INFORMATION CONCERNING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

Certain of the statements contained in this report, and the exhibit attached hereto, including, without limitation statements as to management's good faith expectations and belief are forward-looking statements. Forward looking statements can be identified by the use of words such as believe, expect, plans, strategy, prospects, estimate, anticipate, intends and other words of similar meaning. Forward-looking statements are made based upon management's expectations and belief concerning future developments and their potential effect upon the Company. There can be no assurance that future developments will be in accordance with management's expectations or that the effect of future developments on the Company will be those anticipated by management. Actual results may differ materially from these expectations as a result of many factors including (i) pricing changes to materials used to product its products and the ability to offset those changes through price increases, (ii) changes in U.S. or international economic conditions, such as inflation and interest rate and exchange rate fluctuations and (iii) the actual level of construction activity in the Company's end-markets. For information about additional factors which could cause actual results to differ materially from expectations and other risks and uncertainties that could adversely affect the Company's forward-looking statements, please refer to the Company's filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission, including its Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2004 and in the Management's Discussion and Analysis section of the Company's Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q. American Standard does not undertake any obligation to update such forward-looking statements.
