billion in liquidity and a significant improvement in capital adequacy. As previously announced, the Firm reported an after tax loss of US$250 million for this sale and a charge for this expected loss was reflected in CSFB and Credit Suisse Group's fourth quarter 2002 results. Due to closing adjustments, CSFB delivered entities with US$645 million of equity rather than the US$600 million originally contemplated.

Commenting on the completion of the sale, CSFB's Chief Executive Officer and Co-CEO of Credit Suisse Group, John J. Mack, said, "We are pleased to complete the sale of Pershing and delighted that the transition of the business to The Bank of New York has been accomplished so quickly. I am certain that Pershing's senior management team -- led by CEO Richard F. Brueckner -- will continue to strengthen Pershing's market leadership positions with their new affiliation with The Bank of New York." CSFB and The Bank of New York entered into the definitive agreement to sell Pershing as of January 7, 2003. Pershing is a global leader in financial services outsourcing solutions and investment-related products with more than 850 clients worldwide.
