Item 8.01 Other Events

Today we mutually agreed with Ms. Sarah Luke, wife of outside director Douglas S. Luke and a partner in Luke Communication Group, that we will no longer use Ms. Luke's services in connection with the preparation of our annual report to shareholders or otherwise.

ISS previously issued the following recommendation in connection with our upcoming 2005 annual meeting of shareholders:

We recommend withholding votes from all nominees. We recommend shareholders WITHHOLD votes from Douglas S. Luke for standing as an affiliated outsider on the Compensation Committee; and from Martin E. Stein, Jr., Mary Lou Fiala, Bruce M. Johnson, Raymond L. Bank, C. Ronald Blankenship, A.R. Carpenter, J. Dix Druce, Jr., John C. Schweitzer, Thomas G. Wattles, and Terry N. Worrell for failure to remove Douglas S. Luke from the board of directors after a majority of votes cast by shareholders voted to withhold.

The ISS recommendation pertains to the following related party disclosure included in our 2005 annual proxy statement: During 2004, the spouse of Mr. Douglas S. Luke provided services to Regency in connection with preparation of its annual report to shareholders for which she was paid $35,174. Because of this disclosure, ISS recommended that all votes be withheld from the re-election of Mr. Luke to our board of directors in 2005.

Ms. Luke has over 29 years experience as a corporate communications professional. She and her partner operate as Luke Communication Group and currently represent 20 other corporate clients. Regency engaged Ms. Luke for the last seven years to assist in the preparation of our annual report as she has a keen ability to ensure that we communicate our real estate operations and strategies to our shareholders in a straight-forward and understandable way.

Regency's nominating and corporate governance committee and its board of directors fully reviewed the relationship with Ms. Luke and determined that the payment to Ms. Luke did not create a material relationship; and therefore, Mr. Luke qualifies as an independent director. The committee also voted to disclose the payments in Regency's 2005 and 2006 proxy statements although not required by SEC and NYSE standards. The committee and the board also determined that it was not necessary (1) to request that Mr. Luke resign from the board or (2) to nominate someone else to stand for election in his place although more votes were withheld from than voted in favor of his election in 2005 based on last year's ISS recommendation that we believe to have been in error.

In order to cure the issue posed by ISS, Regency and Ms. Luke have agreed that Ms. Luke will not provide any additional services to Regency so long as her husband remains on our board of directors.

Regency remains committed to best-in-class corporate governance. Examples of our proactive efforts demonstrating this commitment include elimination in 2004 of a staggered board of directors and early adoption of the expensing of stock options. Consistent with this philosophy, we have taken this additional step today to avoid even the slightest appearance of a potential conflict of interest.
