Item 2.05 Costs Associated with Exit or Disposal Activities.

a) On December 15, 2004, the Company gave notice to its Financial Services Division employees and customers that, effective February 14, 2005, the Financial Services Division will be permanently discontinued. Over the past several years the Company has invested heavily in software and facilities in order to compete successfully in the financial services market. As this niche industry became more competitive and the quality of inventory eroded and margins were undercut by low-end service providers, it became more challenging for this business unit of the Company to be profitable. The Company explored a range of alternatives, including divestiture of the business, in an effort to continue to provide jobs for the Division's employees and service to the Division's customers. The Company was unsuccessful in those endeavors. Consequently, consistent with its plan to focus management attention and financial resources on its core software business units, the Company decided to cease trying to compete in the financial services market and to discontinue its Financial Services Division.

b) Estimates for each major type of cost resulting from the discontinued operation have not been determined at this time.

c) An estimate of the total amount of costs that the Company will incur in connection with the action has not been determined at this time.

d) An estimate of the total amount of the accounting charge related to the discontinued operation has not been determined at this time.
