Edgar Filing: BARRISTER GLOBAL SERVICES NETWORK INC - Form 10-Q

BARRISTER GLOBAL SERVICES NETWORK, INC.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Barrister Global Services Network, Inc. provides equipment maintenance for multi-vendor equipment including personal computers and related equipment generally attached to LAN's. This comprehensive maintenance and warranty service is done on a contractual and time and materials basis. These services are provided through a network of service locations throughout the United States.

In the opinion of Management, the accompanying financial statements present fairly the financial position, results of operations and cash flows for the periods shown. The first quarter results for each year represent operations for the quarters ended June 30, 2002 and June 30, 2001. The financial data included herein was compiled in accordance with the same accounting policies applied to the Company's audited annual financial statements. Any adjustments made were of a normal recurring nature.

The results of operations for the three month period ended June 30, 2002 are not necessarily indicative of the results to be expected for the full year.

2. Cash and equivalents consist of cash and liquid debt instruments with maturity of three months or less from the date of purchase. Cash and equivalents are stated at cost plus accrued interest, which approximates market value. Short-term investments contain both held-to-maturity securities of $526,000, based on the Company's ability and intent to hold the securities until maturity and available-for-sale securities of $215,000, held primarily for sale. The held-to-maturity securities are recorded at amortized cost adjusted for the accretion of discounts or cost plus accrued interest. Available-for-sale securities are carried at fair value, based on quoted market prices. The net unrealized gains or losses, if any, on these securities are reported as a separate component of stockholders' equity, net of tax. Short-term investments generally consist of certificates of deposits and corporate debt instruments. Marketable securities are classified as held-to-maturity securities and consist of mortgage-backed securities which are expected to mature in less than two years.

3. On July 15, 2002, the Company acquired all of the outstanding stock of Advantage Innovation, Inc. ("Advantage") for $1,200,000 in cash and future consideration of two contingent payments. The contingent payments are due on the first and second anniversaries of the closing, in an amount based upon the amount of earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization achieved by Advantage in each of the two years. Advantage was a privately held technical and computer services firm located in New Orleans, Louisiana and performing services nationwide generally in the consumer market. The acquisition will be accounted for by the purchase method of accounting. Since the closing date occurred after the quarter end, the results of Advantage's operations are not included in the reported financial statements.

4. The income tax benefit recorded in each of the comparable quarters on the net loss from operations approximated the statutory tax rate. No additional tax benefits were established in the statement of operations for the quarter ended June 30, 2002, since the Company has reserved for the tax effect of net deductible temporary differences and loss carryforwards.

These benefits will be recorded in future periods as they are realized or as their realization becomes predictable.

5. The Company adopted Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("SFAS") No. 141, "Business Combinations", SFAS No. 142, "Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets" and SFAS No. 144, "Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets" on April 1, 2002. SFAS No. 141 requires that the purchase method be used for all business combinations initiated after June 30, 2001. SFAS No. 142 changes the accounting for goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite lives from an amortization method to an impairment approach. SFAS No. 144 establishes a single accounting model for long-lived assets to be disposed of by sale and it expands the presentation of discontinued operations to include more disposal transactions. The pronouncements did not have an impact on the financial statements.

ITEM 2. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

For the quarter ended June 30, 2002, revenues increased approximately 2.3% from the same quarter in 2001. This increase resulted from growth in services provided on a time and materials basis which increased by 7.8% for the comparative first quarters, from $745,000 to $803,000. The principal reason for this increase were services provided on a large contract which started in September of 2001. Revenues from hardware maintenance contracts remained at $2.3 million for the comparative first quarters.

The cost of services increased as a percentage of revenues from 74.7% in the first quarter of the prior year to 78.8% in the first quarter of the current year. The principal reason for this increase was higher call volumes provided on a large contract which started in September of 2001. This resulted in higher expenses being incurred for outsourced services and parts-related costs to service this contract.

Selling, general and administrative expenses were 30.0% of revenues for the first quarter of this year compared to 29.2% for the comparative quarter last year. The principal reason for this increase was the investment in marketing functions, which was based on planned expenditures in this area. Selling, general and administrative expenses increased by 4.9% for the comparative first quarters.

The decrease in net interest income for the comparative first quarters resulted from lower interest rates and a reduction in amounts invested.

The income tax benefit recorded in each of the comparable quarters on the net loss from operations approximated the statutory tax rate. No additional tax benefits were established in the statements of operations for the quarter ended June 30, 2002, since the Company has reserved for the tax effect of net deductible temporary differences and loss carryforwards. These benefits will be recorded in future periods as they are realized or as their realization becomes predictable.

FINANCIAL CONDITION

Cash and equivalents, short-term investments and marketable securities totaled $3,250,000 at June 30, 2002 and $3,992,000 at March 31, 2002. The net decrease of $742,000 was primarily a result of net cash used by operating activities of $606,000, debt repayments of $112,000 and additions to equipment and leasehold improvements of $24,000.

On July 15, 2002, the Company acquired the stock of Advantage Innovation, Inc. for an initial cash payment of $1,200,000. Additional payments are due on the first and second anniversaries of the closing, contingent upon the amount of earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization achieved by Advantage in each of the two years. Advantage has developed an outsourcing model to deliver services on a more cost effective basis. The Company expects to use Advantage to deliver certain of its services, thereby reducing its costs and allowing it to be more competitive in capturing new business and retaining existing contracts that are driven by price.

On June 18, 2002, the Company signed an operating lease agreement to move its headquarters offices and operations center into a new facility. This move is expected to occur toward the end of the third quarter. The Company expects to obtain financing for any significant capital expenditures in relation to the new facility.

In addition to the initial cash payment made to Advantage, the principal cash requirements expected for fiscal 2003 are debt repayments of $307,000 and additions to equipment and leasehold improvements. The Company's cash and investments will be sufficient to cover working capital, capital expenditure requirements and debt repayments in fiscal 2003.

FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENT

When used in this report, the words "expects", "believes" and "intends" and similar expressions are intended to identify forward-looking statements. Such statements are subject to certain risks and uncertainties which could cause actual results to differ materially from those projected. Readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements which speak only as of the date hereof. The company undertakes no obligation to republish revised forward-looking statements to reflect events or circumstances after the date hereof or to reflect the occurrences of unanticipated events. Readers are also urged to carefully review and consider the various disclosures made by the Company which attempt to advise interested parties of the factors which affect the Company's business in the Company's periodic reports on Form 10K and 10Q filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission.
