of Foreign Exchange for the foreign currencies and outgoing remittances relating to the Transaction.

In addition, the written consent from BOC Hong Kong as the agent is required for the completion of the Share Acquisition.

The Transaction shall not be completed until all the aforesaid approvals, registrations and written consents have been obtained.

5. Asset ownership

According to the representations and warranties made by SOOGL under the Purchase Agreement, the Target Shares are duly issued and fully paid, and are free from any major disputes on the ownership, any third party interest or other encumbrance on the transfer of the ownership. According to the terms and conditions of the Production Sharing Agreement entered into between the Target Company and its partners and other relevant legal documents, the Target Company lawfully owns certain interests in Block 18, without incurring any third party interests.

6. Mining rights ownership and restrictions or disputes

According to the representations and warranties made by SOOGL under the Purchase Agreement and the terms and conditions of the Production Sharing Agreement entered into between the Target Company and its partners and other relevant legal documents, SOOGL lawfully owns the rights of exploration, exploitation and production of oil in Block 18, and the relevant exploitation and production facilities will not be expropriated or nationalized by the Angolan government. Sonangol E.P. as the holder of the concession of oil blocks in Angola has consented on the Share Acquisition.

7. Uncertainty of the value of mining rights and the rate of return on the development

Block 18 is currently at production stage. The Technical Report issued by Ryder Scott indicates that by the end of November 2009, the remaining recoverable reserves of the net economic interests of SSI at the east zone (Greater Plutonio) of Block 18 are as follows: the total proved reserves are 102.49 million barrels (mmbbl), in which the proved developed reserves are 79.04 million barrels and the proved undeveloped reserves 23.45 million barrels; and the probable reserves are 67.24 million barrels. However, the volume of the crude oil which can be actually exploited may be below such estimates. In addition, the uncertain geological, climatic and environmental factors may increase the exploitation costs and lower the unit rate of exploitation income.

(II) Impact on Sinopec Corp.

1. To expand the upstream scale and strengthen the upstream capacity

Block 18 is divided into east zone and west zone. The east zone of Block 18 is one of the most large-scaled deep water oil assets in production in West Africa and even in the world, with the highest reserves and production volume standard among the project of similar type. Block 18 is now in stable production phase. After the completion of the Transaction, based on the calculation of the consolidated model, the crude oil production and reserve scale of the Company will be increased substantially, and the upstream capacity of the Company will be strengthened.

Commercial discovery was announced in west zone of Block 18 in December 2005. The West Zone is now in the development preparation phase and expected that west zone will potentially increase new crude oil production and reserves to the Company. As at 30 November 2009, the contingent reserves shared by SSI at the west zone of Block 18 are: the 1C contingent resources are 38.31 mmbbl and 2Ci contingent resources are 49.54 mmbbl.

2. To build an overseas business platform, enhance the international operation capability and improve the international competitiveness

Currently, Sinopec Corp. focuses its upstream operation in China. Take the Transaction as an opportunity, Sinopec Corp. set up SIPL to be a unified platform of the exploration of overseas business. The assets involved in the Transaction are located in deep water area of Angola, Africa. Angola is one of the member states of OPEC, the deep water area of which is one of the world's most rapidly developing areas in oil and gas reserves and production volume. Through the Transaction, Sinopec Corp. enters into one of the world's most promising oil and gas basins in exploration and production, which further establishes the solid basis of building a global asset portfolio with high quality. Through this overseas asset acquisition, Sinopec Corp. not only obtains a large-scaled overseas oil and gas asset, but also attains and absorbs relevant experiences in human resource, management system and business operation in overseas upstream operations. The international management standard and international competitive advantage of Sinopec Corp. will be further strengthened.

3. To improve the profitability and long-term investment value for the shareholders

The Transaction will help improve the financial performance of Sinopec Corp. and maximize the long-term investment value for the shareholders. The highest daily production capacity of east zone of Block 18 reaches

0.24 million barrels (mmbbl), and it is now in stable production phase. Despite the impact of production restrictions of OPEC, the annually average production volume per day of Block 18 reached 0.1591 mmbbl in 2009. The net profit of SSI for the eleven months ended 30 November 2009 amounted to RMB 1.981 billion, and the net profit ratio reached 20.9%. The Transaction plays a positive role in increasing the revenue, net profit ratio standard and cash revenue of Sinopec Corp.

4. To reduce continuing connected transactions in respect of production and operation

The implementation of the Transaction will reduce the continuing connected transactions under the mutual supply agreements between Sinopec Corp. and China Petrochemical Corporation. For details, see Part (VII) "Reasons for the Connected Transactions and Impact of the Connected Transactions on Sinopec Corp.- Impact on the Independency of Sinopec Corp.- Impact on the Connected Transactions of Sinopec Corp."

(III) Transactions with the Same Connected Person

In 2008 and 2009, there were three connected transactions between the Company and China Petrochemical Corporation and its subsidiaries on 27 June 2008, 27 March 2009 and 21 August 2009 respectively; transaction amount is RMB 1,564,480,000 for acquisition, RMB 1,839,380,000 for acquisition (simultaneously RMB 157,470,000 for a disposal of assets) and RMB 3,945,810,000 for acquisition. For details, see Part (XI) “Details of Historical Connected Transactions”.

(IV) Other Issues that Require the Attention of Investors

1. All the Directors (including the independent non-executive Directors) are of the view that terms of the Transaction and the New connected Transactions were based on normal commercial terms, the Transaction and the New Connected Transactions are parts of the ordinary course of business of Sinopec Corp. and the consideration for the Transaction is fair, reasonable and in the interests of Sinopec Corp. and its Shareholders as a whole. Non-executive Directors of Sinopec Corp., Mr. Su Shulin, Mr. Zhang Yaocang, Mr. Cao Yaofeng, Mr. Li Chunguang and Mr. Liu Yun, being connected directors by virtue of their directorship in China Petrochemical Corporation, abstained from voting at the Board meeting at which the Transaction and the New Connected Transactions was voted by the Board.
2. The financial statements prepared in respect of the Target Company for the year ended 31 December 2008 and eleven months ended 30 November 2009 comply with the “China Enterprise Accounting Rules - Basic Rules” and the 38 specific accounting rules which was issued by the Ministry of Finance on 15 February 2006, the following Guide on the Application of the China Enterprise Accounting Rules, the Explanation on the China Enterprise Accounting Rules and other related stipulations, which truly and completely reflect the financial situations, operational achievements and cash flows of the Target Company. Such financial statements have been prepared by KPMG Huazhen with an unqualified opinion.

We may use certain terms in this announcement, such as contingent resources, that the SEC’s guidelines strictly prohibit us from including in filings with the SEC. U.S. Investors are urged to exercise caution in relation to, and not to place undue reliance on, any such disclosure that is not in compliance with the SEC rules.

The turbidite rocks in the block are the main reservoirs.

There have been 11 exploratory wells and test wells completed in Block 18, and all of them are successful. Eight oil fields have been discovered, including Platina, Plutonio, Cobalto, Paladio, Cromio, Galio, Chumbo and Cesio. The development area is divided into the east zone and the west zone which are independent from each other. The east zone, that is the Greater Plutonio Development Zone, has six oil fields, including Plutonio, Galio, Cromio, Paladio, Cobalto and Cesio and the oil area is 111.8 sq. km. In the zone, a commercial discovery was announced in April 2002. It has entered into formal production since October 2007. It is now in the production phase. VII. Reasons for the Connected Transactions and Impact of the Connected Transactions on Sinopec Corp.

(I) Reasons for the Transaction and the business and financial impact on Sinopec Corp.

1. To expand the upstream scale and strengthen the upstream capacity

Block 18 is divided into east zone and west zone. The east zone of Block 18 is one of the most large-scaled deep water oil assets in production in West Africa and even in the world, with the highest reserves and production volume standard among the project of similar type. Block 18 is now in stable production phase. After the completion of the Transaction, calculated based on consolidated model, the crude oil reserve scale of the Company will be increased substantially, and the upstream capacity of the Company will be strengthened.

	Proven reserve ¹ mmbbl)	Oil production ² (1,000 barrel/Day)
The Company	2,820.00	825.07
SSI	102.49	72.52
Consolidated data	2,922.49	897.59
Increase %	3.63%	8.79%

Note

1. The proven reserve is the data as at 31 December 2009; the proven net interest reserve of SSI is the data as at 30 November 2009
2. The daily oil production of the Company is the yearly average production volume as at 31 December 2009; the daily net interest production of SSI is the yearly average production volume as at 31 December 2009

In addition, as at 30 November 2009, the net interest contingent reserve attributed to SSI reached 67.24 mmbbl.

Commercial discovery was announced in west zone of Block 18 in December 2005. The West Zone is now in the development preparation phase. It is expected that west zone will potentially add new oil reserves to the Company. As at 30 November 2009, the contingent reserves shared by SSI at the west zone of Block 18 are: the 1C contingent resources are 38.31 mmbbl and 2Ci contingent resources are 49.54 mmbbl.

2. To build an overseas business platform, enhance the international operation capability and improve the international competitiveness

Currently, Sinopec Corp. focuses its upstream operation in China. Take the Transaction as opportunity, Sinopec Corp. set up SIPL to be a unified platform of the exploration of overseas business. The assets involved in the Transaction are located in deep water area, Angola, Africa. Angola is one of the member states of OPEC, the deep water area of which is one of the world's most rapidly developing areas in oil and gas reserves and production volume. Through the Transaction, Sinopec Corp. enters one of the world's most promising oil and gas basins in exploration and production, which further establishes the solid basis of building a global asset portfolio with high quality. Through this overseas asset acquisition, Sinopec Corp. not only obtains a large-scaled overseas oil and gas asset, but also attains and absorbs relevant experiences in human resource, management system and business operation in overseas upstream operations. The international management standard and international competitive advantage of Sinopec Corp. will be further strengthened.

3. To improve the profitability and long-term investment value for the shareholders

The Transaction will help improve the financial performance of Sinopec Corp. and maximize the long-term investment value for the shareholders. The highest daily production capacity of east zone of Block 18 reaches 240,000 barrels (mmbbl), and it is now in stable production phase. Despite the impact of production restrictions of OPEC, the annually average production volume per day of Block 18 reaches 159,100 barrels in 2009. The net profit of SSI for the eleven months ended 30 November 2009 amounted to RMB 1.981 billion, and the net profit ratio reached 20.9%. The Transaction plays a positive role in increasing the revenue, net profit ratio standard and cash revenue of Sinopec Corp.

4. To reduce continuing connected transactions in respect of production and operation

The implementation of the Transaction will reduce the continuing connected transactions under the mutual supply agreements between Sinopec Corp. and China Petrochemical Corporation. For details, see para (II) of this chapter "Impact on the Independency of Sinopec Corp. — Impact on the Connected Transactions of Sinopec Corp."

- (II) Impact on the Independency of Sinopec Corp.

1. Impact on the Connected Transactions of Sinopec Corp.

The Transaction will reduce the transaction amount of the continuing connected transactions between the Company and China Petrochemical Corporation (and its subsidiaries) under the mutual supply agreement (“Mutual Supply Agreement”). Prior to the completion of the Transaction, pursuant to the Mutual Supply Agreement executed between Sinopec Corp. and China Petrochemical Corporation in June 2000 and its supplementary agreements, Sinopec Corp. has purchased crude oil from SSI on an on-going basis. The relevant connected transactions amounted to USD 340 million (equivalent to approximately RMB 2,319 million), USD 2,429 million (equivalent to approximately RMB 16,585 million) and USD 1,606 million (equivalent to approximately RMB 10,968 million) in 2007, 2008 and 2009 respectively. After the completion of the Transaction, Sinopec Corp. will continue with the aforesaid transactions, and the relevant transaction amount is primarily expected to reach USD 2,044 million (equivalent to approximately RMB 13,956 million), USD 2,190 million (equivalent to approximately RMB 14,953 million) and USD 2,190 million (equivalent to approximately RMB 14,953 million) in 2010, 2011 and 2012 respectively. After the completion of the Transaction, according to the Shanghai Listing Rules and the Hong Kong Listing Rules, the Target Company will be controlled by Sinopec

Corp. and consolidated into the financial statements of Sinopec Corp. The aforesaid continuing transactions will no longer constitute continuing connected transactions between the Company and China Petrochemical Corporation (and its subsidiaries).

Prior to the Transaction, a number of loans and guarantees existed between SSI and the subsidiaries of China Petrochemical Corporation. In order to protect Sinopec Corp. from potential loss, SOOGL and SHI entered into a Payment Deed, pursuant to which: (1) if SSI makes any payment under or in connection with its obligations of guarantee or cash flow charge, SOOGL shall immediately pay to SHI an amount equal to 55% of the aggregate amount so paid; (2) if SSI makes any payment under or in connection with its obligation of providing loan to SSI15, SSI17 and SSI18, SOOGL shall immediately pay to SHI an amount equal to 55% of the aggregate amount so paid; under the above basis, if SSI receives any funds from SSI15, SSI17 and SSI18 in repayment or prepayment of the above amounts that SSI paid, SHI shall immediately pay to SOOGL an amount equal to 55% of the aggregate funds so received from SSI15, SSI17 and SSI18; and (3) except otherwise required by law, all payments by SOOGL to SHI shall be made without any tax deduction. If any tax must be deducted, SOOGL shall pay and compensate SHI such additional amounts equal to the amount being deducted. The New Connected Transactions include (1) Century Bright, as one of the lenders in the syndication, provides SSI with a loan of not more than USD 650 million (equivalent to approximately RMB 4,438 million), for which SSI provides charge over cash flow and assigned contractual right as security. As at 30 November 2009, the outstanding balance (with accrued interest) of such loan amounted to USD 383,051,700 (equivalent to approximately RMB 2,615,477,200); (2) SSI provides SOOGL with a guarantee and/or a charge over cash flow, as a security for the loan provided by SOOGL to SSI15, SSI17 and SSI18, without any principal amount limited. As of 30 November 2009, the outstanding balance (with accrued interest) of the loan provided by SOOGL to SSI15, SSI17 and SSI18 amounted to USD 22.6857 million (equivalent to approximately RMB 154,898,100); SSI provides SOOGL with a charge over its cash flow as a security for the loan provided by SOOGL to New Bright and Sonangol E.P., the principal amount being USD 933,286,400 (equivalent to approximately RMB 6,372,479,500). As of 30 November 2010, the outstanding balance (with accrued interest) of the loan provides by SOOGL to New Bright and Sonangol E.P. amounted to USD 938,903,400 (equivalent to approximately RMB 6,410,832,200); and (3) SSI provides SSI15, SSI17 and SSI18 with a loan, without any principal amount limit; As at 30 November 2009, the outstanding balance (with accrued interest) of such loan amounted to USD 0. After the completion of the Transaction, SSI will be controlled by Sinopec Corp. According to the Shanghai Listing Rules and the Hong Kong Listing Rules, the subsidiaries of China Petrochemical Corporation will become connected persons of SSI, and the aforesaid loans and guarantees will constitute new continuing connected transactions between Sinopec Corp. and China Petrochemical Corporation as a result of the Transaction. Pursuant to Rule 14A.41 of the Hong Kong Listing Rules, the New Connected Transactions shall comply with reporting and announcement requirements. Pursuant to the Shanghai Listing Rules, the New Connected Transactions shall comply with the requirements of reporting, announcement and approval by the Independent Shareholders. For details, see Part (II) “Basic Information of the Connected Transaction - New Connected Transactions”.

2. Impact on the Non-Competition
