PROQUEST COMPANY UPDATES PROPOSAL TO AMEND 2003 PROQUEST STRATEGIC PERFORMANCE PLAN

ANN ARBOR, Mich., May 14, 2004 - ProQuest Company (NYSE: PQE), a leading publisher of information solutions for the education, automotive, and power equipment markets, today announced modifications to the proposal to amend its 2003 ProQuest Strategic Performance Plan, and the related option grant to senior executives that will be voted upon at the upcoming Annual Meeting of Shareholders to be held on May 26, 2004.

The modifications to the proposal reduce the total number of additional shares being requested under the company's 2003 Strategic Performance Plan from 1,900,000 to 1,532,000, and limit the maximum number of stock options any one participant may receive in any calendar year to 750,000 shares. Based on these modifications, the award to Alan Aldworth, president and chief executive officer of ProQuest Company, will be reduced by 368,000 shares and all other terms of the award will remain the same. No other modifications were made to the proposal.

"By reducing the number of shares in the option grant," said Aldworth, "the Board and I want to demonstrate responsiveness to stockholder feedback, as well as our commitment to the long-term success of ProQuest Company and its strategic goals. I believe this plan reinforces our company philosophy of accountability, and focuses our leadership on consistent long-term growth."

"The Compensation Committee and the Board of Directors of ProQuest Company have strong confidence in Aldworth, the chief executive officer of ProQuest Company, and his management team, several members of which have recently joined the company," said William Oberndorf, Chairman of the Compensation Committee of the Board for ProQuest Company. "The Board believes that establishing a long-term incentive for senior management is instrumental in retaining this leadership group, and in reinforcing our commitment to deliver stockholder value."

This long-term incentive, disclosed in Proposal No. 2 of ProQuest Company's Notice of Year 2004 Annual Meeting and Proxy Statement, provides option grants to six senior executives linked to business performance hurdles over a 5-year period. The grants were made contingent upon shareholder approval of Proposal No. 2 regarding amendments to the ProQuest Strategic Performance Plan.

"Since announcing this plan we have engaged in many thoughtful conversations with our stockholders," said Aldworth. "They appreciated the opportunity for input, recognized our intention to link rewards to long-term shareholder value, and provided us with meaningful feedback."

A detailed description of the grants is provided in ProQuest Company's Notice of Year 2004 Annual Meeting and Proxy Statement that was mailed to shareholders and filed with the SEC on April 19, 2004. The grants are made under the ProQuest Strategic Performance Plan, and the modifications are to Proposal No. 2 of the Notice of Year 2004 Annual Meeting and Proxy Statement.

ProQuest Company investors are urged to read the definitive proxy statement in conjunction with information provided in this press release because it contains important information about the company and the proposals to be addressed at the Annual Meeting of Stockholders. The definitive proxy statement and any other documents filed by the company with the SEC may be obtained free of charge at the SEC's web site at www.sec.gov, or on the company website at www.proquestcompany.com. In addition, investors and security holders may obtain free copies of the documents filed by the company with the SEC by contacting the ProQuest Company investor relations department at (734) 997-4910. Investors and security holders are urged to read the definitive proxy statement before making any voting decision with respect to the proposals to be addressed at the Annual Meeting.

ProQuest Company encourages stockholders to vote their shares prior to the upcoming Annual Meeting.

ABOUT PROQUEST COMPANY

ProQuest Company (NYSE: PQE) is based in Ann Arbor, Mich., and is a leading publisher of information solutions for the education, automotive and power equipment markets. We provide products and services to our customers through two business segments: Information and Learning and Business Solutions. Through our Information and Learning segment, which primarily serves the education market, we collect, organize and publish content from a wide range of sources including newspapers, periodicals and books.
