GOL Inaugurates its First VoeFácil Store

Aiming to attract Brazil's middle-class earners, the new store is located in one of Brazil's busiest regions

São Paulo, December 16, 2009 GOL Linhas Aéreas Inteligentes S.A. (BM&FBOVESPA: GOLL4 e NYSE: GOL), the largest low cost and low fare airline in Latin America, opened its first VoeFácil store today to sell GOL air tickets.

The store is located in Largo 13 de Maio, in the south side of São Paulo, a Brazilian middle-class shopping region, which has one of the city's biggest bus and subway terminals through which one million passengers pass every day, according to the São Paulo municipal government.

The stores were designed to increase GOL's presence among Brazil's new middle-class, offering air fares that are competitive with intercity bus fares. , declared Eduardo Benardes, GOL's Sales Director. Air transport reduces whole days of travel to just hours and is also considerably more comfortable, with added service quality. In addition, clients can buy their tickets in up to 36 installments, something which the bus companies cannot offer. , he added.

The store is located in Largo 13 de Maio, in the south side of São Paulo, a Brazilian middle-class shopping region, which has one of the city's biggest bus and subway terminals through which one million passengers pass every day.

With a simple layout and low cost points of sale, investments in these new outlets are exceptionally low with no impact on the Company's overall cost structure. We plan to inaugurate two more stores in 2010 as part of the initial implementation phase. , affirmed Leonardo Pereira, the Company's Executive Vice President. Brazil's air sector has enormous growth potential around 100 million people can afford to fly, but only around 10% actually do so. , he added.

This is a concrete step towards expanding GOL's presence among the new middle class. To this end, the Company's strategy combines a greater physical presence in high traffic and population density regions in Brazil's biggest cities with the introduction of new communications and marketing channels, aiming to attract these potential customers and show that everyone can fly with GOL. , concluded Pereira.
