Item 5.02 Departure of Directors or Certain Officers; Election of Directors; Appointment of Certain Officers; Compensatory Arrangements of Certain Officers.

(e) On February 26, 2015, Provident Financial Services, Inc. (the “Company”) entered into a three-year change in control agreement with James D. Nesci, Executive Vice President and Chief Wealth Officer of The Provident Bank and President of Beacon Trust Company (the “Executive Officer”).

The Company and the Executive Officer were previously parties to a two-year change in control agreement. Except for the change from two to three years, the terms of the Change in Control Agreement remain the same. The form of Change in Control Agreement utilized by the Company was filed as an Exhibit to the Company’s December 31, 2012 Annual Report to Stockholders on Form 10-K (File No. 001-31566).

Under the agreement and following a change in control, the executive is entitled to a severance payment if:

- the Executive Officer’s employment is terminated during the term of such agreement, other than for cause, disability, or retirement; or
- the Executive Officer terminates employment during the term of the agreement for good reason.

Good reason is generally defined to include:

- the assignment of duties materially inconsistent with the Executive Officer’s positions, duties or responsibilities as in effect prior to the change in control;
 - a reduction in his base salary or fringe benefits;
- a relocation of his principal place of employment by more than a certain number of miles from its location immediately prior to the change in control; or
- a failure by the Company to obtain an assumption of the agreement by its successor.

The change in control severance payment is equal to three times the highest level of aggregate annualized base salary and other cash compensation paid to the Executive Officer during the calendar year termination occurs, or during either of the immediately preceding two calendar years, whichever is greater. In addition, the Executive Officer is generally entitled to receive life, health, dental and disability coverage for the remaining term of the agreement. Payments under the change in control agreement are reduced to the extent necessary to prevent an excess parachute payment under Section 280G of the Internal Revenue Code.

- (b) Pro Forma Financial Information. Not applicable.
