On July 27, 2010, Roy Curbow and other shareholders of the Fund filed a purported derivative action in the Supreme Court of the State of New York, New York County. The complaint named BlackRock Advisors, LLC, BlackRock, Inc. and certain of the board members, officers and portfolio managers of the Fund as defendants. The complaint alleged, among other things, that the defendants breached fiduciary duties owed to the Fund and its common shareholders and committed waste by redeeming the Fund's auction preferred shares at their liquidation preference. The complaint sought unspecified damages for losses purportedly suffered by the Fund as a result of the prior redemptions and injunctive relief preventing the Fund from redeeming auction preferred shares at their liquidation preference in the future and awarding the plaintiffs the costs and disbursements of this action, including reasonable attorneys', accountants' and experts' fees and expenses. The plaintiffs in the Curbow Action previously moved to preliminarily enjoin BlackRock Credit Allocation Income Trust IV and the Fund from redeeming their outstanding auction preferred shares and, on December 23, 2010, the Court denied that motion.

On March 15, 2012, the Supreme Court of the State of New York, New York County, entered an order consolidating the above-referenced derivative action with another derivative action pending in the same court and alleging substantially identical claims. The court on March 15, 2012 also authorized plaintiffs to file a consolidated amended complaint. On April 16, 2012, the Plaintiffs filed a Consolidated Shareholder Derivative Complaint. Defendants moved to dismiss the Consolidated

Shareholder Derivative Complaint on July 20, 2012. On September 14, 2012, Plaintiffs filed a motion to hold the defendants' motion to dismiss in abeyance and allow plaintiffs limited discovery (the Discovery Motion) before responding to the Dismissal Motion. The Discovery Motion has been fully briefed by the parties, and the Court has scheduled oral argument on the motion for January 13, 2013.
