SMITH & NEPHEW AGM TRADING UPDATE

Smith & Nephew plc, the advanced medical devices group, is on track to achieve its financial goals for 2003, Chairman Dudley Eustace told shareholders at the company's Annual General Meeting today.

The planned transaction to combine Smith & Nephew and Centerpulse AG to form a global leader in orthopaedics is proceeding satisfactorily, with documents posted to both companies' shareholders and notice given of an Extraordinary General Meeting of Smith & Nephew shareholders on 19 May 2003.

Smith & Nephew plc confirms its previous trading statement made at the time of the announcement of its intent to combine with Centerpulse AG, namely that the Orthopaedics and Wound Management businesses have had a solid start to the year. The implementation of the dual divisional structure of Orthopaedics into Reconstructive Implants and Trauma is progressing well, as is the introduction of specialised sales forces in the US. Endoscopy, however, has experienced some pressure from the increased re-use of disposable blades in the US.

Mr Eustace said: "Our business strategy has proved very successful over the last three years. The increase in commercially attractive new products combined with technology acquisitions and increased investment in sales forces are providing us with the means of delivering sustainable growth. We look forward with confidence to the remainder of the year, as well as completing the transaction to combine Centerpulse with our business."
