SECTION 1 REGISTRANT'S BUSINESS AND OPERATIONS

Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement

On December 17, 2009, Aircastle Limited (the Company) issued a press release, attached hereto and incorporated herein by reference as Exhibit 99.1, announcing that trusts beneficially owned by one of its subsidiaries (each, a Lessor) agreed to lease six new Airbus Model A330-200 aircraft (each an Aircraft) to South African Airways (PTY) LTD. (the Lessee), with deliveries scheduled for 2011. Each of the Aircraft will be equipped with Rolls-Royce Trent 772B engines.

Each of the Aircraft will be acquired under the Company's existing aircraft acquisition agreement with Airbus SAS (Airbus) for the purchase of new Airbus Model A330 aircraft (the Airbus A330 Agreement). Deliveries under the Airbus A330 Agreement are summarized below:

Two new A330-200 aircraft delivered in May and December 2009 and are on lease to Avianca;

Three new Airbus Model A330-200F aircraft have been committed for lease to a carrier in Asia, with two deliveries scheduled for the second half of 2010 and one delivery for mid-2011;

Six new Airbus Model A330-200 aircraft are scheduled for delivery in 2011 and have been committed for lease to the Lessee; and

One new Airbus Model A330 aircraft is scheduled for delivery in May 2012 and Aircastle is actively marketing it for lease.

On December 16, 2009, each Lessor signed a lease agreement for the relevant Aircraft (each, a Lease, and together, the Leases) with the Lessee. The Lessee is the flag carrier of South Africa and one of the leading airlines in Africa. It is owned by the South African government and currently serves 60 destinations on six continents.

Each Lease provides for a ten-year lease term from the date of delivery to the Lessee, with the Lessee having the right to extend each Lease for up to two years in certain circumstances. Rentals are required to be paid monthly in advance, in U.S. dollars, and will be subject to adjustment, shortly prior to the delivery date for the relevant Aircraft, for manufacturer escalation, for buyer furnished equipment and configuration costs in excess of an agreed budget and for changes in interest rates. Aircastle believes that the rentals to be paid under each Lease represent market lease rates for the Aircraft.

Maintenance reserves are required to be paid monthly in arrears under each Lease for certain components and for other components the Lessee is obliged to pay the relevant Lessor for accumulated utilization at the end of the lease term, in each case subject to certain customary adjustments. Each Lessor will be obliged to reimburse the Lessee under the relevant Lease, out of maintenance reserve collections, for agreed categories of maintenance. Each Lessor will also agree to reimburse the Lessee for certain airworthiness directive and similar compliance costs for the relevant Aircraft during the lease term.

Under each Lease, the Lessee makes a number of customary covenants, including that it will ensure that maintenance is performed on the relevant Aircraft and that the relevant Aircraft is insured for casualty loss, that it provides liability insurance for the benefit of the relevant Lessor and certain related parties, and that the relevant Aircraft remains free of liens (subject to customary exceptions). Each Lease provides to the Lessee the right to wet lease or sublease the relevant Aircraft, provided that agreed standards are satisfied. The obligations of the Lessee under each Lease are required to be secured by deposits or letters of credit. The Lessee also has agreed to indemnify the Lessor and certain related parties for liabilities arising out of or associated with the Aircraft and for certain tax liabilities, in each case subject to customary exclusions. Each Lease also provides a listing of customary events of default and specifies the remedies that the relevant Lessor may exercise if any such event of default occurs and is continuing, including termination of the lease and repossession of the relevant Aircraft.
