Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On December 22, 2004, we entered into the Seventh Loan Modification Agreement with our bank, Silicon Valley Bank. This modification agreement amended the Amended and Restated Loan and Security Agreement dated as of June 13, 2002 between us and the bank, as previously amended, as follows:

The expiration date of the revolving credit facility was extended from December 25, 2004 to December 24, 2005;

Covenants in the existing agreement relating to minimum compensating balances, liquidity and profitability were revised; and

Our subsidiary Primus Knowledge Solutions, Inc. was added as a guarantor.

We agreed to pay the bank a modification fee of $75,000 and to reimburse the bank for its reasonable legal fees and expenses incurred in connection with the amendment of the existing loan documents.

At December 22, 2004, we had no borrowings outstanding, the bank had issued letters of credit in the aggregate amount of approximately $9.1 million for our account under the facility, and approximately $10.9 million was available under the facility.

Item 2.03 Creation of a Direct Financial Obligation.

Under the revolving credit facility contemplated by our Amended and Restated Loan and Security Agreement dated June 13, 2002 with our bank, as previously amended and as further amended by the Seventh Loan Modification Agreement described above, we may from time to time incur direct financial obligations to the bank that are material in amount. These obligations may arise from our receipt of advances under the revolving credit facility, from the issuance by the bank for our account of letters of credit, or by reason of our incurrence of fees or other charges payable to the bank under the terms of the agreement.
