PROTECTIVE ANNOUNCES 1Q2001 EARNINGS

BIRMINGHAM, Alabama (April 26, 2001) Protective Life Corporation (NYSE:PL) announced first quarter results today. The Company's diluted operating income in the 2001 first quarter was $.58 per share. In the first quarter of last year, the Company's operating income was $.39 per share excluding income from the sale of the Company's Hong Kong affiliate, and $.63 per share including the income.

Drayton Nabers, Jr., Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer of the Company stated: "Overall we were pleased with the quarter. Our West Coast, Financial Institutions, and Dental Divisions each reported good earnings, and improved year over year. Our Acquisitions Division benefited from the coinsurance of a block of policies from Standard Insurance Company. While results in our Individual Life Division were down slightly in the quarter, we continue to invest in new strategic distribution opportunities for the Division, and we are pleased with the progress we are making with these ventures."

The table below sets forth operating income before income tax by business segment for the periods shown:

This release includes forward-looking statements which express expectations of future events and/or results. All statements based on future expectations rather than on historical facts are forward-looking statements that involve a number of risks and uncertainties, and the Company cannot give assurance that such statements will prove to be correct. The factors which could affect the Company's future results include, but are not limited to, general economic conditions and the following trends and uncertainties: we are exposed to many types of risks that could negatively affect our business; we operate in a mature, highly competitive industry, which could limit our ability to gain or maintain our position in the industry; a ratings downgrade could adversely affect our ability to compete; our policy claims fluctuate from year to year; we could be forced to sell investments at a loss to cover policyholder withdrawals; interest-rate fluctuations could negatively affect our spread income or otherwise impact our business; insurance companies are highly regulated; tax law changes could adversely affect our ability to compete with non-insurance products or reduce the demand for certain insurance products; financial services companies are frequently the targets of litigation, including class action litigation, which could result in substantial judgements; a decrease in sales or persistency could negatively affect our results; our investments are subject to risks; our growth from acquisitions involves risks; we are dependent on the performance of others; and our reinsurance program involves risks. Please refer to Exhibit 99 of the Company's most recent Form 10-K/10-Q for more information about these factors which could affect future results.
