FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

AETERNA EXTENDS SUCCESSFUL COLLABORATION WITH SERONO ON CETROTIDE (R)

Cetrotide(R) developed by AETerna subsidiary, Zentaris

QUEBEC CITY, CANADA FRANKFURT AM MAIN, GERMANY, JUNE 18, 2003 -- AETerna Laboratories Inc. (NASDAQ: AELA, TSX: AEL) today announced the extension of the existing license agreement between its subsidiary Zentaris and Serono (Virt-X: SEO, NYSE: SRA) for worldwide marketing rights, except in Japan, for Cetrotide(R), a novel compound used for IN VITRO fertilization. The amended agreement provides for Zentaris to receive a signature fee, as well as fixed annual payments until 2010 followed by royalties starting 2011. In addition, Zentaris will supply Serono with the finished product at a fixed price. In turn, Serono is granted a perpetual fully paid-up license upon expiry of the last relevant patent held by Zentaris.

"We are very pleased to extend our existing agreement with a leading company such as Serono. This very important partnership secures AETerna long-term guaranteed income", stated Gilles Gagnon, President and Chief Executive Officer of AETerna. "It also reflects the added value that our subsidiary Zentaris brings to the Company and represents a step forward in positioning AETerna as a global biopharmaceutical company".

Prof. Jurgen Engel, Chairman and Managing Director at Zentaris, as well as AETerna's Executive Vice President, Global Research and Development and Chief Operating Officer added, "The extension of the successful collaboration with Serono, a worldwide leader in reproductive health, is a major vote of confidence in our capacity to develop high quality pharmaceutical products".

ABOUT CETROTIDE(R)

Cetrotide(R) is a peptide-based active substance which was developed by Zentaris in cooperation with Nobel prize winner Professor Andrew Schally, of Tulane University in New Orleans. The substance is an LHRH antagonist that blocks the LHRH receptors at the pituitary gland level. In contrast to treatment with LHRH agonists, LHRH antagonists permit dose-dependent hormone suppression which is of critical importance for the tolerability of the hormone therapy.

Cetrotide(R) is the first LHRH antagonist which was approved for therapeutic use as part of IN VITRO fertilization programs (controlled ovulation stimulation / assisted reproductive technologies) in Europe in 1999 and was launched on the market in the USA in 2001. Sales of Cetrotide(R) for 2002 amounted to US$18.4 million. Serono has the worldwide marketing rights for Cetrotide(R) for IN VITRO fertilization, except for Japan, where rights are owned by Shionogi along with Nippon Kayaku.
