NBIC Acquisition

On November 30, 2017, we completed the acquisition (the "NBIC Acquisition") of NBIC, the parent company of Narragansett Bay Insurance Company, a leading specialty underwriter of personal residential insurance products and services in states along the Eastern seaboard. The NBIC Acquisition further diversifies our geographic footprint, with the operations of our combined companies encompassing the Northeast and the Southeast. In accordance with the terms of the merger agreement governing the NBIC Acquisition (the "Merger Agreement"), total consideration for the NBIC Acquisition consisted of (i) approximately $210.0 million in cash and (ii) shares of our common stock with an aggregate value of approximately $40.0 million (the "Stock Consideration"), subject to a post-closing book value related adjustment. Pursuant to the Merger Agreement, approximately 687,802 shares of common stock are held in escrow to satisfy the post-closing book value related adjustment. The Stock Consideration was issued at the closing of the NBIC Acquisition in a private placement pursuant to Section 4(a)(2) of the Securities Act. This prospectus relates to the resale of the Stock Consideration by the selling stockholders named herein.

RISK FACTORS

Investing in the securities offered pursuant to this prospectus may involve a high degree of risk. You should carefully consider the risk factors described in this prospectus, in Part I, Item 1A, "Risk Factors" in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2016 and in our other reports filed from time to time with the SEC, which are incorporated by reference into this prospectus, as the same may be amended, supplemented or superseded from time to time by our filings under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"). Before making any investment decision, you should carefully consider these risks as well as other information we include or incorporate by reference in this prospectus or in any applicable prospectus supplement. For more information, see the sections entitled "Where You Can Find More Information" and "Information Incorporated By Reference." These risks could materially adversely affect our business, results of operations or financial condition and the value of our securities. You could lose all or part of your investment.

The terms of our Convertible Notes provide that we cannot satisfy our conversion obligations by delivering shares of common stock unless and until we obtain shareholder approval, and until we do, the accounting treatment for the Convertible Notes could have an adverse effect on our reported results of operations.

In connection with the NBIC Acquisition, we issued $125 million in aggregate principal amount of 5.875% Convertible Senior Notes due 2037 (the "Convertible Notes"). Unless and until we obtain the requisite shareholder approval, we must satisfy the conversion obligation of our outstanding Convertible Notes solely through the delivery of cash. Until we obtain shareholder approval, the conversion option that is part of the notes will be accounted for as a derivative liability pursuant to accounting standards relating to derivative instruments and hedging activities (notwithstanding other factors to be evaluated during each reporting period regarding the classification of derivative instruments). For each financial statement period after issuance of the notes, a hedge gain (or loss) will be reported in our income statement to the extent the valuation of the derivative liability changes from the previous period as a result of changes in the market price of our common stock or changes in other valuation inputs and assumptions. This could result in significant fluctuations in our consolidated statement of comprehensive income (loss) from period to period and have a material adverse impact on our earnings per share. In addition, this could adversely affect our effective tax rate, further reducing earnings per share. Once shareholder approval is obtained, the conversion option is classified in the equity section of the balance sheet and a quarterly valuation is not required, thereby limiting the volatility of an adverse impact to earnings.

Settlement of our conversion obligations in shares of common stock may dilute the ownership interest of our stockholders, or may otherwise depress the price of our common stock.

Following shareholder approval, if we elect to settle our conversion obligations in shares of common stock (other than paying cash in lieu of delivering any fractional share), the conversion of some or all Convertible Notes would dilute the ownership interests of existing stockholders. If the Convertible Notes become convertible under the terms of the indenture, and if holders subsequently elect to convert their notes, we could be required to deliver to them a significant number of shares of our common stock, should we elect to settle in shares of common stock in lieu of cash. Any sales in the public market of the common stock issuable upon such conversion could adversely affect prevailing market prices of our common stock. In addition, the existence of the Convertible Notes may encourage short selling by market participants because the conversion of such notes could be used to satisfy short positions, or anticipated conversion of such notes into shares of our common stock could depress the price of our common stock.

FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

Certain statements and information in this prospectus and the documents we incorporate by reference may constitute forward-looking statements. These statements may be identified by the use of forward-looking terminology such as anticipate, believe, continue, could, estimate, expect, intend, may, might, plan, potential, pre negative thereof or other variations thereon or comparable terminology. All statements contained or incorporated in this prospectus which address operating performance, events or developments that we expect or anticipate may occur in the future, including statements about our expectations, beliefs, plans, objectives, assumptions or future events or performance, are forward-looking statements. Important factors, risks and uncertainties that may cause actual results to differ from those expressed in our forward-looking statements include, but are not limited to:

our limited operating history;

the possibility that actual losses may exceed reserves;

the concentration of our business on the Eastern seaboard and Hawaii;

Table of Contents

our exposure to catastrophic events;

the fluctuation in our results of operations;

increased costs of reinsurance, non-availability of reinsurance, and non-collectability of reinsurance;

increased competition, competitive pressures, and market conditions;

our failure to accurately price the risks we underwrite;

inherent uncertainty of our models and our reliance on such model as a tool to evaluate risk;

the failure of our claims department to effectively manage or remediate claims;

low renewal rates and failure of such renewals to meet our expectations;

our failure to execute our growth strategy;

failure of our information technology systems and unsuccessful development and implementation of new technologies;

we do not have significant redundancy in our operations;

our failure to attract and retain qualified employees and independent agents or our loss of key personnel;

our inability to generate investment income;

our inability to maintain our financial stability rating;

effects of emerging claim and coverage issues relating to legal, judicial, environmental and social conditions;

the failure of our risk mitigation strategies or loss limitation methods; changes in regulations and our failure to meet increased regulatory requirements; and an increase in the value of the conversion option related to the Convertible Notes, as discussed in the first risk factor above.

Given these risks and uncertainties, we caution you not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements. The forward-looking statements included in or incorporated by reference into this prospectus are made only as of the date on the cover of the applicable document. We do not undertake and specifically decline any obligation to update any of these statements or to publicly announce the results of any revisions to any of these statements to reflect future events or developments.

USE OF PROCEEDS

The proceeds from the sale of the common stock offered pursuant to this prospectus are solely for the account of the selling stockholders. Accordingly, we will not receive any proceeds from the sale of the common stock offered pursuant to this prospectus.

Table of ContentsSELLING STOCKHOLDERS

The table below sets forth, as of the date of this prospectus, the names of the selling stockholders for whom we are registering the resale of shares of our common stock from time to time and the number of shares that the selling stockholders may offer pursuant to this prospectus. The shares offered by the selling stockholders were issued at the closing of the NBIC Acquisition pursuant to subscription agreements entered into with the selling stockholders in accordance with the Merger Agreement, which issuances were made pursuant to an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act provided in Section 4(a)(2) of the Securities Act. We have filed with the SEC under the Securities Act the registration statement of which this prospectus forms a part pursuant to the registration rights agreement entered into with the selling stockholders, as described below.

In connection with the closing of the NBIC Acquisition and the issuance of shares of our common stock to the selling stockholders, we entered into a registration rights agreement with the selling stockholders. Subject to the terms and conditions of the registration rights agreement, we agreed to file a shelf registration statement on Form S-3 to cover the shares of common stock received by each selling stockholder in connection with the NBIC Acquisition, to use our commercially reasonable efforts to cause the registration statement to be declared effective promptly and to keep the registration statement effective until the shares offered under this prospectus (1) have been disposed of by the selling stockholders in accordance with the registration statement, (2) have been sold in accordance with Rule 144 under the Securities Act or (3) cease to be outstanding.

The table below sets forth certain information known to us, based on written representations from the selling stockholders, with respect to the beneficial ownership of our shares of common stock held by the selling stockholders as of January 30, 2018, except as described in the notes to such table. Because the selling stockholders may sell, transfer or otherwise dispose of all, some or none of the shares of our common stock covered by this prospectus, we cannot determine the number of such shares that will be sold, transferred or otherwise disposed of by the selling stockholders, or the amount or percentage of shares of our common stock that will be held by the selling stockholders upon termination of any particular offering. See Plan of Distribution. Unless otherwise indicated, the address of each beneficial owner listed in the table below is: c/o Narragansett Bay Insurance Company, 25 Maple St, Pawtucket, RI 02860. Information about the selling stockholders may change over time. Any changed information will be set forth in supplements to this prospectus, if required. For purposes of the table below, we assume that the selling stockholders will sell all of their shares of common stock covered by this prospectus.

The percentages of shares owned set forth below are based on 26,560,004 shares of our common stock outstanding as of January 30, 2018.

PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION

The selling stockholders and any of their pledgees, donees, transferees, assignees or other successors-in-interest may, from time to time, sell, transfer or otherwise dispose of any or all of their shares of common stock or interests in shares of common stock on any stock exchange, market or trading facility on which the shares are traded or in private transactions. These dispositions may be at fixed prices, at prevailing market prices at the time of sale, at prices related to the prevailing market price, at varying prices determined at the time of sale, or at negotiated prices. The selling stockholders may use one or more of the following methods when disposing of the shares or interests therein:

ordinary brokerage transactions and transactions in which a broker-dealer solicits purchasers;

block trades in which a broker-dealer will attempt to sell as agent but may position and resell a portion of the block as principal to facilitate the transaction;

directly to one or more purchasers, including affiliates;

through agents;

to or through brokers, dealers or underwriters;

purchases by a broker-dealer as principal and resale by the broker-dealer for its account;

an exchange distribution in accordance with the rules of the applicable exchange;

privately negotiated transactions;

through the writing or settlement of options or other hedging transactions entered into after the effective date of the registration statement of which this prospectus is a part, whether through an options exchange or otherwise;

broker-dealers may agree with the selling stockholders to sell a specified number of such shares at a stipulated price per share;

one or more underwritten offerings on a firm commitment or best efforts basis;

a combination of any such methods of disposition; and any other method permitted pursuant to applicable law.

The selling stockholders may also sell shares under Rule 144 under the Securities Act, if available, rather than under this prospectus.

Broker-dealers engaged by the selling stockholders may arrange for other broker-dealers to participate in sales. Broker-dealers may receive commissions or discounts from the selling stockholders (or, if any broker-dealer acts as agent for the purchaser of shares, from the purchaser) in amounts to be negotiated. The selling stockholders do not expect these commissions and discounts to exceed what is customary in the types of transactions involved. The selling stockholders may agree to indemnify any agent, dealer or broker-dealer that participates in transactions involving sales of the shares if liabilities are imposed on that person under the Securities Act.

The selling stockholders may from time to time pledge or grant a security interest in some or all of the shares of common stock owned by them and, if they default in the performance of their secured obligations, the pledgees or secured parties may offer and sell shares of common stock from time to time under this prospectus, or under a supplement or amendment to this prospectus under Rule 424(b)(3) or other applicable provision of the Securities Act amending the list of selling stockholders to include the pledgee, transferee or other successors in interest as selling stockholders under this prospectus.

Upon being notified in writing by the selling stockholders that any material arrangement has been entered into with a broker-dealer for the sale of common stock through a block trade, special offering, exchange distribution or secondary distribution or a purchase by a broker or dealer, we will file a supplement to this prospectus, if required, pursuant to Rule 424(b) under the Securities Act, disclosing (i) the name of the participating broker-dealer(s), (ii) the number of shares involved, (iii) the price at which such shares of common stock were sold, (iv) the commissions paid or discounts or concessions allowed to such broker-dealer(s), where applicable, and (v) other facts material to the transaction that are required to be disclosed. In addition, upon being notified in writing by the selling stockholders that a donee or pledge intends to sell more than 500 shares of common stock, we will file a supplement to this prospectus if then required in accordance with applicable securities law.

The selling stockholders also may transfer the shares of common stock in other circumstances, in which case the transferees, pledgees or other successors in interest will be the selling beneficial owners for purposes of this prospectus.

In connection with the sale of the shares of common stock or interests in shares of common stock, the selling stockholders may enter into hedging transactions after the effective date of the registration statement of which this prospectus is a part with broker-dealers or other financial institutions, which may in turn engage in short sales of the common stock in the course of hedging the positions they assume. The selling stockholders may also sell shares of common stock short after the effective date of the registration statement of which this prospectus is a part and deliver these securities to close out their short positions, or loan or pledge the common stock to broker-dealers that in turn may sell these securities. The selling stockholders may also enter into option or other transactions after the effective date of the registration statement of which this prospectus is a part with broker-dealers or other financial institutions or the creation of one or more derivative securities which require the delivery to such broker-dealer or other financial institution of shares offered by this prospectus, which shares such broker-dealer or other financial institution may resell pursuant to this prospectus (as supplemented or amended to reflect such transaction).

The selling stockholders and any broker-dealers or agents that are involved in selling the shares may be deemed to be underwriters within the meaning of the Securities Act in connection with such sales. In such event, any commissions received by such broker-dealers or agents and any profit on the resale of the shares purchased by them may be deemed to be underwriting commissions or discounts under the Securities Act.

We have advised the selling stockholders that they are required to comply with Regulation M promulgated under the Exchange Act during such time as they may be engaged in a distribution of the shares. The foregoing may affect the marketability of the common stock.

We have agreed to indemnify the selling stockholders against liabilities, including liabilities under the Securities Act and state securities laws, relating to the registration of the shares offered by this prospectus.

The aggregate proceeds to the selling stockholders from the sale of the common stock offered by them will be the purchase price of the common stock less discounts or commissions, if any. The selling stockholders reserve the right to accept and, together with their agents from time to time, to reject, in whole or in part, any proposed purchase of common stock to be made directly or through agents. We will not receive any of the proceeds from this offering.
