CVRD negotiates iron ore prices increase

Rio de Janeiro, April 5, 2006 Companhia Vale do Rio Doce (CVRD) informs, in order to attend the resolution of the Securities and Exchange Commission of Brazil (CVM), that, similar to others years and according to calendar agreed upon with its clients, it is currently in course the negotiation of international reference price of iron ore for the year 2006 between steelmakers and miners.

The CVRD's proposal is around 24%, which is within the range between 7.5% to 25% estimated by market analysts, as disclosed by the press. Once the price is agreed with the world steel industry representatives, which will be object of disclosure, it will be kept fixed for a period of one year.

This press release may contain statements that express management's expectations about future events or results rather than historical facts. These forward-looking statements involve risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from those projected in forward-looking statements, and CVRD cannot give assurance that such statements will prove correct. These risks and uncertainties include factors: relating to the Brazilian economy and securities markets, which exhibit volatility and can be adversely affected by developments in other countries; relating to the iron ore business and its dependence on the global steel industry, which is cyclical in nature; and relating to the highly competitive industries in which CVRD operates. For additional information on factors that could cause CVRD's actual results to differ from expectations reflected in forward-looking statements, please see CVRD's reports filed with the Brazilian Comissão de Valores Mobiliários and the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission.
