Item 7.01. Regulation FD Disclosure.

On February 6, 2014, Electronic Arts Inc. (“EA”) posted a blog on its website at www.ea.com/news, which announced that the planned release dates for Titanfall, a game being developed by Respawn Entertainment and published by EA, has been delayed until March 25, 2014 in North America and March 28, 2014 in Europe for Microsoft’s Xbox 360 video game console. Based on current estimates, these planned release date changes will not affect our fourth quarter fiscal year 2014 non-GAAP guidance for revenues or earnings. The planned release dates for the game of March 11, 2014 in North America and March 13, 2014 in Europe remain unchanged for the Xbox One and PC versions of the game. A copy of the blog posting is attached hereto as Exhibit 99.1.

These forward-looking statements are subject to business and economic risk and reflect management’s current expectations, and involve subjects that are inherently uncertain and difficult to predict. Our actual results could differ materially from expected results expressed in forward-looking statements. We will not necessarily update information if any forward-looking statement later turns out to be inaccurate. Risks and uncertainties that may affect our future results include, but are not limited to, those discussed in our Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the fiscal quarter ended December 31, 2013 as filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”) on February 4, 2014, as well as in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2013 as filed with the SEC on May 22, 2013 and in other documents we have filed with the SEC.
