Dear Shareholder:

Putnam Master Intermediate Income Trust participated in the favorable bond markets created by equity investors' flight to safety during the first half of the fund's fiscal year, though to a lesser degree than portfolios with greater exposure to U.S. Treasury and top-rated corporate bonds.

This is as it should be; the fund's more aggressive positioning within the fixed-income spectrum is designed to provide higher levels of current income over time than more conservative portfolios. The tradeoff, of course, is that in market environments such as we are now experiencing, the fund's net asset value will tend to fare less well than its conservative siblings, though your fund's management team remains steadfast in its commitment to the fund's secondary objective of capital preservation.

In the following report, Fund Manager David Waldman reviews performance and strategy during the semiannual period and offers his insights on prospects for the remainder of fiscal 2001.

Respectfully yours,

/S/ JOHN A. HILL

REPORT FROM FUND MANAGEMENT

David L. Waldman
and the Core Fixed Income Team

Volatility dominated the U.S. economic environment during Putnam Master Intermediate Income Trust's semiannual period, which ended March 31, 2001. In the fall of 2000, a rapidly decelerating economy combined with sharp declines in the equity markets to signal an end to the Federal Reserve Board's short-term interest rate increases. U.S. bond markets rallied as investors became more averse to risk, moving assets into the relative safety of bonds and away from stocks. As 2001 approached, equities continued to lose ground while consumer confidence quickly deteriorated over uncertainty regarding the U.S. slowdown. In response to the sagging economy, the Fed adopted an aggressive easing policy, which resulted in a series of interest-rate reductions, totaling 1.5 percentage points in the first quarter 2001. This, along with a continued flight to quality by investors from the beleaguered equity markets, provided your fund with positive returns.

* HIGH YIELD BONDS BEGIN RECOVERY

In the fourth quarter of 2000, profit warnings and economic indicators suggesting a rapidly decelerating U.S. economy sent high-yield markets plunging, consistent with the performance of U.S. equity markets. Overall, the high-yield corporate sector was one of the weakest fixed-income sectors in 2000. However, the market environment for high-yield bonds changed dramatically when the Fed reduced rates in January.

The interest-rate cuts resuscitated performance of the non-Treasury sectors of the bond market, including high-yield bonds, which experienced a sharp rebound that endured through mid-February. Deteriorating economic and corporate fundamentals forced the sector to give back some of its gains in March, although it remained the strongest-performing fixed income sector for the first quarter 2001. Although the sector was unable to recoup all of its losses sustained in fourth quarter of 2000, our increased weighting to the sector beginning in December, benefited the fund once the rally began.

Investment-grade bonds advanced during the period, posting solid absolute gains in a volatile and uncertain economic environment. U.S. Treasuries were the best-performing issues in the fourth quarter of 2000 as the yield curve continued to reverse its inverted posture and the Fed adopted an easing bias.

Edgar Filing: PUTNAM MASTER INTERMEDIATE INCOME TRUST - Form N-30D

* FIXED-INCOME SECTOR SHINES

As equity markets plummeted, a flight to quality boosted the performance of U.S. Treasury bonds. Bond outperformance continued into 2001, facilitated by an aggressive Fed easing policy and continued equity market volatility. In January, the yield curve steepening began to accelerate, with short- and intermediate-term yields falling more than longer-term yields. The fund's focus on short- and intermediate-maturity fixed-income securities was a significant benefit to its performance during the period. As the yield curve dramatically steepened, shorter-maturity issues outperformed longer maturities.

In addition to Treasury securities, other investment-grade sectors benefited as investors found these higher-yielding securities more attractive. Corporate bonds represented the best-performing investment-grade sector in the first quarter of 2001, reversing some of their poor performance of last year. Despite increased volatility combined with higher prepayments, mortgage-backed securities generated attractive absolute returns, which contributed to the fund's overall performance. Asset-backed securities and commercial mortgage-backed securities performed relatively well during the period, and the increased weighting in these sectors was a small benefit to the fund as well.

* INTERNATIONAL MARKETS: MIXED RESULTS

Within the developed-market universe, global bonds advanced during the period. Escalating evidence of a global economic slowdown at year's end led to central banks' initiation of monetary easing cycles in the first quarter of 2001. Additionally, sovereign bonds benefited from growing investor risk aversion caused by steep equity-market declines. Specifically, holdings in Greece and New Zealand contributed to positive performance.

In the fourth quarter of 2000, the fund's currency exposure helped as investors' outlook for the U.S. economy grew gloomier and the U.S. dollar weakened, whereas in the first quarter of 2001, the U.S. dollar strengthened and the fund's non-U.S. currency exposure detracted from performance.

The semiannual period proved extremely volatile for emerging market bonds. An increase in geopolitical risks combined with slowing economic growth created uncertainty for emerging market investors. While the market rebounded in December and January along with the Fed's easing bias, liquidity issues in Argentina and Turkey lingered throughout the period. The fund's limited exposure to Argentina helped performance as the country's markets performed poorly in the wake of political and economic uncertainties. In addition, the fund's position in Russia, an outperforming country during the period, also contributed positively to performance.

* OUTLOOK POSITIVE FOR REST OF 2001

As we look toward the future, we expect that the economic environment will eventually stabilize and low inflation should remain a reality. Further interest-rate cuts by the Fed and the likelihood of a federal income-tax cut should help the economy rebound in the second half of 2001. With regard to the investment-grade sectors, we believe mortgage-backed securities should remain attractive, despite the uncertainty surrounding prepayments. High-yield bonds were temporarily paralyzed by fears of negative corporate earnings developments; however, these fears will most likely dissipate as the Fed continues to cut interest rates and the economy stabilizes. In addition, investors have begun to take notice of the value offered in the current yields of this sector and are reversing their previous cash outflow patterns.

Looking ahead at international markets, we remain cautious on Japan as we perceive little additional value in the Japanese bond market with interest rates returning to zero. In addition, we see value in core Europe as slowing growth should lead to lower yields. We have become more cautious on emerging-market debt, given the risks associated with specific countries. Recent U.S. equity-market declines have increased investor risk aversion, thereby diminishing opportunities for financing. With the probability of continued currency volatility, we have reduced the fund's non-U.S. currency exposure. Although some volatility and uncertainty may be in store, we believe the fund is well diversified and positioned to perform well the rest of the fiscal year.

The views expressed here are exclusively those of Putnam Management. They are not meant as investment advice. Although the described holdings were viewed favorably as of 3/31/01, there is no guarantee the fund will continue to hold these securities in the future. International investments are subject to certain risks, such as currency fluctuations, economic instability, and political developments. While the U.S. government backing of individual securities does not insure your principal, which will fluctuate, it does guarantee that the fund's government-backed holdings will make timely payments of interest and principal. Mortgage-backed securities in the portfolio may be subject to prepayment risk. The lower credit ratings of high-yield bonds reflect a greater possibility that adverse changes in the economy or poor performance by the issuers of these bonds will affect the issuer's ability to pay principal and interest.

A GUIDE TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

These sections of the report constitute the fund's financial statements.

The fund's portfolio lists all the fund's investments and their values as of the last day of the reporting period. Holdings are organized by asset type and industry sector, country, or state to show areas of concentration and diversification.

Statement of assets and liabilities shows how the fund's net assets and share price are determined. All investment and noninvestment assets are added together. Any unpaid expenses and other liabilities are subtracted from this total. The result is divided by the number of shares to determine the net asset value per share, which is calculated separately for each class of shares. (For funds with preferred shares, the amount subtracted from total assets includes the net assets allocated to remarketed preferred shares.)

Statement of operations shows the fund's net investment gain or loss for the reporting period. This is determined by adding up all the fund's earnings -- from dividends and interest income -- and subtracting its operating expenses. This statement also lists any net gain or loss the fund realized on the sales of its holdings and -- for holdings that remain in the portfolio -- any change in unrealized gains or losses over the period.

Statement of changes in net assets shows how the fund's net assets were affected by distributions to shareholders and by changes in the number of the fund's shares. It lists distributions and their sources (net investment income or realized capital gains) over the current reporting period and the most recent fiscal year-end. The distributions listed here may not match the sources listed in the Statement of operations because the distributions are determined on a tax basis and may be paid in a different period from the one in which they were earned.

Financial highlights provide an overview of the fund's investment results, per-share distributions, expense ratios, net investment income ratios and portfolio turnover in one summary table, reflecting the five most recent reporting periods. In a semiannual report, the highlight table also includes the current reporting period. For open-end funds, a separate table is provided for each share class.

Note 1 Significant accounting policies

Putnam Master Intermediate Income Trust (the "fund") is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, as a diversified, closed-end management investment company and is authorized to issue an unlimited number of shares. The fund's investment objective is to seek, with equal emphasis, high current income and relative stability of net asset value, by allocating its investments among the U.S. investment grade sector, high-yield sector and international sector.

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies consistently followed by the fund in the preparation of its financial statements. The preparation of financial statements is in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America and requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities in the financial statements and the reported amounts of increases and decreases in net assets from operations during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

A) Security valuation Investments for which market quotations are readily available are stated at market value, which is determined using the last reported sales price on its principal exchange, or if no sales are reported -- as in the case of some securities traded over-the-counter -- the last reported bid price. Securities quoted in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollars at the current exchange rate. Short-term investments having remaining maturities of 60 days or less are stated at amortized cost, which approximates market value. Other investments, including restricted securities, are stated at fair value following procedures approved by the Trustees. Market quotations are not considered to be readily available for certain debt obligations; such investments are stated at fair value on the basis of valuations furnished by an independent pricing service or dealers, approved by the Trustees, which determine valuations for normal institutional-size trading units of such securities using methods based on market transactions for comparable securities and variable relationships between securities that are generally recognized by institutional traders.

B) Joint trading account Pursuant to an exemptive order issued by the Securities and Exchange Commission, the fund may transfer uninvested cash balances into a joint trading account along with the cash of other registered investment companies and certain other accounts managed by Putnam Investment Management, LLC ("Putnam Management"), the fund's manager, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Putnam Investments, LLC. These balances may be invested in one or more repurchase agreements and/or short-term money market instruments.

C) Repurchase agreements The fund, or any joint trading account, through its custodian, receives delivery of the underlying securities, the market value of which at the time of purchase is required to be in an amount at least equal to the resale price, including accrued interest. Collateral for certain tri-party repurchase agreements is held at the counterparty's custodian in a segregated account for the benefit of the fund and the counterparty. Putnam Management is responsible for determining that the value of these underlying securities is at all times at least equal to the resale price, including accrued interest.

D) Security transactions and related investment income Security transactions are accounted for on the trade date (date the order to buy or sell is executed). Gains or losses on securities sold are determined on the identified cost basis.

Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis. Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date. Non-cash dividends, if any, are recorded at the fair market value of the securities received. Discounts on zero coupon bonds, original issue discount bonds, stepped-coupon bonds and payment in kind bonds are accreted according to the yield-to-maturity basis. Any premium resulting from the purchase of stepped-coupon securities is amortized on a yield-to-maturity basis.

E) Foreign currency translation The accounting records of the fund are maintained in U.S. dollars. The market value of foreign securities, currency holdings, and other assets and liabilities are recorded in the books and records of the fund after translation to U.S. dollars based on the exchange rates on that day. The cost of each security is determined using historical exchange rates. Income and withholding taxes are translated at prevailing exchange rates when accrued or incurred. The fund does not isolate that portion of realized or unrealized gains or losses resulting from changes in the foreign exchange rate on investments from fluctuations arising from changes in the market prices of the securities. Such gains and losses are included with the net realized and unrealized gain or loss on investments. Net realized gains and losses on foreign currency transactions represent net realized exchange gains or losses on closed forward currency contracts, disposition of foreign currencies and the difference between the amount of investment income and foreign withholding taxes recorded on the fund's books and the U.S. dollar equivalent amounts actually received or paid. Net unrealized appreciation and depreciation of assets and liabilities in foreign currencies arise from changes in the value of open forward currency contracts and assets and liabilities other than investments at the period end, resulting from changes in the exchange rate. Investments in foreign securities involve certain risks, including those related to economic instability, unfavorable political developments, and currency fluctuations, not present with domestic investments.

F) Forward currency contracts The fund may engage in forward currency contracts, which are agreements between two parties to buy and sell currencies at a set price on a future date. These contracts are used to protect against a decline in value relative to the U.S. dollar of the currencies in which its portfolio securities are denominated or quoted (or an increase in the value of a currency in which securities a fund intends to buy are denominated, when a fund holds cash reserves and short-term investments). The U.S. dollar value of forward currency contracts is determined using current forward currency exchange rates supplied by a quotation service. The market value of the contract will fluctuate with changes in currency exchange rates. The contract is "marked to market" daily and the change in market value is recorded as an unrealized gain or loss. When the contract is closed, the fund records a realized gain or loss equal to the difference between the value of the contract at the time it was opened and the value at the time it was closed. The fund could be exposed to risk if the value of the currency changes unfavorably, if the counterparties to the contracts are unable to meet the terms of their contracts or if the fund is unable to enter into a closing position.

G) Futures and options contracts The fund may use futures and options contracts to hedge against changes in the values of securities the fund owns or expects to purchase. The fund may also write options on securities it owns or in which it may invest to increase its current returns.

The potential risk to the fund is that the change in value of futures and options contracts may not correspond to the change in value of the hedged instruments. In addition, losses may arise from changes in the value of the underlying instruments, if there is an illiquid secondary market for the contracts, or if the counterparty to the contract is unable to perform. When the contract is closed, the fund records a realized gain or loss equal to the difference between the value of the contract at the time it was opened and the value at the time it was closed. Realized gains and losses on purchased options are included in realized gains and losses on investment securities.

Futures contracts are valued at the quoted daily settlement prices established by the exchange on which they trade. Exchange traded options are valued at the last sale price, or if no sales are reported, the last bid price for purchased options and the last ask price for written options. Options traded over-the-counter are valued using prices supplied by dealers.

H) Interest rate swap contracts. The fund may engage in interest rate swap agreements, which are arrangements between two parties to exchange cash flows based on a notional principal amount. The fund may enter into interest rate swap agreements, to manage the funds exposure to interest rates. Interest rate swaps are marked to market daily based upon quotations from market makers and the change, if any, is recorded as unrealized gain or loss. Payments made or received are included as part of interest income. Payments received or made upon early termination are recorded as realized gain or loss. The fund could be exposed to credit or market risk due to unfavorable changes in the fluctuation of interest rates or that the counterparty may default on its obligation to perform.

I) Federal taxes It is the policy of the fund to distribute all of its taxable income within the prescribed time and otherwise comply with the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code applicable to regulated investment companies. It is also the intention of the fund to distribute an amount sufficient to avoid imposition of any excise tax under Section

4982 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended. Therefore, no provision has been made for federal taxes on income, capital gains or unrealized appreciation on securities held nor for excise tax on income and capital gains.

At September 30, 2000, the fund had a capital loss carryover of approximately $47,316,000 available to offset future capital gains, if any. The amount of the carryover and the expiration dates are:

Loss Carryover	Expiration
$ 253,000	September 30, 2001
7,035,000	September 30, 2003
2,793,000	September 30, 2004
1,554,000	September 30, 2005
10,040,000	September 30, 2007
25,641,000	September 30, 2008

J) Distributions to shareholders Distributions to shareholders are recorded by the fund on the ex-dividend date. At certain times, the fund may pay distributions at a level rate even though, as a result of market conditions or investment decisions, the fund may not achieve projected investment results for a given period. Capital gains distributions, if any, are recorded on the ex-dividend date and paid at least annually. The amount and character of income and gains to be distributed are determined in accordance with income tax regulations which may differ from generally accepted accounting principles. Reclassifications are made to the fund's capital accounts to reflect income and gains available for distribution (or available capital loss carryovers) under income tax regulations.

Note 2

Management fee, administrative services and other transactions

Compensation of Putnam Management, for management and investment advisory services is paid quarterly based on the average net assets of the fund. Such fee is based on the following annual rates: 0.75% of the first $500 million of average weekly net assets, 0.65% of the next $500 million, 0.60% of the next $500 million, and 0.55% thereafter.

The fund reimburses Putnam Management an allocated amount for the compensation and related expenses of certain officers of the fund and their staff who provide administrative services to the fund. The aggregate amount of all such reimbursements is determined annually by the Trustees.

Custodial functions for the fund's assets are provided by Putnam Fiduciary Trust Company (PFTC), a subsidiary of Putnam Investments, LLC. Investor servicing agent functions are provided by Putnam Investor Services, a division of PFTC.

The fund has entered into an arrangement with PFTC whereby credits realized as a result of uninvested cash balances are used to reduce a portion of the fund's expenses. For the six months ended March 31, 2001, the fund's expenses were reduced by $23,146 these arrangements.

Each independent Trustee of the fund receives an annual Trustee fee, of which $982 has been allocated to the fund, and an additional fee for each Trustees meeting attended. Trustees receive additional fees for attendance at certain committee meetings.

Edgar Filing: PUTNAM MASTER INTERMEDIATE INCOME TRUST - Form N-30D

The fund has adopted a Trustee Fee Deferral Plan (the "Deferral Plan") which allows the Trustees to defer the receipt of all or a portion of Trustees Fees payable on or after July 1, 1995. The deferred fees remain invested in certain Putnam funds until distribution in accordance with the Deferral Plan.

The fund has adopted an unfunded noncontributory defined benefit pension plan (the "Pension Plan") covering all Trustees of the fund who have served as a Trustee for at least five years. Benefits under the Pension Plan are equal to 50% of the Trustee's average total retainer and meeting fees for the three years preceding retirement. Pension expense for the fund is included in Compensation of Trustees in the Statement of operations. Accrued pension liability is included in Payable for compensation of Trustees in the Statement of assets and liabilities.

Purchases and sales of securities

During the six months ended March 31, 2001, cost of purchases and proceeds from sales of investment securities other than U.S. government obligations and short-term investments aggregated $336,158,753 and $296,959,936, respectively. Purchases and sales of U.S. government obligations aggregated $882,013,706 and $899,364,076, respectively.

Written option transactions during the period are summarized as follows:

	Contract Amounts	Premiums Received

Written options outstanding at beginning of period	$ --	$ --

Options opened	1,000,000,000	22,742

Note 4

Share repurchase program

In November 1994, the Trustees authorized the fund to repurchase up to 1,950,000 of its shares in the open market. Repurchases will only be made when the fund's shares are trading at less than net asset value and at such times and amounts as is believed to be in the best interest of the fund's shareholders. Any repurchases of shares will have the effect of increasing the net asset value per share of remaining shares outstanding.

For the six months ended March 31, 2001, the fund repurchased no shares.

As of March 31, 2001, 570,000 shares have been repurchased since the inception of the program.

New accounting pronouncement

In November 2000, the AICPA issued a revised Audit and Accounting Guide, Audits of Investment Companies, which is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2000. The revised Guide will require the fund to amortize premium and accrete discount on all fixed-income securities, and classify as interest income gains and losses realized on paydowns on mortgage-backed securities which are presently included in realized gain/loss. Adopting these accounting principles will not affect the fund's net asset value, but will change the classification of certain amounts between interest income and realized and unrealized gain/loss in the Statement of operations. The fund has not at this time quantified the impact, if any, resulting from the adoption of this principle on the financial statements.
