GLENCAIRN REPORTS 2006 FINANCIAL RESULTS

SIGNATURE

Edgar Filing: Glencairn Gold CORP - Form 6-K

Glencairn Gold Corporation reports its financial results for the year ended December 31, 2006 (currency figures in U.S. dollars). The consolidated financial statements along with management's discussion and analysis are available for viewing on the Glencairn website at www.glencairngold.com. The documents have been filed with SEDAR (www.sedar.com) and should be available on SEDAR no later than 24 hours from dissemination of this release. The documents will be mailed to shareholders along with the Company's Annual Report.

The following is a summary of financial results for 2006 compared to 2005 results:

Revenue increased 169% to $52.2 million in 2006 compared to revenue of $19.4 million in 2005

Gold sales increased 100% to 86,536 ounces, with the first full year of production from Bellavista and the mid-year acquisition of Libertad, compared to 43,228 ounces in 2005

Gold production increased 100% to 86,420 ounces compared to 43,349 ounces in 2005

Earnings from mine operations at Bellavista, Limon and Libertad totalled $2.2 million compared to $1.6 million from Bellavista and Limon in 2005

Cash flow generated by operations, before changes in non-cash working capital, totalled $5.3 million in 2006 compared to a negative $4.2 million in 2005

Loss for 2006 was $7.4 million, including a $6.4 million loss at the Libertad Mine and a $2.8 million provision covering estimated future remediation of properties the Company holds in Manitoba, compared to a $4.1 million loss in 2005

Cash operating costs per ounce of gold sold increased to $452 per ounce in 2006 compared to $369 per ounce in 2005, primarily due to the negative impact of cash operating costs of $776 per ounce at the Libertad Mine
Average realized gold price in 2006 was $603 per ounce compared to $448 in 2005

The net loss was a disappointment, but we had anticipated an initial negative impact on earnings from the Libertad Mine, said President and CEO Peter Tagliamonte. However, because of significant growth in terms of gold production and sales, Glencairn achieved record high revenues and operating earnings from the Limon and Bellavista Mines. We also built a strong, experienced operations team.

Essentially, 2006 was a base-building year. Along with Libertad and its large land package of underexplored prospects, we acquired 60% of Cerro Quema, an advanced gold project in Panama, and the Mestiza Project near our Limon Mine, Mr. Tagliamonte noted.

Glencairn acquired Libertad in mid-2006. In spite of a series of operational improvements, metallurgical tests confirmed that conversion to a milling circuit from its current crush/heap leach configuration would solve the low (40% range) gold recovery problems. In February, 2007, the Company announced the conversion/expansion program at Libertad contingent on positive scoping and feasibility studies. The Company suspended operations at Libertad at the end of March and work continues on the scoping study for the mill conversion/expansion program.

We believe that, pending a positive scoping study, the conversion/expansion plan for Libertad will be the correct course of action to transform Libertad into a profitable, sustainable operation for Glencairn in the years ahead, Mr. Tagliamonte said.

The Bellavista and Limon Mines generated earnings from mining operations of $7.5 million in 2006, although actual production was lower than forecast. A key goal for the Company in 2007 is to optimize operations at both mines.

Bellavista Mine

Gold sold during 2006 totalled 38,830 ounces at a realized price of $595 per ounce for total revenue of $23.1 million. The mine generated earnings from mining operations of $5.6 million. Cash operating costs per ounce sold were $316, down from the $351 level of the previous year. Gold output was lower than expected in 2006 because of a delay in the startup of a mill and mechanical problems in the secondary crusher that affected first-half production and lowered overall recoveries. Recoveries are expected to improve in 2007.

Limon Mine

Gold sold during 2006 totalled 33,067 ounces at a realized price of $605 per ounce for total revenue of $20.0 million. The mine generated earnings from mining operations of $1.9 million. Cash operating costs per ounce sold increased to $469 from $370 in 2005. This increase was due primarily to labor disputes that resulted in 43 days downtime in the first quarter, the equivalent of 4,420 ounces of lost production.

During the year, the Company developed the Santa Pancha Deposit, a new source of feed for the Limon Mill. Commercial production was achieved at Santa Pancha in March, 2007.

Libertad Mine

Gold sold during 2006 totalled 14,639 ounces at a realized price of $617 per ounce for total revenue of $9.0 million. The mine generated a loss from mining operations of $5.2 million. Cash operating costs per ounce sold were $776.

Following the acquisition in July, Glencairn immediately initiated improvements that included accelerated stripping in the main pit, upgrading the crushing and screening circuit and construction of permanent heap leach pads. Extensive metallurgical tests aimed at improving recoveries were immediately undertaken as well. The testwork determined that additional crushing of Libertad mineralized material would not generate acceptable recoveries and that grinding would increase gold recoveries to greater than 90%, more than double the rates of the current crush/heap leach circuit. As previously announced, a bulk sample metallurgical test carried out at the Limon Mill and supervised by AMEC Americas Limited confirmed that approximately 90% gold recoveries can be achieved by grinding Libertad material to 80% passing 200 mesh and leaching 38 hours.

The metallurgical analysis produced the real breakthrough for our Libertad Mine, said Mr. Tagliamonte. Our internal trial studies based on the mill concept suggest positive economics for Libertad.

Subsequent to year-end, the Company announced plans to suspend mining operations and, pending positive scoping and feasibility studies, convert to conventional milling.
