Risk Factors

The Risk Factors noted below and elsewhere in this Annual Report on Form 20-F are important factors, among others, that could cause actual results to differ from expected or historic results. It is not possible to predict or identify all such factors. Consequently, this list should not be considered a complete statement of all potential risks or uncertainties. See Item 5. Operating and Financial Review and Prospects, for a note regarding forward-looking statements.

We may lose business to competitors throughout the vacation market

We operate in the vacation market and cruising is one of many alternatives for people choosing a vacation. We therefore risk losing business not only to other cruise lines, but also to other vacation operators which provide other leisure options including hotels, resorts and package holidays and tours.

We face significant competition from other cruise lines, both on the basis of cruise pricing and also in terms of the nature of ships and services we offer to cruise passengers. Our principal competitors within the cruise vacation industry include Carnival Corporation, which owns, among others, Carnival Cruise Lines, Holland America Line, Cunard Line and Costa Cruises; P&O Princess Cruises plc, which owns, among others, Princess Cruises, P&O Cruises, Swan Hellenic and AIDA; Star Cruises, which owns Star Cruises, Norwegian Cruise Line and Orient Line; and others.

In the event that we do not compete effectively with other vacation alternatives and cruise companies, our market share could decrease and our results of operations and financial condition could be adversely affected.

Overcapacity within the cruise vacation industry and a reduction in demand could have a negative impact on yields and may adversely affect profitability

Cruising capacity has grown in recent years and we expect it to continue to increase as all of the major cruise vacation companies are expected to introduce new ships. In order to utilize new capacity, the cruise vacation industry will need to increase its share of the overall vacation market. Failure of the cruise vacation industry to do so could have a negative impact on our yields. Should yields be negatively impacted, we could experience an adverse effect on our results of operations and financial condition.

Demand for cruises and other vacation products has been and is expected to continue to be affected by the public's attitude towards the safety of travel and the political climate of destination countries. In the future, demand for cruises is also likely to be increasingly dependent on the underlying economic strength of the countries in which cruise companies operate. Economic or political changes that reduce disposable income in the countries in which we operate may affect demand for vacations, including cruise vacations, and may lead to price discounting which, in turn, may reduce the profitability of our business.

Furthermore, events such as the terrorist attacks in the United States on September 11, 2001, the resulting political instability and concerns over safety and security aspects of traveling have had a significant adverse impact on demand and pricing in the travel and vacation industry and may continue to do so in the future.

Incidents at sea or adverse publicity concerning the cruise industry could affect our reputation and harm our future sales and profitability

The operation of cruise ships involves the risk of accidents and incidents at sea which may bring into question passenger safety and adversely affect future industry performance. While we make passenger safety our foremost priority in the design and operation of our ships, incidents involving passenger cruise ships could adversely affect future sales and profitability. In addition, adverse media publicity concerning the cruise industry in general could impact demand and consequently have an adverse impact on our profitability.

Environmental and health and safety legislation could affect operations and increase operating costs

Some environmental groups have lobbied for more stringent regulation of cruise ships. Some groups also have generated negative publicity about the cruise industry and its environmental impact. The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency is considering new laws and rules to manage cruise ship waste. Stricter environmental and health and safety regulations could affect our operations, and increase the cost of compliance and adversely affect the cruise industry. It cannot be assured that our costs of complying with current and future environmental, health and safety laws, or liabilities arising from past or future releases of, or exposure to, hazardous substances or to vessel discharges, will not materially adversely affect our business, results of operations or financial condition.

We may not be able to obtain financing on terms that are favorable or consistent with our expectations

To fund our capital expenditures and scheduled debt payments, we rely on a combination of cash flows provided by operations, drawdowns under our available credit facility, the incurrence of additional indebtedness and the sales of equity or debt securities in private or public securities markets. We also anticipate refinancing some of our debt facilities during the period of our current capital expenditure program. Our credit ratings impact our ability to obtain financing in financial markets and the terms of the financing. Any future lowering of our credit ratings may have adverse consequences on our ability to access the financial markets or on our cost of financings. Accordingly, we can not be sure that our cash flows from operations and additional financings will be available in accordance with our expectations.

Conducting business internationally may result in increased costs

We operate our business internationally and plan to continue to develop our international presence. Operating internationally exposes us to a number of risks. Examples include currency fluctuations, interest rate movements, the imposition of trade barriers and restrictions on repatriation of earnings. Additional risks include political risks and risk of increases in duties, taxes and governmental royalties as well as changes in laws and policies affecting cruising, vacation or maritime businesses or the governing operations of foreign-based companies. If we are unable to address these risks adequately, our results of operations and financial condition could be adversely affected.

Ship construction delays or faults may result in cancellation of cruises and unscheduled drydocks and repairs

We depend on the shipyards to construct and deliver our cruise ships on a timely basis and in good working order. The inherent nature of building a ship involves risks similar to those encountered in other sophisticated projects. Delays or faults in ship construction may result in delays or cancellation of cruises or necessitate unscheduled drydocks and repairs of the ship. Shipyard insolvency and other industrial actions could also delay or indefinitely postpone the timely delivery of new ships. These events together with any related adverse publicity could, to the extent they are not covered by contractual provisions or insurances, adversely affect our financial results.

Unavailability of ports of call may adversely affect our profits

We believe that port destinations are a major reason why guests choose to go on a particular cruise or on a cruise vacation. The availability of ports is affected by a number of factors, including, but not limited to, existing capacity constraints, security concerns, adverse weather conditions and natural disasters, financial limitations on port development, local governmental regulations and local community concerns about port development and other adverse impacts on their communities from additional tourists. The inability to continue to maintain and increase our ports of call could adversely affect our profits.

A change in our tax status under the U.S. Internal Revenue Code may have adverse effects on our income

We and our wholly owned subsidiary, Celebrity Cruises Inc., the operator of Celebrity Cruises, are foreign corporations engaged in a trade or business in the United States, and our vessel-owning subsidiaries are foreign corporations that, in many cases, depending upon the itineraries of their vessels, receive income from sources within the United States. However, Drinker Biddle & Reath LLP, our United States tax counsel, has delivered to us an opinion to the effect that, pursuant to Section 883 of the Internal Revenue Code, our income, the income of Celebrity Cruises Inc. and the vessel-owning subsidiaries, in each case derived from or incidental to the international operation of a ship or ships, is exempt from United States income tax. We believe that substantially all of our income, the income of Celebrity Cruises Inc. and our vessel-owning subsidiaries is derived from or incidental to the international operation of a ship or ships within the meaning of Section 883 of the Internal Revenue Code.

Our tax counsel is of the opinion based on certain representations and assumptions that we, Celebrity Cruises Inc., and our vessel-owning subsidiaries currently qualify for the Section 883 exemption because each of them is incorporated in a qualifying jurisdiction and our stock is primarily and regularly traded on an established securities market in the United States or Norway. To date, however, no final Treasury regulations or other definitive interpretations of the relevant portions of Section 883 have been promulgated, although regulations have been proposed. As noted in our tax counsel's opinion, such regulations or official interpretations could differ materially from our tax counsel's interpretation of this Internal Revenue Code provision and, even in the absence of such regulations or official interpretations, the Internal Revenue Service might successfully challenge such interpretation. In addition, the provisions of Section 883 are subject to change at any time by legislation. Moreover, changes could occur in the future with respect to the identity, residence, or holdings of our direct or indirect shareholders that could affect us and our subsidiaries' eligibility for the Section 883 exemption. Accordingly, there can be no assurance that we and our subsidiaries are, and will in the future be, exempt from United States income tax on United States source shipping income.

If we, Celebrity Cruises Inc., and our vessel-owning subsidiaries were not entitled to the benefit of Section 883 of the Internal Revenue Code, each would be subject to United States taxation on a portion of its income. See Taxation of the Company within Item 4. for a discussion of the taxation of us, Celebrity Cruises Inc., and our vessel-owning subsidiaries in the absence of an exemption under Section 883 of the Internal Revenue Code.

We are controlled by principal shareholders that have the power to determine our policies, management and actions requiring shareholder approval

As of February 22, 2002, A. Wilhelmsen AS., a Norwegian corporation indirectly owned by members of the Wilhelmsen family of Norway, owned approximately 24.1% of our common stock and Cruise Associates, a Bahamian general partnership indirectly owned by various trusts primarily for the benefit of certain members of the Pritzker family of Chicago, Illinois, and various trusts primarily for the benefit of certain members of the Ofer family, owned approximately 25.1% of our common stock. A. Wilhelmsen AS. and Cruise Associates have the power to determine, among other things:

our policies and the policies of our subsidiaries, the persons who will be our directors and officers and the directors and officers of our subsidiaries and all actions requiring shareholder approval.

A. Wilhelmsen AS. and Cruise Associates are parties to a shareholders' agreement. The agreement provides that our board of directors will consist of the following persons:

four nominees of A. Wilhelmsen AS.,

four nominees of Cruise Associates and our Chief Executive Officer.

The shareholders' agreement provides that the boards of directors of our subsidiaries shall have substantially similar composition. As a result of our acquisition of Celebrity, A. Wilhelmsen AS. and Cruise Associates have also agreed to vote their shares of our common stock to elect one additional director to our board of directors to be nominated by Archinav Holdings, Ltd., a former shareholder of Celebrity, for a specified period until 2004. In addition, until either of them should decide otherwise, A. Wilhelmsen AS. and Cruise Associates have agreed to vote their shares of common stock in favor of two additional named directors of our board of directors. During the term of the shareholders' agreement, certain corporate actions require the approval of at least one director nominated by A. Wilhelmsen AS. and one director nominated by Cruise Associates. Our principal shareholders are not prohibited from engaging in a business that may compete with our business, subject to certain exceptions. The failure of A. Wilhelmsen AS., and Cruise Associates to continue to own a specified percentage of our common stock might obligate us to prepay indebtedness outstanding under and/or result in the termination of some of our credit facilities.

In connection with the proposed dual-listed company merger with P&O Princess Cruises plc, in December 2001, A. Wilhelmsen AS. and Cruise Associates entered into a voting agreement with, and delivered irrevocable proxies to, P&O Princess Cruises plc, obligating them to, among other things, vote an aggregate of 44.5% of our outstanding common stock held by them in favor of the transactions required to effect the dual-listed company merger.

We are not a U.S. corporation and our shareholders may be subject to the uncertainties of a foreign legal system in protecting their interests

Our corporate affairs are governed by our Restated Articles of Incorporation and By-Laws and by the Business Corporation Act of Liberia. The provisions of the Business Corporation Act of Liberia resemble provisions of the corporation laws of a number of states in the United States. However, while most states have a fairly well developed body of case law interpreting their respective corporate statutes, there are very few judicial cases in Liberia interpreting the Business Corporation Act of Liberia. For example, the rights and fiduciary responsibilities of directors under Liberian law are not as clearly established as the rights and fiduciary responsibilities of directors under statutes or judicial precedent in existence in certain United States jurisdictions. Thus, our public shareholders may have more difficulty in protecting their interests in the face of actions by the management, directors or controlling shareholders than would shareholders of a corporation incorporated in a United States jurisdiction.

Our proposed dual-listed company merger with P&O Princess Cruises plc may not be completed as contemplated. If completed as contemplated, it will have certain risks that may have an adverse effect on the performance of the combined company

We believe that our proposed dual-listed company merger with P&O Princess Cruises plc (P&O Princess) will provide us with a strong fleet profile and greater access to capital markets, and that the dual-listed company merger will create opportunities for significant costs savings and other financial and operating benefits through the planned integration of the two companies' operations. However, completion of the dual-listed company merger by both Royal Caribbean and P&O Princess is subject to the satisfaction of various conditions, including approval by the shareholders of each of P&O Princess and Royal Caribbean and approvals from governmental authorities. If the dual-listed company merger is not completed by November 16, 2002, either party can terminate the agreement if it is not in material breach of its obligations thereunder.

As of this date, we are unable to estimate when or if these conditions to the dual-listed company merger will be satisfied or, if satisfied, the terms and conditions of such approvals. The governmental entities from whom approvals are required may impose conditions on the completion of the dual-listed company merger or require changes to the terms of the dual-listed company merger, which in either case could have the effect of imposing additional costs on or limiting the revenues of the combined company. Carnival Corporation has commenced a competing pre-conditional offer to acquire all of the outstanding shares of P&O Princess. Subsequent to the making of this offer by Carnival, the shareholders of P&O Princess and Royal Caribbean voted to adjourn their respective shareholder meetings that had been convened to approve the dual-listed company merger. We do not know at this time the date on which the meetings will be reconvened.

Even if the dual-listed company merger is completed as contemplated, the implementation of the merger has certain risks associated with it that may have an adverse effect on the economic performance of the combined companies or their respective share prices. We would be faced with the challenges of combining the businesses of two major corporations that have previously operated independently and the attendant risks of not achieving the expected costs savings, other financial and operating benefits or improvement in earnings. Delays or difficulties that may be encountered in connection with the dual-listed company merger and the integration of the two companies' operations could divert management's attention from other strategic opportunities and from operational matters. In turn, this could have an adverse effect on the business, results of operations, financial condition or prospects of the combined company after the dual-listed company merger.

Item 4. Information on the Company

History and Development of the Company

Royal Caribbean International was founded in 1968. The current parent corporation, Royal Caribbean Cruises Ltd., was incorporated on July 23, 1985 in the Republic of Liberia under the Business Corporation Act of Liberia. The address of the principal executive offices is 1050 Caribbean Way, Miami, Florida 33132; the telephone number is (305) 539-6000. Our registered agent is Michael J. Smith, Vice President, General Counsel and Secretary, 1050 Caribbean Way, Miami, Florida 33132.

We are the world's second largest cruise company with 22 cruise ships that have 45,854 berths. We operate our cruise ships through two cruise brands, Royal Caribbean International and Celebrity Cruises.

See Item 5. Operating and Financial Review and Prospects and the Business Overview sections that follow for more information regarding our history and development, significant capital expenditures, vessels under construction and methods of financing.

Business Overview

General

We operate two brands, Celebrity Cruises, which was acquired in July 1997, and Royal Caribbean International. Our brands offer a wide array of shipboard activities, services and amenities, including swimming pools, sun decks, beauty salons, exercise and massage facilities, ice skating rinks, rock climbing walls, gaming facilities, lounges, bars, show-time entertainment, retail shopping and cinemas. Our ships operate on a selection of worldwide itineraries that call on approximately 200 destinations. We compete principally on the basis of quality of service, variety of itineraries and price.

The Royal Caribbean International Brand

Royal Caribbean International serves the volume cruise vacation sector which we categorize as the contemporary and premium segments. The brand operates 14 cruise ships with 31,534 berths, offering various cruise itineraries that range from two to 16 nights and call on destinations throughout the world.

Royal Caribbean International's strategy is to attract an array of vacationing consumers in the contemporary segment by providing a wide variety of itineraries and cruise lengths with multiple options for onboard dining, entertainment, and other onboard activities. Additionally, Royal Caribbean International offers a variety of shore excursions at each port of call. We believe that the variety and quality of Royal Caribbean International's product offerings represent excellent value to consumers, especially to couples and families traveling with children. Because of the brand's extensive product offerings, we believe Royal Caribbean International is well positioned to attract new consumers to the cruise industry and continue to bring past guests back for their next vacation. While the brand is positioned at the upper end of the contemporary segment, we believe that Royal Caribbean International's quality enables it to attract consumers from the premium segment as well, thereby achieving one of the broadest market coverages of any of the major brands in the cruise industry.

The Celebrity Cruises Brand

Celebrity Cruises primarily serves the premium segment. Celebrity Cruises operates eight cruise ships with 14,320 berths and offers various cruise itineraries that range from two to 17 nights.

Celebrity Cruises' strategy is to attract consumers who want an enhanced cruise vacation in terms of modern vessels, gourmet dining and service, extensive and luxurious spa facilities, large staterooms and a high staff-to-guest ratio. These are hallmarks of the premium cruise vacation segment, which is Celebrity Cruises' primary target. Celebrity Cruises also attracts experienced cruisers from the contemporary and luxury cruise categories. Celebrity Cruises is expanding its fleet to provide an increasing variety of itineraries and cruise lengths and therefore has a higher proportion of its fleet deployment in seasonal markets (i.e. Alaska, Bermuda, Europe and South America) than does the Royal Caribbean International brand.

Proposed Dual-Listed Company Merger with P&O Princess

On November 19, 2001, we entered into an agreement with P&O Princess, providing for the combination of Royal Caribbean and P&O Princess as a merger of equals under a dual-listed company structure. The purpose of the combination is to create what we believe would be the world's largest cruise vacation company by combining two companies with a strong strategic fit and meaningful growth opportunities. Each company would bring well known brands operating in key cruise vacation markets to the combined company. Furthermore, we believe that the combined company would have a strong fleet profile and greater access to capital markets, and that the dual-listed company structure would create opportunities for significant cost savings and other financial and operating benefits through the planned integration of the two companies' operations.

The dual-listed company merger would involve a combination of the two companies through a number of contracts and certain amendments to our Articles of Incorporation and By-Laws and to P&O Princess' Articles and Memorandum of Association. The two companies would retain their separate legal identities and maintain their separate stock exchange listings. Royal Caribbean shareholders would continue to hold their shares of common stock in Royal Caribbean, and P&O Princess' shareholders would continue to hold their ordinary shares in P&O Princess. However, the companies would operate and be managed as if they were a single unified economic entity.

Although each of Royal Caribbean and P&O Princess would have a separate board of directors, the boards and senior executive management of each company would comprise the same individuals. The contracts governing the dual-listed company merger would provide that, as far as possible, the shareholders of Royal Caribbean and P&O Princess would be placed in substantially the same economic position as if they held shares in a single enterprise which owned all of the assets of both companies. The net effect of the dual-listed company merger would be that the shareholders of Royal Caribbean would own an economic interest equal to 49.3% of the combined company and the shareholders of P&O Princess would own an economic interest equal to 50.7% of the combined company. Special voting arrangements would be implemented so that the shareholders of both companies would vote together as a single decision-making body in proportion to their respective economic interests on matters requiring the approval of shareholders of either company. Such matters would include the appointment, removal and re-election of directors of each company. In the case of certain matters in relation to which the two bodies of shareholders may have divergent interests, the matter would require the prior approval of the shareholders of both companies, each voting separately as a class.

After completion of the dual-listed company merger, dividends declared by Royal Caribbean would continue to be paid by Royal Caribbean to its shareholders and dividends declared by P&O Princess would continue to be paid by P&O Princess to its shareholders. However, dividends and other distributions to shareholders of the two companies would be effectively equalized on a per share basis based on the prevailing equalization ratio, as determined under the contractual arrangements governing the dual-listed company merger. The payment of dividends by Royal Caribbean would depend on, among other things, the financial and business conditions of the combined company.

The obligations of Royal Caribbean and P&O Princess to effect the dual-listed company merger are subject to the satisfaction of various conditions, including the receipt of certain regulatory approvals and consents and approval by the shareholders of each of Royal Caribbean and P&O Princess. No assurance can be given that all required approvals and consents will be obtained, and if such approvals and consents are obtained, no assurance can be given as to the terms, conditions and timing of the approvals and consents. If the dual-listed company merger is not completed by November 16, 2002, either party can terminate the agreement if it is not in material breach of its obligations thereunder.

In December 2001, Carnival Corporation announced a competing pre-conditional offer to acquire all of the outstanding shares of P&O Princess. In connection with its pre-conditional offer, Carnival solicited proxies from P&O Princess shareholders in favor of an adjournment of the P&O Princess special meeting prior to a shareholder vote to approve the dual-listed company merger. On February 14, 2002, Royal Caribbean and P&O Princess convened special meetings of their respective shareholders to approve the dual-listed company merger. Prior to voting to approve the merger, the shareholders of each company voted to adjourn their respective meetings until an unspecified future date. We do not know at this time the date on which the meetings will be reconvened.

We have undertaken with P&O Princess customary covenants that place restrictions on each of us and our subsidiaries until completion of the dual-listed company merger or earlier termination of the merger agreement. In general, we are each required to conduct our respective businesses in the usual, regular and ordinary course and to use our reasonable best efforts to preserve materially intact our business organizations and present lines of business, to maintain commercially reasonable insurance, to maintain our material rights and franchises and preserve our existing material relationships with third parties.

P&O Princess and we have also agreed that each will not initiate, solicit, encourage or otherwise facilitate any inquiries or any proposal or offer relating to a merger, acquisition or other transaction involving the acquisition of 15% or more of the assets or equity securities of either P&O Princess or us. Subject to certain stated exceptions, both parties have agreed not to have any discussions with or provide any confidential information to any person relating to an acquisition proposal or otherwise facilitate any effort or attempt to make an acquisition proposal.

If the merger agreement is terminated under certain circumstances, we will be obligated to pay P&O Princess a break fee of $62.5 million. These circumstances include, among other things, our board of directors withdrawing or adversely modifying its recommendation to shareholders to approve the dual-listed company merger, our board of directors recommending an alternative acquisition transaction to shareholders, and our shareholders failing to approve the dual-listed company merger if another acquisition proposal with respect to Royal Caribbean exists at that time. Similarly, P&O Princess would be obligated to pay us a break fee of $62.5 million upon the occurrence of reciprocal circumstances.

Joint Venture with P&O Princess

On November 19, 2001, we entered into a joint venture agreement with P&O Princess to jointly create and operate a cruise line company to target customers in southern Europe. The joint venture company is owned 50% by P&O Princess and 50% by us. Each party has committed up to $500.0 million in shareholder equity, with approximately $5.0 million contributed by each party to date and the balance due and payable when called by the joint venture company. We have agreed to assign our ship-build contracts for Serenade of the Seas and Jewel of the Seas to the joint venture company, and P&O Princess has similarly agreed to assign two identified ship-build contracts to the joint venture company. The contracts will be held in trust for the joint venture company pending such assignments. Any payments the parties have made under these contracts prior to assignment will be credited against each party's respective shareholder equity commitment. Subject to the terms of the agreement, the joint venture agreement can be terminated by either party if certain commercial benchmarks have not been achieved by January 1, 2003 or April 1, 2003. The joint venture agreement does not require the approval of the shareholders of Royal Caribbean or P&O Princess.

The joint venture shareholders intend that the joint venture company be financed through third-party indebtedness and each joint venture shareholder has committed to provide necessary credit support in the form of guarantees on a pro rata basis, subject to legal or regulatory restrictions. To the extent that third-party financing cannot be obtained, and if approved in accordance with the terms of the joint venture agreement, the joint venture shareholders will provide financing on a pro rata basis on identical terms. We have obtained commitments for export financing for up to 80% of the contract price of each of the two vessels we have committed to the venture.

Under the joint venture agreement, if a change of control occurs with respect to a joint venture shareholder, the other shareholder has a right to acquire the interest of that shareholder at fair market value in exchange for preferred stock or a 15-year subordinated note (or a combination thereof) of the purchasing shareholder. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the joint venture shareholder subject to a change of control has the right, subject to certain conditions, to put its interest in the joint venture to the other joint venture shareholder at a discount to fair market value in exchange for preferred stock or a 20-year subordinated note (or a combination thereof) of the purchasing shareholder.

Industry

Since 1970, cruising has been one of the fastest growing sectors of the vacation market, as the number of North American guests has grown to an estimated 6.9 million in 2001 from 0.5 million in 1970, a compound annual growth rate of approximately 9%. We have capitalized on the increasing popularity of cruises through an extensive fleet expansion program.

According to our estimates, the North American market was served by an estimated 104 cruise ships with approximately 107,750 berths at the end of 1996. The number of berths in the industry is estimated to have increased to approximately 156,950 berths on 111 ships by the end of 2001. The net increase in capacity over the last five years is inclusive of approximately 36 ships with approximately 27,700 berths that have either been retired or moved out of the North American market. There are a number of cruise ships on order with an estimated 66,500 berths which will be placed in service between 2002 and 2005. Although we cannot predict the rate at which future retirements will occur, we believe ship retirements will continue due to competitive pressures and the age of the vessels.

The following table details the growth in the North American cruise market of both guests and weighted average berths over the past five years:

Year	North American Cruise Guests ⁽¹⁾	Weighted Average Supply of Berths Marketed in North America ⁽²⁾
1997	5,051,000	109,257
1998	5,428,000	118,747
1999	5,894,000	130,152
2000	6,886,000	144,499
2001	6,906,000	151,690

(1) Source: Cruise Lines International Association based on guests carried for at least two consecutive nights.

(2) Source: Our estimates.

Cruise lines compete for consumers' disposable leisure time spending with other vacation alternatives such as land-based resort hotels and sightseeing destinations, and public demand for such activities is influenced by general economic conditions. We believe that cruise guests currently represent only a small share of the vacation market and that a significant portion of cruise guests carried are first-time cruisers.

Our ships operate worldwide and call on destinations in Alaska, Australia/New Zealand, the Bahamas, Bermuda, Canada, the Caribbean, Europe, Hawaii, Mexico, New England, the Panama Canal, Scandinavia and South America.

Competition for cruise guests in all of these geographic areas is vigorous. In most of these areas, we compete with cruise ships owned by other international operators. We compete with a number of cruise lines; however, our principal competitors are Carnival Cruise Line, Holland America Line, Norwegian Cruise Line and Princess Cruises. We compete principally on the basis of quality of service, variety of itineraries and price.

Operating Strategies

Our principal operating strategies are to:

- improve the awareness and market penetration of both brands,
- continue to expand our fleet with state-of-the-art cruise ships,
- improve our competitive position with respect to the quality and innovation of our onboard product,
- expand into new markets and itineraries,
- further expand our international guest sourcing,
- utilize sophisticated yield management systems (revenue optimization per berth),
- further improve our technological capabilities, and
- maintain strong relationships with travel agencies, the principal industry distribution system.

Brand Awareness

Our strategy is to continue to broaden the recognition of both the Royal Caribbean International brand and the Celebrity Cruises brand in the cruise vacation sector. Each brand has a distinct identity and marketing focus but utilizes shared infrastructure resources.

We have positioned the Royal Caribbean International brand in the contemporary and premium segments of the cruise vacation sector. As such, Royal Caribbean International focuses on providing multiple choices to its guests through a variety of itineraries, accommodations, dining options, ship activities and shore excursions. Hallmarks of the brand include friendly and engaging service, modern ships, family programs, entertainment, health and fitness, and activities designed for guests of all ages.

We have positioned the Celebrity Cruises brand in the premium segment of the cruise vacation sector. The brand is recognized for its gourmet dining, impeccable service, large staterooms, a high staff-to-guest ratio and luxurious spa facilities. Among its many awards, Celebrity Cruises was voted the top one and two spots and received four of the top eight spots of 27 vessels honored in the Best Large Ships category of the 2001 Reader's Choice Awards poll by Condé Nast Traveler.

Fleet Expansion

Our current fleet expansion program encompasses three distinct vessel designs known as the Voyager-class, Millennium-class and Radiance-class. Since 1999, we have taken delivery of three Voyager, three Millennium, and one Radiance class vessels. We currently operate 22 ships with 45,854 berths.

Our increased average ship size and number of available berths have enabled us to achieve certain economies of scale. Larger ships allow us to transport more guests than smaller ships without a corresponding increase in certain operating expenses. This increase in fleet size also provides a larger revenue base to absorb our marketing, selling and administrative expenses.

Royal Caribbean International. Founded in 1968, Royal Caribbean International was the first cruise line to design ships especially for warm water year round cruising. Royal Caribbean International operated a modern fleet in the 1970s and early 1980s, establishing a reputation for high quality. Between 1988 and 1992, the brand tripled its capacity by embarking on its first major capital expansion program.

Royal Caribbean International committed to its second capital expansion program with orders for six Vision-class vessels, ranging in size from 1,804 to 2,000 berths, for delivery from 1995 through 1998. During this same period, Royal Caribbean International sold four of its original vessels because these ships were older in age and design and no longer consistent with its image and marketing strategy. Each Vision-class ship features a seven-deck atrium with glass elevators, skylights and glass walls, a pool and entertainment complex covered by a moveable glass roof, hundreds of cabins with verandahs, a two-deck main dining room, a state-of-the-art show theater, a glass-encased indoor/outdoor café and a shopping mall.

Royal Caribbean International is currently engaged in its third capital expansion program. It placed Voyager of the Seas, Explorer of the Seas, and Adventure of the Seas, the first three Voyager-class vessels, in service in the fourth quarters of 1999, 2000, and 2001, respectively. Royal Caribbean International has two additional Voyager-class vessels on order. We believe these Voyager-class vessels are the largest and most innovative passenger cruise ships ever built. Each ship is approximately 140,000 gross tons with 3,114 berths. This new class of vessels is designed to provide more diverse vacation options for families and for those seeking active sports and entertainment alternatives during their vacation experience. Each Voyager-class ship has a variety of unique features: the cruise industry's first horizontal atrium (which is four decks tall, longer than a football field and provides entertainment, shopping and dining experiences), recreational activities such as ice skating, rock climbing, miniature golf and full court basketball, enhanced staterooms, expanded dining options and a variety of intimate spaces.

Royal Caribbean International took delivery of Radiance of the Seas, the first Radiance-class vessel, in March 2001. Royal Caribbean International has three additional Radiance-class vessels on order and options to purchase two more vessels. The Radiance-class vessels (approximately 90,000 gross tons each) are a progression from the brand's Vision-class series and have approximately 2,100 berths each. The Radiance-class ships incorporate many of the dining and entertainment options of the Voyager-class vessels, as well as offer a wide array of unique features. These features include panoramic glass elevators facing outward to the sea, floor to ceiling glass windows offering spectacular sea views, and a billiards club.

Celebrity Cruises. Celebrity Cruises was founded in 1990 and operated three ships between 1992 and 1995. Between 1995 and 1997, Celebrity Cruises undertook its first capital expansion program, adding three Century-class vessels which range in size from 1,750 to 1,850 berths and disposing of one of its original three vessels. Celebrity Cruises is currently engaged in its second capital expansion program and took delivery of Millennium, Infinity and Summit, the first three of the Millennium-class vessels, in June 2000, February 2001 and September 2001, respectively. Celebrity Cruises has one additional Millennium-class vessel, Constellation, on order with an expected delivery in the second quarter of 2002. Each Millennium-class ship has 2,034 berths and is approximately 90,000 gross tons.

The Millennium-class ships are a progression from the Century-class vessels, which have been widely accepted in the premium segment of the marketplace. This new class of vessels builds on the brand's primary strengths, including gourmet dining, spacious staterooms and suites complete with balconies, luxurious spa facilities and impeccable service. On the Millennium-class ships, an entire resort deck is dedicated to health, fitness and the rejuvenating powers of water. Celebrity Cruises' spas are among the most luxurious spas afloat and offer a variety of features, including a large hydropool with neck massage and body jets. Guests can relax in Notes, the music library, smoke cigars at Michael's Club or stop by The Platinum Club for champagne and caviar.

Product Innovation

We recognize the need for new and innovative onboard products and experiences for our guests, which we develop based on guest feedback, crew suggestions and competitive product reviews. Accordingly, we continue to invest in design innovations on new ships and additional product offerings on our existing fleet. Expanded dining options, recreational activities such as ice skating and rock climbing and the latest technology such as our Internet Cafe and interactive television are among the services currently offered.

In 2001, we began the operation of Royal Celebrity Tours, a tour company offering fully-escorted, premium land tour programs in Alaska for guests traveling on our ships. We offer deluxe motorcoach and rail packages with glass-domed railcars that are among the largest in the world. We are adding a third and fourth railcar in 2002, thus doubling the number of guests we can accommodate on our Alaska rail tours. In an effort to further increase our tour presence in North America, we launched a Canadian Rockies tour program for the 2002 season and a Florida tour program for guests originating from Europe.

Worldwide Itineraries

Our ships operate worldwide with a selection of itineraries that call on approximately 200 destinations. New ships allow us to expand into new destinations, itineraries and markets. Royal Caribbean International offers the Exotic Destinations program which provides global cruise itineraries including Australia/New Zealand, Hawaii, and the South Pacific. Celebrity Cruises continues to deploy vessels in the European market, as a strategic initiative. Celebrity Cruises offers *Celebrity Voyages*SM with 10 to 17-night itineraries throughout the Caribbean and South America. We continue to dedicate additional capacity to shorter itineraries with the implementation of four and five-night cruises out of Ft. Lauderdale and San Juan and by establishing a Royal Caribbean International vessel year-round in Port Canaveral to provide three and four-night Bahamas cruises. In addition, both Royal Caribbean International and Celebrity Cruises are expanding their home ports to include Baltimore, Charleston, New Orleans, Galveston and Tampa.

International Guests

In connection with our global expansion, international guests have provided an increasing share of our growth. International guests have grown from approximately 7% of total guests in 1991 to approximately 20% of total guests in 2001. One of our strategies is to use fleet deployment and expanded itineraries to increase our guest sourcing outside North America. Over the past few years, we have increased our investment in information technology spending and increased our international advertising to enhance brand awareness worldwide. We carry out our international sales effort through our sales offices located in London, Frankfurt, Oslo and Genoa, and a network of 40 independent international representatives located throughout the world. We also are able to accept bookings in various currencies. See Note 2 of the Consolidated Financial Statements for additional information on revenues by geographic area for each of the last three financial years.

In connection with our international strategy, in July 2000 we entered into a multi-faceted strategic alliance with First Choice Holidays PLC, one of the United Kingdom's largest integrated tour operators. First Choice Holidays PLC now provides both brands with a significantly larger distribution base in the United Kingdom and access to First Choice Holidays PLC's significant retail outlets, operated under several well-known brand names, as well as use of its new distribution technology, including its unique interactive digital sales technology and online e-retail outlets. We have provided First Choice Holidays PLC with special training and promotional material geared at increasing distribution. This marketing alliance was solidified by our investment of approximately $300 million in convertible preferred stock issued by First Choice Holidays PLC. If fully converted, our holding would represent approximately a 17% interest in First Choice Holidays PLC.

Separately, we entered into a joint venture with First Choice Holidays PLC to launch a new cruise brand, Island Cruises. Viking Serenade, a 1,512-passenger ship which operated under the Royal Caribbean International brand until February 14, 2002, is the first ship operated by Island Cruises. As part of the transaction, Viking Serenade was renamed Island Escape and it offers Mediterranean itineraries in summer and Mexican Baja itineraries in winter.

In November 2001, we entered into a new joint venture agreement with P&O Princess to jointly create and operate a cruise line company to target customers in southern Europe. The joint venture company is owned 50% by P&O Princess and 50% by us. Each party has committed up to $500.0 million in shareholder equity, with approximately $5.0 million contributed by each party to date and the balance due and payable when called by the joint venture company. We have agreed to assign our ship-build contracts for Serenade of the Seas and Jewel of the Seas to the joint venture company, and P&O Princess has similarly agreed to assign two identified ship-build contracts to the joint venture company. Subject to the terms of the agreement, the joint venture agreement can be terminated by either party if certain commercial benchmarks have not been achieved by January 1, 2003 or April 1, 2003.

Revenue Management

We believe we have the most advanced revenue management capabilities in the industry, which enables us to make optimal decisions about pricing, inventory and marketing actions. We are continuously working to refine these systems and tools through increased forecasting capabilities, ongoing improvements to our understanding of price/demand relationships, and greater automation of the decision process.

Technological Development

We have invested heavily in information technology to support our corporate infrastructure and guest and travel trade relations. We now have fully automated our pierside embarkation process, and have developed a corporate shoreside intranet to improve our internal productivity. Both Royal Caribbean International and Celebrity Cruises have extensive websites that are world class marketing portals with consumer booking engines, providing access to millions of Internet users throughout the world. To further enhance our customer service, we have provided on-line access so guests can book shore excursions via our websites up to ten days before sailing. We also have begun installing interactive televisions in guests' staterooms, enabling them to shop for shore excursions, select a dinner wine and monitor their onboard accounts. Other innovations include royalcaribbean online and online@celebritycruises, which allow guests access to the Internet. For the trade, we have cruisingpower.com, a website dedicated to Internet communications with the travel community, which enables fast access to online tools. These online tools include Cruise Match 2000® Online, an internet browser-based booking system, CruisePay, an on-line payment service and Cruise Writer, which provides the capability to customize brochures and flyers. We have also launched CruiseManager, an independent browser-based booking tool through CruisePath Network.

Travel Agency Support

Almost all of the bookings for our ships are made by independent travel agencies and we are committed to supporting the travel agency community. For key accounts, we have moved from a single sales force representing both Royal Caribbean International and Celebrity Cruises to separate sales personnel dedicated to each brand to build service quality and to improve outreach to travel agents. We were the first cruise company to develop an automated booking system for the trade, CruiseMatch®2000. This automated reservations system allows travel agents direct access to our computer reservation system to improve ease of bookings. More than 30,000 independent travel agencies worldwide can book cruises for both brands using CruiseMatch®2000. Our customer service center uses state-of-the-art technology to help travel agents resolve guest service issues prior to sailing. We operate two reservation call centers, one in Miami, Florida and the other in Wichita, Kansas, thereby offering flexibility and extended hours of operations.

Sales, Marketing and Guest Services

Royal Caribbean International has a comprehensive marketing program through which it positions itself as a provider of high quality, excellent value, all-inclusive cruise vacations. Royal Caribbean International's marketing strategies focus on active adults and families who are vacation enthusiasts seeking new experiences, different places, and have a real lust for life.

Celebrity Cruises has recently initiated an integrated targeted marketing strategy. The strategy calls for building relationships with customers by delivering the brand's message to the target customer using direct, one-to-one marketing channels, and measuring results. Celebrity's target customer is the experienced cruiser who appreciates quality and value.

We offer to handle travel aspects related to guest reservations and transportation, particularly arranging guest air transportation, which is one of our important areas of operation. We have developed Custom Air service where guests can now view their flight itineraries 60 days prior to cruise departure and decide to lock-in those flights or choose others. By providing guests their air itineraries earlier, agents and guests can decide if it makes sense for them to take advantage of our Custom Air program. We maintain a comprehensive relationship with many of the major airlines ranging from fare negotiation and space handling to baggage transfer.

Operations

Cruise Ships and Itineraries

We operate 22 ships, under two brands, on a selection of worldwide itineraries ranging from two to 17 nights that call on approximately 200 destinations. The following table represents summary information concerning our ships and their areas of operation based on 2002 itineraries (subject to change):

(1) Vessel is scheduled for delivery in 2002, but is not yet in service.

Currently, the combined fleets of Royal Caribbean International and Celebrity Cruises have an average age of approximately five years, which we believe is the youngest of any major cruise company.

We have six ships on order. The planned berths and expected delivery dates of the ships on order are as follows:

Vessel	Expected Delivery Date	Berths
Royal Caribbean International
Voyager-class:
Navigator of the Seas
1st Quarter 2003	3,114
Mariner of the Seas
1st Quarter 2004	3,114
Brilliance of the Seas
3rd Quarter 2002	2,100
Serenade of the Seas ⁽²⁾
4th Quarter 2003	2,100
Jewel of the Seas ⁽²⁾
2nd Quarter 2004	2,100
Celebrity Cruises
Millennium-class:
Constellation
2nd Quarter 2002	2,034

(1) We have two options on Radiance-class vessels with delivery dates in the third quarters of 2005 and 2006.

(2) These two ships are committed to the new southern European joint venture with P&O Princess.

The Voyager-class vessels are being built in Turku, Finland by Kvaerner-Masa Yards; the Radiance-class vessels are being built in Papenburg, Germany by Meyer Werft; and the Millennium-class vessel is being built by Chantiers de l'Atlantique in St. Nazaire, France.

Shipboard Activities and Shipboard Revenues

There is a wide array of shipboard activities, services and amenities on our ships including swimming pools, sun decks, spa facilities (which include massage and exercise facilities), beauty salons, ice skating rinks, rock climbing walls, gaming facilities (which operate while the ships are at sea), lounges, bars, Las Vegas-style entertainment, retail shopping, libraries, cinemas, conference centers, and shore excursions at each port of call. While many shipboard activities are included in the base price of a cruise, additional revenues are realized from, among other things, gaming, the sale of alcoholic and other beverages, the sale of gift shop items and shore excursions, photography and spa services. In addition, both Royal Caribbean International and Celebrity Cruises offer a catalogue gift service to provide travel agents and others with the opportunity to purchase bon voyage gifts.

Seasonality

Our revenues are seasonal based on the demand for cruises. In recent years, demand has been strongest for cruises during the summer months.

Guests and Capacity

Edgar Filing: ROYAL CARIBBEAN CRUISES LTD - Form 20-F

The following table sets forth the aggregate number of guests carried and the number of guests carried expressed as a percentage of the capacity of our ships:

	Year Ended December 31,
	2001	2000	1999
Number of Guests Carried	2,438,849	2,049,902	1,704,034
Occupancy Percentage
101.8% 104.4% 104.7%

In accordance with cruise industry practice, capacity is determined based on double occupancy per cabin even though some cabins can accommodate three or four guests; accordingly, a percentage in excess of 100% indicates that more than two guests occupied some cabins.

Cruise Pricing

Our cruise prices include a wide variety of activities and amenities, including meals and entertainment. Prices vary depending on the destination, cruise length, cabin category selected and the time of year the voyage takes place. Additionally, we offer air transportation as a service for guests that elect to utilize the air program. Our air transportation prices vary by gateway and destination and are available from cities in the United States, Canada and Europe. Furthermore, we sell insurance which provides guests with coverage for trip cancellation, medical protection and baggage protection.

Suppliers

Our largest purchases are for airfare, food and related items, port facilities, fuel, advertising, and hotel supplies and products related to guest accommodations. Most of the supplies we require are available from numerous sources at competitive prices. None of our suppliers provided goods or services in excess of 10% of our revenues in 2001.

Insurance

We maintain an aggregate of approximately $10 billion of insurance on the hull and machinery of our ships, which includes additional coverage for disbursements, earnings and increased value, which are maintained in amounts related to the value of each vessel. The coverage for each of the hull policies is maintained with syndicates of insurance underwriters from the British, Scandinavian, United States and other international insurance markets.

We maintain liability protection and indemnity insurance on each of our ships through either Assuranceforeningen GARD or the United Kingdom Mutual Steam Ship Assurance Association (Bermuda) Limited.

We maintain war risk insurance on each vessel through a Norwegian war risk insurance organization in an amount equal to the total insured hull value. This coverage includes physical damage to the vessel for which coverage would be excluded by reason of war exclusion clauses in the hull policies. Protection and indemnity war risk coverage is also maintained for risks that would be excluded by the rules of the indemnity insurance organizations, subject to certain limitations.

We also maintain a form of business interruption insurance with our insurance underwriters in the event that a vessel is unable to operate during scheduled cruise periods due to loss or damage to the vessel arising from certain covered events which last more than a specified period of time. Insurance coverage is also maintained for certain events which would result in a delayed delivery of our contracted new vessels, which we normally place starting approximately two years prior to the scheduled delivery dates.

Insurance coverage for shoreside property, shipboard consumables and inventory and general liability risks are maintained with insurance underwriters in the United States and the United Kingdom. We have decided not to carry business interruption insurance for shoreside operations based on our evaluation of the risks involved and our protective measures already in place, as compared to the premium expense.

All insurance coverage is subject to certain limitations, exclusions and deductible levels. In addition, in certain circumstances, we co-insure a portion of these risks. Premiums charged by insurance carriers, including carriers in the maritime insurance industry, increase or decrease from time to time and tend to be cyclical in nature. We historically have been able to obtain insurance coverage in amounts and at premiums we have deemed to be commercially acceptable. No assurance can be given that affordable and secure insurance markets will be available to us in the future, particularly for war risk insurance.

Trademarks

We own a number of registered trademarks relating to, among other things, the name Royal Caribbean and its crown and anchor logo, the name Celebrity and its X logo, and the names of our cruise ships. We believe such trademarks are widely recognized throughout the world and have considerable value.

Regulation

All of our ships are registered in the Bahamas, Liberia, Norway or Panama. Each ship is subject to regulations issued by its country of registry, including regulations issued pursuant to international treaties governing the safety of the ship and its guests. Each country of registry conducts periodic inspections to verify compliance with these regulations. In addition, ships operating out of United States ports are subject to inspection by the United States Coast Guard for compliance with international treaties and by the United States Public Health Service for sanitary conditions.

Our ships are required to comply with international safety standards defined in the Safety of Life at Sea Convention. The Safety of Life at Sea Convention standards are revised from time to time, and the most recent modifications are being phased in through 2010. We do not anticipate that we will be required to make any material expenditures in order to comply with these rules.

In 1993, the Safety of Life at Sea Convention was amended to adopt the International Safety Management Code. The International Safety Management Code provides an international standard for the safe management and operation of ships and for pollution prevention. The International Safety Management Code became mandatory for passenger vessel operators such as ourselves on July 1, 1998.

We are also subject to various United States and international laws and regulations relating to environmental protection. Under such laws and regulations, we are prohibited from, among other things, discharging certain materials, such as petrochemicals and plastics, into the waterways.

We are required to obtain certificates from the United States Federal Maritime Commission relating to our ability to meet liability in cases of nonperformance of obligations to guests as well as casualty and personal injury. Under the Federal Maritime Commission's current regulations, we are required to provide a $15 million bond for each of Royal Caribbean International and Celebrity Cruises as a condition to obtaining the required certificates. The Federal Maritime Commission recently decided to consider various revisions to the financial responsibility regulations which could require us to significantly increase the amount of our bonds and accordingly increase our costs of compliance. We are also required to establish financial responsibility by the U.K. and other jurisdictions for passengers from these jurisdictions.

We are required to obtain certificates from the United States Coast Guard relating to our ability to meet liability in cases of water pollution. Under the United States Coast Guard's current regulations, Royal Caribbean International and Celebrity Cruises are required to provide guarantees of approximately $123.5 million and $81.2 million, respectively, as a condition to obtaining the required certificates.

We believe that we are in material compliance with all the regulations applicable to our ships and that we have all licenses necessary to conduct our business. From time to time various other regulatory and legislative changes have been or may in the future be proposed that could have an effect on the cruise industry in general.

Taxation of the Company

The following discussion of the application of the federal income tax laws to us and to our subsidiaries is based on the current provisions of the Internal Revenue Code; proposed, temporary and final Treasury Department regulations; administrative rulings; and court decisions. All of the foregoing are subject to change, and any change thereto could affect the accuracy of this discussion.

Application of Section 883 of the Internal Revenue Code

We and our subsidiary, Celebrity Cruises Inc., the operator of Celebrity Cruises, are foreign corporations engaged in a trade or business in the United States, and our vessel-owning subsidiaries are foreign corporations that, in many cases, depending upon the itineraries of their vessels, receive income from sources within the United States. Under Section 883 of the Internal Revenue Code, certain foreign corporations are not subject to United States income or branch profits tax on United States source income derived from or incidental to the international operation of a ship or ships, including income from the leasing of such ships.

A foreign corporation will qualify for the benefits of Section 883 of the Internal Revenue Code if in relevant part (i) the foreign country in which the foreign corporation is organized grants an equivalent exemption to corporations organized in the United States and (ii) more than 50% of the value of its capital stock is owned, directly or indirectly, by individuals who are residents of a foreign country that grants such an equivalent exemption to corporations organized in the United States ("qualifying shareholders") or the stock of the corporation (or the direct or indirect corporate parent thereof) is "primarily and regularly traded on an established securities market" in the United States or another qualifying country, such as Norway.

In the opinion of our United States tax counsel, and based on the representations and assumptions set forth therein, we, Celebrity Cruises Inc. and our vessel-owning subsidiaries qualify for the benefits of Section 883 because we and each of those subsidiaries are incorporated in a qualifying jurisdiction and our common stock is primarily and regularly traded on an established securities market in the United States or Norway. In addition, we believe that substantially all of our income is derived from or incidental to the international operation of a ship or ships. Any United States source income not so derived will be subject to United States taxation, but we believe that such income is not a material portion of our total income.

Although no final regulations have been promulgated that explain when stock will be considered "primarily and regularly traded on an established securities market" for purposes of Section 883, regulations on this subject have been proposed by the Internal Revenue Service. The proposed regulations have no current legal effect and may be modified before they are finalized. They provide, in relevant part, that a corporation's stock will satisfy this requirement only if more than 50% is owned by persons who each own less than 5% of the value of the corporation's stock.

Our United States tax counsel expects us to meet the ownership requirements of Section 883 in 2002 and subsequent years because (i) more than 50% of our common stock is owned by persons who each own less than 5% of the value of such stock, directly or by attribution, and (ii) in any event, the regulations as ultimately finalized should permit identifiable direct 5% shareholders and indirect shareholders who hold their interests through 5% shareholders to count favorably toward the 50% test if they reside in qualifying jurisdictions, thereby increasing the margin by which we meet such test. Additionally, in May 2000 our Articles of Incorporation were amended to prohibit any person, other than our two existing largest shareholders, from holding shares that give such person in the aggregate more than 4.9% of the relevant class or classes of our shares except that under Liberian law this amendment may not be enforceable with respect to shares of common stock that were voted against the amendment or that were recorded as abstaining from the vote.

There can be no assurance that the opinions of our United States tax counsel set forth above will be accepted by the Internal Revenue Service or the courts. Furthermore, Section 883 has been the subject of legislative modifications in past years that have had the effect of limiting its availability to certain taxpayers and there can be no assurance that future legislation or certain changes in our stock ownership will not preclude us from obtaining the benefits of Section 883. At this time, however, there is no known limiting legislation pending before the United States Congress.

Taxation in the Absence of an Exemption under Section 883 of the Internal Revenue Code

In the event that we, Celebrity Cruises Inc., or our vessel-owning subsidiaries were to fail to meet the requirements of Section 883 of the Internal Revenue Code, or if such provision were repealed, then, as explained below, such companies would be subject to United States income taxation on only a portion of their income.

Since we and Celebrity Cruises Inc. conduct a trade or business in the United States, we and Celebrity Cruises Inc. would be taxable at regular corporate rates on our company taxable income (i.e., without regard to the income of our vessel-owning subsidiaries), from United States sources, which includes 100% of income, if any, from transportation which begins and ends in the United States (not including possessions of the United States), 50% of income from transportation which either begins or ends in the United States, and no income from transportation which neither begins nor ends in the United States. The legislative history of the transportation income source rules suggests that a cruise that begins and ends in a United States port, but that calls on more than one foreign port, will derive United States source income only from the first and last legs of such cruise. Because there are no regulations or other Internal Revenue Service interpretations of these rules, the applicability of the transportation income source rules in the aforesaid favorable manner is not free from doubt. In addition, if any of our earnings and profits effectively connected with our United States trade or business are withdrawn or are deemed to have been withdrawn from our United States trade or business, such withdrawn amount would be subject to a branch profits tax at the rate of 30%. The amount of such earnings and profits would be equal to the aforesaid United States source income, with certain generally minor adjustments, less income taxes. Finally, we and Celebrity Cruises Inc. would also be potentially subject to tax on portions of certain interest paid by us at rates of up to 30%.

If Section 883 of the Internal Revenue Code were not available to a vessel-owning subsidiary, such subsidiary would be subject to a special 4% tax on its United States source gross transportation income, if any, each year because its income is derived from the leasing of a vessel and because it does not have a fixed place of business in the United States. Such United States source gross transportation income may be determined under any reasonable method, including ratios based upon (i) days traveling directly to or from United States ports to total days traveling; or (ii) the lessee's United States source gross income from the vessel (as determined under the source rules discussed in the preceding paragraph, and subject to the assumptions and qualifications set forth therein) to the lessee's total gross income from the vessel.

Organizational Structure

We hold directly or indirectly all of the voting stock of the following significant subsidiaries:

Information about our cruise ships including their size and primary areas of operation may be found within the Fleet Expansion and Cruise Ships and Itineraries sections within Business Overview, Item 4. Information regarding our cruise ships under construction, estimated expenditures and financing may be found within the Fleet Expansion, Future Commitments, and Funding Sources sections of Item 5. Information about leased vessels and encumbrances on vessels may be found within the Material Contracts section of Item 10.

Our principal executive office and shoreside operations are located at the Port of Miami, Florida where we lease three office buildings totaling approximately 359,430 square feet from Miami-Dade County, Florida under long-term leases with initial terms expiring in various years on and after 2011. We also lease space in Wichita, Kansas for use primarily as an additional reservation center and in Miramar, Florida for use primarily as additional office space. The office space in Miramar, Florida is currently unoccupied except for a portion which is under a temporary sublease.

Royal Caribbean International operates two private destinations: (i) an island we own in the Bahamas which we call CocoCay; and (ii) Labadee, a secluded peninsula which we lease and is located on the north coast of Haiti.

We believe that our facilities are adequate for our current needs. We evaluate our needs periodically and obtain additional facilities when considered necessary.

Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Certain statements under this caption Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations, in our letter to shareholders and elsewhere in this document constitute forward-looking statements under the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Forward-looking statements do not guarantee future performance and may involve risks, uncertainties and other factors which could cause our actual results, performance or achievements to differ materially from the future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied in those forward-looking statements. Examples of these risks, uncertainties and other factors include, but are not limited to:

- general economic and business conditions,
- cruise industry competition,
- changes in vacation industry capacity, including cruise capacity,
- the impact of tax laws and regulations affecting our business or our principal shareholders,
- the impact of changes in other laws and regulations affecting our business,
- the impact of pending or threatened litigation,
- the delivery of scheduled new vessels,
- emergency ship repairs,
- incidents involving cruise vessels at sea,
- reduced consumer demand for cruises as a result of any number of reasons, including armed conflict, political instability, or the unavailability of air service,
- changes in interest rates or oil prices, and
- weather.

The above examples may not be exhaustive and new risks emerge from time to time. We undertake no obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.

General

Summary

We reported net income and earnings per share for the year ended December 31, 2001 as shown in the table below. Net income decreased 42.9% to $254.5 million or $1.32 per share on a diluted basis in 2001 compared to $445.4 million or $2.31 per share in 2000. The decrease in net income is primarily the result of lost revenues and additional costs associated with events related to September 11, 2001, and ships out of service. Additionally, net income was impacted by a decline in net revenues per available passenger cruise day due to a general softness in the U.S. economy and a significant growth of our fleet capacity. The increase in capacity is associated with the addition of Millennium and Explorer of the Seas in 2000 and Infinity, Radiance of the Seas, Summit, and Adventure of the Seas in 2001.

Net income for 2001 was adversely impacted by approximately $47.7 million due to lost revenues and extra costs directly associated with passengers not being able to reach their departure ports during the weeks following the terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001 and costs associated with business decisions taken in the aftermath of the attacks. Also, net income was negatively impacted by approximately $30.7 million from the cancellation of nine weeks of sailings due to ship incidents, partially offset by $14.0 million related to insurance claims from prior years. Net income for 1999 was adversely impacted by $17.3 million of non-recurring settlement-related charges and by $12.8 million, net of insurance recoveries, for ships out of service. Accordingly, on a comparable basis, before the impact of September 11, 2001, ships out of service, insurance claims and the settlement charges, earnings were $318.9 million or $1.65 per share in 2001 versus $445.4 million or $2.31 per share in 2000 and $414.0 million or $2.22 per share in 1999. There were no significant events or circumstances in 2000 for which an adjustment was appropriate to make 2000 net income comparable to adjusted 2001 and 1999 earnings.

Proposed Dual-listed Company Merger with P&O Princess Cruises plc

On November 19, 2001, we entered into an agreement with P&O Princess Cruises plc (P&O Princess), providing for the combination of Royal Caribbean and P&O Princess as a merger of equals under a dual-listed company structure. If the dual-listed company merger is completed, it would involve a combination of the two companies through a number of contracts and certain amendments to our Articles of Incorporation and By-Laws and to P&O Princess Articles and Memorandum of Association. The two companies would retain their separate legal identities but would operate as if they were a single unified economic entity. The contracts governing the dual-listed company merger would provide that the boards of directors of the two companies would be identical and that, as far as possible, the shareholders of Royal Caribbean and P&O Princess would be placed in substantially the same economic position as if they held shares in a single enterprise which owned all of the assets of both companies. The net effect of the dual-listed company merger would be that the shareholders of Royal Caribbean would own an economic interest equal to 49.3% of the combined company and the shareholders of P&O Princess would own an economic interest equal to 50.7% of the combined company.

The obligations of Royal Caribbean and P&O Princess to effect the dual-listed company merger are subject to the satisfaction of various conditions, including the receipt of certain regulatory approvals and consents and approval by the shareholders of each of Royal Caribbean and P&O Princess. No assurance can be given that all required approvals and consents will be obtained, and if such approvals and consents are obtained, no assurance can be given as to the terms, conditions and timing of the approvals and consents. If the dual-listed company merger is not completed by November 16, 2002, either party can terminate the agreement if it is not in material breach of its obligations thereunder. We have incurred, and continue to incur, costs which have been or will be deferred in connection with the dual-listed company merger. In the event the transaction is not consummated, we would be required to write these costs off, resulting in an estimated impact to earnings of approximately $15 million. If the dual-listed company merger is completed, these deferred costs, together with additional costs, would be capitalized as part of the transaction.

If the merger agreement is terminated under certain circumstances, we would be obligated to pay P&O Princess a break fee of $62.5 million. These circumstances include, among other things, our board of directors withdrawing or adversely modifying its recommendation to shareholders to approve the dual-listed company merger, our board of directors recommending an alternative acquisition transaction to shareholders, and our shareholders failing to approve the dual-listed company merger if another acquisition proposal with respect to Royal Caribbean exists at that time. Similarly, P&O Princess would be obligated to pay us a break fee of $62.5 million upon the occurrence of reciprocal circumstances.

In December 2001, Carnival Corporation (Carnival) announced a competing pre-conditional offer to acquire all of the outstanding shares of P&O Princess. In connection with its preconditional offer, Carnival solicited proxies from P&O Princess shareholders in favor of an adjournment of the P&O Princess special meeting prior to a shareholder vote to approve the dual-listed company merger. On February 14, 2002, Royal Caribbean and P&O Princess convened special meetings of their respective shareholders to approve the dual-listed company merger. Prior to voting to approve the merger, the shareholders of each company voted to adjourn their respective meetings until an unspecified future date. We do not know at this time the date on which the meetings will be reconvened.

Joint Venture with P&O Princess

On November 19, 2001, we entered into a joint venture agreement with P&O Princess to target customers in southern Europe. The joint venture company is owned 50% by P&O Princess and 50% by us. Each party has committed up to $500.0 million in shareholder equity, with approximately $5.0 million contributed by each party to date and the balance due and payable when called by the joint venture company. Each party has agreed to assign two identified ship-build contracts to the joint venture company, which will be held in trust for the joint venture company pending such assignments. Any payments we have made under these contracts prior to assignment will be credited against our shareholder equity commitment. Subject to the terms of the agreement, the joint venture agreement can be terminated by either party if certain commercial benchmarks have not been achieved by January 1, 2003 or April 1, 2003. The joint venture agreement does not require the approval of the shareholders of Royal Caribbean or P&O Princess. (See Future Commitments.)

Fleet Expansion

Our current fleet expansion program encompasses three distinct vessel designs known as the Voyager-class, Millennium-class and Radiance-class. Since 1999, we have taken delivery of three Voyager, three Millennium and one Radiance class vessels. We currently operate 22 ships with 45,854 berths.

We have six ships on order. The planned berths and expected delivery dates of the ships on order are as follows:

Vessel	Expected Delivery Date	Berths
Royal Caribbean International
Voyager-class:
Navigator of the Seas
1st Quarter 2003	3,114
Mariner of the Seas
1st Quarter 2004	3,114
Brilliance of the Seas
3rd Quarter 2002	2,100
Serenade of the Seas ⁽²⁾
4th Quarter 2003	2,100
Jewel of the Seas ⁽²⁾
2nd Quarter 2004	2,100

Celebrity Cruises

Millennium-class:

Constellation

2nd Quarter 2002 2,034

(1) We have two options on Radiance-class vessels with delivery dates in the third quarters of 2005 and 2006.

(2) These two ships are committed to the new southern European joint venture with P&O Princess.

We believe the Voyager-class vessels are the largest and the most innovative passenger cruise ships ever built. The Radiance-class vessels are a progression from Royal Caribbean International's Vision-class vessels, while the Millennium-class ships are a progression from Celebrity Cruises' Century-class vessels.

Critical Accounting Policies

Our consolidated financial statements are prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States, which require us to make estimates. (See Notes 1 and 2 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.) Certain of our accounting policies are deemed critical, as they require management's highest degree of judgment, estimates and assumptions. A discussion of what we believe to be our most critical accounting policies follows:

Ship Accounting

Our ships represent our most significant asset, and we state them at cost less accumulated depreciation and amortization. Depreciation of vessels, which includes amortization of vessels under capital leases, is computed net of a 15% projected residual value using the straight-line method over estimated service lives of primarily 30 years. Significant vessel improvement costs are capitalized as additions to the vessel versus a repair and maintenance activity, which is charged to expense. Our depreciation and amortization assumptions take into consideration the impact of anticipated technological changes, long-term cruise and vacation market conditions and historical useful lives of similarly-built ships. Given the very large and complex nature of our ships, our accounting estimates related to ships and determinations of vessel improvement costs to be capitalized require considerable judgment and are inherently uncertain. Should certain factors or circumstances cause us to revise our estimate of ship service lives or projected residual values, depreciation expense could be materially lower or higher. If circumstances cause us to change our assumptions in making determinations as to whether vessel improvements should be capitalized, the amounts we expense each year as repairs and maintenance costs could increase, partially offset by a decrease in depreciation expense.

Valuation of Long-lived Assets and Goodwill

We review long-lived assets and goodwill for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of these assets may not be fully recoverable. The assessment of possible impairment is based on our ability to recover the carrying value of our asset based on our estimate of its undiscounted future cash flows. If these estimated future cash flows are less than the carrying value of the asset, an impairment charge is recognized for the difference between the asset's estimated fair value and its carrying value.

The determination of fair value is based on quoted market prices in active markets, if available. Such markets are often not available for used cruise ships. Accordingly, we also base fair value on independent appraisals, sales price negotiations and projected future cash flows discounted at a rate determined by management to be commensurate with our business risk. The estimation of fair value utilizing discounted forecasted cash flows includes numerous uncertainties which require our significant judgment when making assumptions of revenues, operating costs, marketing, selling and administrative expenses, interest rates, ship additions and retirements, cruise industry competition and general economic and business conditions, among other factors.

Upon adoption of Financial Accounting Standards No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets on January 1, 2002, we ceased to amortize goodwill; goodwill amortization was $10.4 million in 2001. In addition, we are required to perform an initial impairment review of our goodwill upon adoption and an annual impairment review thereafter. We currently do not expect to record an impairment charge upon completion of the initial impairment review.

If there is a material change in the assumptions used in our determination of fair values or if there is a material change in the conditions or circumstances influencing fair value, we could be required to recognize a material impairment charge.

Contingencies Litigation

On an ongoing basis, we assess the potential liabilities related to any lawsuits or claims brought against us. While it is typically very difficult to determine the timing and ultimate outcome of such actions, we use our best judgment to determine if it is probable that we will incur an expense related to the settlement or final adjudication of such matters and whether a reasonable estimation of such probable loss, if any, can be made. In assessing probable losses, we make estimates of the amount of insurance recoveries, if any. We accrue a liability when we believe a loss is probable and the amount of loss can be reasonably estimated. Due to the inherent uncertainties related to the eventual outcome of litigation and potential insurance recovery, it is possible that certain matters may be resolved for amounts materially different from any provisions or disclosures that we have previously made.

Proposed Statement of Position

On June 29, 2001, the Accounting Standards Executive Committee of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants issued a proposed Statement of Position, Accounting for Certain Costs and Activities Related to Property, Plant and Equipment. Under the proposed Statement of Position, we would be required to adopt a component method of accounting for our ships. Using this method, each component of a ship would be identified as an asset and depreciated over its own separate expected useful life. In addition, we would have to expense drydocking costs as incurred which differs from our current policy of accruing future drydocking costs evenly over the period to the next scheduled drydocking. Lastly, liquidated damages received from shipyards as mitigation of consequential economic costs incurred as a result of the late delivery of a new vessel would have to be recorded as a reduction of the ship's cost basis versus our current treatment of recording liquidated damages as nonoperating income. If adopted, the proposed Statement of Position would be effective for us beginning on January 1, 2003. We have not yet analyzed the impact that this proposed Statement of Position would have on our results of operation or financial position, as we are uncertain whether, or in what form, it will be adopted.

Results of Operations

The following table presents operating data as a percentage of revenues. As a result of the events of September 11, 2001, ships out of service and certain other items, not all operating margins are comparative year over year.

Revenues

Revenues increased 9.7% to $3.1 billion from $2.9 billion for the same period in 2000. The increase in revenues was due primarily to a 20.8% increase in capacity, partially offset by a 9.1% decline in gross revenue per available passenger cruise day. The increase in capacity was primarily due to the addition of Millennium and Explorer of the Seas in 2000, and Infinity, Radiance of the Seas, Summit and Adventure of the Seas in 2001. The increase in new capacity was partially offset by the cancellation of 14 weeks of sailings due to ship incidents and the events of September 11, 2001. The decline in gross revenue per available passenger cruise day was primarily attributed to the events related to September 11, 2001, a general softness in the U.S. economy and a significant growth of our fleet capacity. Net revenue per available passenger cruise day for 2001 declined 9.1% from the prior year. Occupancy for 2001 was 101.8% compared to 104.4% in 2000.

Starting in early 2001, we experienced a softness in bookings which we attribute to the weakening U.S. economy. By mid-summer, we started to see a recovery in this trend, with booking volume and pricing improving. Following the terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001, there was a substantial drop in bookings and an increase in cancellations. After the initial decline, bookings gradually improved, prompted initially by substantial discounts. Pricing began to recover by mid-November. Booking patterns, which shifted to closer-in sailing dates following September 11, also began to return to pre-September 11 patterns.

Expenses

Operating expenses increased 17.1% to $1.9 billion in 2001 compared to $1.7 billion for the same period in 2000. The increase is primarily due to additional costs associated with increased capacity.

Marketing, selling and administrative expenses increased 10.0% to $454.1 million in 2001 from $412.8 million in 2000. On a per available passenger cruise day basis, marketing, selling and administrative expenses decreased 8.9% due primarily to economies of scale and cost containment efforts, partially offset by business decisions taken subsequent to the events of September 11, 2001 involving itinerary changes, office closures, and severance costs related to a reduction in force. Marketing, selling and administrative expenses as a percentage of revenues were 14.4% for 2001 and 2000.

Cost savings initiatives from 2000 and 2001 contributed to a 4.5% reduction in operating costs and marketing, selling and administrative expenses on a per available passenger cruise day basis, excluding fuel costs, in 2001 compared to 2000. We expect a similar improvement in 2002.

Depreciation and amortization increased 30.4% to $301.2 million in 2001 from $231.0 million in 2000. The increase is primarily due to incremental depreciation associated with the addition of new ships.

Other Income (Expense)

Gross interest expense (excluding capitalized interest) increased to $290.2 million in 2001 compared to $198.5 million in 2000. The increase is due primarily to an increase in the average debt level associated with our fleet expansion program, partially offset by a reduction in our weighted average interest rate. Capitalized interest decreased from $44.2 million in 2000 to $37.0 million in 2001 due to a lower average level of investment in ships under construction and lower interest rates.

Included in Other income (expense) in 2001 and 2000 is $19.4 million and $9.2 million, respectively, of dividend income from our investment in convertible preferred stock of First Choice Holidays PLC and $7.2 million and $10.2 million in 2001 and 2000, respectively, of compensation from a shipyard related to the delivery of ships. (See Liquidity and Capital Resources.)

Revenues increased 12.6% to $2.9 billion in 2000 compared to $2.5 billion for the same period in 1999. The increase in revenues is due to a 16.4% increase in capacity partially offset by a 3.3% decline in gross revenue per available passenger cruise day. The increase in capacity is primarily associated with the addition to the fleet of Voyager of the Seas in 1999, and Millennium and Explorer of the Seas in 2000. The decline in gross revenue per available passenger cruise day was due to lower cruise ticket prices, a lower percentage of guests electing to use our air program and lower shipboard revenue per diems due to a higher use of concessionaires onboard the Royal

Caribbean International vessels in 2000. Concessionaires pay us a net commission, which is recorded as revenue, in contrast to in-house operations, where shipboard revenues and related cost of sales are recorded on a gross basis. Net revenue per available passenger cruise day for 2000 was approximately the same as in 1999. Occupancy for 2000 was 104.4% compared to 104.7% in 1999.

Expenses

Operating expenses increased 10.4% to $1.7 billion in 2000 as compared to $1.5 billion in 1999. The increase is primarily due to additional costs associated with increased capacity and an increase in fuel costs, partially offset by a decrease in air expenses due to a lower percentage of guests electing to use our air program, as well as lower shipboard cost of sales due to the increased use of concessionaires as discussed previously. Included in 1999 operating expenses are charges of $17.3 million related to settlements with the U.S. Department of Justice and the State of Alaska. Excluding the settlements, operating expenses as a percentage of revenues decreased to 57.7% in 2000 from 58.1% in 1999.

Marketing, selling and administrative expenses increased 11.0% to $412.8 million in 2000 from $371.8 million in 1999. The increase is primarily due to television advertising costs associated with our new advertising campaigns to promote brand awareness, as well as increased administrative staffing levels and investment in information technology to support our growth. Marketing, selling and administrative expenses as a percentage of revenues decreased from 14.6% in 1999 to 14.4% in 2000.

Depreciation and amortization increased 16.7% to $231.0 million in 2000 from $197.9 million in 1999. The increase is due to incremental depreciation associated with the addition of new ships, as well as shoreside capital expenditures primarily related to information technology in support of our growth plans.

Other Income (Expense)

Gross interest expense (excluding capitalized interest) increased to $198.5 million in 2000 as compared to $165.2 million in 1999. The increase is due primarily to higher debt levels associated with our fleet expansion program and higher interest rates. Capitalized interest increased $9.6 million from $34.6 million in 1999 to $44.2 million in 2000, due to an increase in expenditures related to ships under construction.

Included in Other income (expense) in 2000 is approximately $10.2 million of compensation from a shipyard related to the delivery of Millennium and $9.2 million of dividend income from our July 2000 investment in convertible preferred stock of First Choice Holidays PLC. (See Liquidity and Capital Resources.) Included in Other income (expense) in 1999 is $26.5 million of loss-of-hire insurance resulting from ships out of service.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Sources and Uses of Cash

Net cash provided by operating activities was $633.7 million in 2001 as compared to $703.3 million in 2000 and $583.4 million in 1999. The change in each year was primarily due to fluctuations in net income.

During the year ended December 31, 2001, our capital expenditures were approximately $2.1 billion, consisting of approximately $1.8 billion in cash payments and approximately $0.3 billion related to the acquisition of a vessel through debt, as compared to $1.3 billion during 2000 and $1.0 billion during 1999. The largest portion of capital expenditures related to the deliveries of Infinity, Radiance of the Seas, Summit, and Adventure of the Seas in 2001; Millennium and Explorer of the Seas in 2000; and Voyager of the Seas in 1999, as well as progress payments for ships under construction in all years.

Capitalized interest decreased to $37.0 million in 2001 from $44.2 million in 2000 due to a lower average level of investment in ships under construction and lower interest rates. Capitalized interest increased to $44.2 million in 2000 from $34.6 million in 1999 due to an increase in expenditures related to ships under construction.

During 2001, we received net cash proceeds of $1.8 billion from the issuance of Senior Notes, Liquid Yield Option Notes, Zero Coupon Convertible Notes, term loans, and drawings on our revolving credit facility. We also incurred additional debt of $0.3 billion related to the acquisition of a vessel. During 2000, we received net proceeds of $1.2 billion from the issuance of term loans, and drawings on our revolving credit facility. These funds were used for ship deliveries and general corporate purposes, including capital expenditures. (See Note 6 Long-Term Debt.)

The Liquid Yield Option Notes and the Zero Coupon Convertible Notes are zero coupon bonds with yields to maturity of 4.875% and 4.75%, respectively, due 2021. Each Liquid Yield Option Note and Zero Coupon Convertible Note was issued at a price of $381.63 and $391.06, respectively, and will have a principal amount at maturity of $1,000. The Liquid Yield Option Notes and Zero Coupon Convertible Notes are convertible at the option of the holder into 17.7 million and 13.8 million shares of common stock, respectively, if the market price of our common stock reaches certain levels. These conditions were not met at December 31, 2001 for the Liquid Yield Option Notes or the Zero Coupon Convertible Notes and therefore, the shares issuable upon conversion are not included in the earnings per share calculation.

We may redeem the Liquid Yield Option Notes beginning on February 2, 2005, and the Zero Coupon Convertible Notes beginning on May 18, 2006, at their accreted values for cash as a whole at any time, or from time to time in part. Holders may require us to purchase any outstanding Liquid Yield Option Notes at their accreted value on February 2, 2005 and February 2, 2011 and any outstanding Zero Coupon Convertible Notes at their accreted value on May 18, 2004, May 18, 2009, and May 18, 2014. We may choose to pay the purchase price in cash or common stock or a combination thereof. In addition, we have a three-year, $345.8 million unsecured variable rate term loan facility available to us should the holders of the Zero Coupon Convertible Notes require us to purchase their notes on May 18, 2004.

In July 2000, we invested approximately $300 million in convertible preferred stock issued by First Choice Holidays PLC. Independently, we entered into a joint venture with First Choice Holidays PLC to launch a new cruise brand, Island Cruises. As part of the transaction, ownership of Viking Serenade was transferred to the new joint venture at a valuation of $95.4 million. The contribution of Viking Serenade represents our 50% investment in the joint venture, as well as $47.7 million in proceeds used towards the purchase price of the convertible preferred stock.

We made principal payments totaling approximately $45.6 million, $128.1 million and $127.9 million under various term loans and capital leases during 2001, 2000 and 1999, respectively.

During 2001, 2000 and 1999, we paid quarterly cash dividends on our common stock totaling $100.0 million, $91.3 million and $69.1 million, respectively. In April 2000, we redeemed all outstanding shares of our convertible preferred stock and dividends ceased to accrue. We paid quarterly cash dividends on our convertible preferred stock totaling $3.1 million and $12.5 million in 2000 and 1999, respectively.

In 1999, we issued 10,825,000 shares of common stock. The net proceeds were approximately $487.4 million. (See Note 7 Shareholders Equity.)

Future Commitments

We currently have six ships on order for an additional capacity of 14,562 berths. The aggregate contract price of the six ships, which excludes capitalized interest and other ancillary costs, is approximately $2.6 billion, of which we have deposited $316.5 million as of December 31, 2001. Additional deposits are due prior to the dates of delivery of $127.0 million in 2002 and $5.2 million in 2003. We anticipate that overall capital expenditures will be approximately $1.1 billion, $1.1 billion and $1.0 billion for 2002, 2003 and 2004, respectively. Two of the ships on order, with an aggregate capacity of 4,200 berths, are committed to the joint venture with P&O Princess. The aggregate contract price of these two ships, excluding capitalized interest and other ancillary costs, is approximately $0.8 billion and is included in our projected capital costs above.

In June 2001, we deferred our options to purchase two additional Radiance-class vessels with delivery dates in the third quarters of 2005 and 2006. The options have an aggregate contract price of $804.6 million. Our right to cancel the options was extended to on or before July 26, 2002.

Pursuant to the joint venture agreement entered into in November 2001 with P&O Princess, we have committed up to $500.0 million in shareholder equity, with approximately $5.0 million contributed to date and the balance due and payable when called by the joint venture company. We have agreed to assign our ship-build contracts for Serenade of the Seas and Jewel of the Seas to the joint venture company. The aggregate contract price of these two ships, excluding capitalized interest and other ancillary costs, is approximately $0.8 billion, of which we have deposited $79.3 million as of December 31, 2001. Also, we have obtained commitments for export financing for up to 80% of the contract price of these two vessels. Any payments we have made under these contracts prior to assignment will be credited against our shareholder equity commitment. The joint venture shareholders intend that the joint venture company be financed through third-party indebtedness and each joint venture shareholder has committed to provide necessary credit support in the form of guarantees on a pro rata basis, subject to legal or regulatory restrictions. To the extent that third-party financing cannot be obtained, and if approved in accordance with the terms of the joint venture agreement, the joint venture shareholders will provide financing on a pro rata basis on identical terms. Subject to the terms of the joint venture agreement, the agreement can be terminated by either party if certain commercial benchmarks have not been achieved by January 1, 2003 or April 1, 2003.

Under the joint venture agreement, if a change of control occurs with respect to a joint venture shareholder, the other shareholder has a right to acquire the interest of that shareholder at fair market value in exchange for preferred stock or a 15-year subordinated note (or a combination thereof) of the purchasing shareholder. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the joint venture shareholder subject to a change of control has the right, subject to certain conditions, to put its interest in the joint venture to the other joint venture shareholder at a discount to fair market value in exchange for preferred stock or a 20-year subordinated note (or a combination thereof) of the purchasing shareholder.

We have $5.6 billion of long-term debt of which $238.6 million is due during the 12-month period ending December 31, 2002. The vast majority of our property and equipment consists of vessels. We own all but two ships, which were financed with capital leases. These capital lease obligations are included as a component of long-term debt. (See Note 6 Long-Term Debt.)

We are obligated under noncancelable operating leases primarily for office and warehouse facilities, computer equipment and motor vehicles. As of December 31, 2001, future minimum lease payments under noncancelable operating leases aggregated to $87.9 million, due primarily through 2016. We have future commitments to pay for our usage of certain port facilities, maintenance contracts and communication services aggregating $228.2 million, due through 2014. (See Note 12 Commitments and Contingencies.)

As a normal part of our business, depending on market conditions, pricing and our overall growth strategy, we continuously consider opportunities to enter into contracts for the building of additional ships. We may also consider the sale of ships. We continuously consider potential acquisitions and strategic alliances. If any of these were to occur, they would be financed through the incurrence of additional indebtedness, the issuance of additional shares of equity securities or through cash flows from operations.

Funding Sources

As of December 31, 2001, our liquidity was $1.4 billion consisting of approximately $0.7 billion in cash and cash equivalents and approximately $0.7 billion available under our $1.0 billion unsecured revolving credit facility. Our $1.0 billion revolving credit facility expires June 2003. Any amounts outstanding at that time will be payable immediately if the facility is not renewed. We intend to renew or replace this facility prior to its expiration date. The margin and facility fee under our $1.0 billion unsecured revolving credit facility and the $625.0 million unsecured term loan vary with our credit rating and were increased 0.20% and 0.25%, respectively, as a result of the lowering of our credit rating by Standard & Poors to BB+ and Moody's to Ba2 in the fourth quarter of 2001 and currently are at their highest contractual levels. In addition, we have obtained commitments for export financing for up to 80% of the contract price of three of the six ships currently on order, Constellation, Serenade of the Seas and Jewel of the Seas (or up to $1.0 billion in aggregate for the three ships). Capital expenditures and scheduled debt payments will be funded through a combination of cash flows provided by operations, drawdowns under our available credit facility, the incurrence of additional indebtedness and the sales of equity or debt securities in private or public securities markets. The terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001 and the lowering of our credit ratings by Standard & Poors and Moody's have adversely impacted terms and availability of financing in the financial markets, and it is indeterminable how long this situation will continue. Therefore, there can be no assurances that cash flows from operations and additional financings from external sources will be available in accordance with our expectations.

Our debt agreements contain covenants that require us, among other things, to maintain minimum liquidity, net worth, and fixed charge coverage ratio and limit our debt to capital ratio. We are in compliance with all covenants as of December 31, 2001.

Financial Instruments and Other

General

We are exposed to market risk attributable to changes in interest rates, foreign currency exchange rates and commodity prices. We minimize these risks through a combination of our normal operating and financing activities and through the use of derivative financial instruments pursuant to our hedging practices and policies. The financial impacts of these hedging instruments are primarily offset by corresponding changes in the underlying exposures being hedged. We achieve this by closely matching the amount, term and conditions of the derivative instrument with the underlying risk being hedged. We do not hold or issue derivative financial instruments for trading or other speculative purposes. Derivative positions are monitored using techniques including market valuations and sensitivity analyses.

Interest Rate Risk

Our exposure to market risk for changes in interest rates relates to our long-term debt obligations. Market risk associated with our long-term fixed rate debt is the potential increase in fair value resulting from a decrease in interest rates. Market risk associated with our variable rate debt is the potential increase in interest expense from an increase in interest rates. We enter into interest rate swap agreements to modify our exposure to interest rate movements and to manage our interest expense. At December 31, 2001, our interest rate swap agreements effectively changed $525.0 million of fixed rate debt with a weighted-average fixed rate of 7.3% to LIBOR-based floating rate debt. At December 31, 2001, 58% of our debt was effectively fixed and 42% was floating. The estimated fair value of our long-term debt at December 31, 2001, excluding our Liquid Yield Option Notes and Zero Coupon Convertible Notes, was $4.3 billion using quoted market prices, where available, or using discounted cash flow analyses based on market rates available to us for similar debt with the same remaining maturities. The fair value of our interest rate swap agreements was estimated to be $35.7 million as of December 31, 2001 based on quoted market prices for similar or identical financial instruments to those we hold. A hypothetical 10% decrease in assumed interest rates at December 31, 2001 would increase the fair value of our long-term fixed rate debt by approximately $45.1 million, net of an increase in the fair value of our interest rate swap agreements. A hypothetical 10% increase in assumed interest rates at December 31, 2001 would increase our 2002 interest expense by approximately $3.4 million.

Convertible Notes

The fair values of our Liquid Yield Option Notes and Zero Coupon Convertible Notes fluctuate with the price of our common stock and at December 31, 2001 were $470.2 million and $306.3 million, respectively. A hypothetical 10% decrease or increase in our December 31, 2001 common stock price would decrease or increase the value of our Liquid Yield Option Notes and Zero Coupon Convertible Notes by $17.2 million and $22.4 million, respectively.

Foreign Currency Exchange Rate Risk

Our primary exposure to foreign currency exchange rate risk relates to our firm commitments under two vessel construction contracts denominated in euros. We enter into foreign currency forward contracts to manage this risk and were substantially hedged as of December 31, 2001. The fair value of our contracts at December 31, 2001, was an unrealized loss of $99.3 million which is recorded, along with an offsetting $99.3 million fair value asset related to our vessel construction contracts, on our accompanying 2001 balance sheet. A hypothetical 10% strengthening of the U.S. dollar as of December 31, 2001, assuming no changes in comparative interest rates, would result in an $89.5

million decrease in the fair value of these contracts. This decrease in fair value would be fully offset by a decrease in the U.S. dollar value of the related foreign currency denominated vessel construction contracts.

We are also exposed to foreign currency exchange rate fluctuations on the U.S. dollar value of our foreign currency denominated forecasted transactions. To manage this exposure, we take advantage of any natural offsets of our foreign currency revenues and expenses and enter into foreign currency forward contracts and/or option contracts for a portion of the remaining exposure related to these forecasted transactions. Our principal net foreign currency exposure relates to the Norwegian kroner and the euro. At December 31, 2001, the estimated fair value of such contracts was an unrealized gain of approximately $0.2 million based on quoted market prices for equivalent instruments with the same remaining maturities. A hypothetical 10% strengthening of the U.S. dollar as of December 31, 2001, assuming no changes in comparative interest rates, would decrease the fair value of these contracts by approximately $6.2 million. This decrease in fair value would be fully offset by a decrease in the U.S. dollar value of the forecasted transactions being hedged.

Bunker Fuel Price Risk

Our exposure to market risk for changes in bunker fuel prices relates to the consumption of fuel on our vessels. Bunker fuel cost, as a percentage of our revenues, was approximately 3.7% in 2001, 3.3% in 2000 and 2.1% in 1999. We use fuel swap agreements to mitigate the financial impact of fluctuations in bunker fuel prices. As of December 31, 2001, we had fuel swap agreements to pay fixed prices for bunker fuel with an aggregate notional amount of $85.2 million, maturing through 2003. The fair value of these contracts at December 31, 2001 was an unrealized loss of $7.8 million. We estimate that a hypothetical 10% increase in our weighted-average bunker fuel price as of December 31, 2001 would increase our 2002 projected bunker fuel cost by approximately $16.3 million. This increase would be partially offset by a $7.5 million increase in the fair value of our fuel swap agreements.

Item 6. Directors, Senior Management and Employees

Directors and Senior Management

Our directors and senior management are listed below. Officers are appointed by the board of directors and serve at their discretion.

The board of directors is divided into three classes. The current term of office of directors in Class III expires at the 2002 Annual Meeting. The current term of office of directors in Class I expires at the 2003 Annual Meeting, and the current term of office of directors in Class II expires at the 2004 Annual Meeting. Each newly elected director will serve three years from the date of his or her election. There is currently one unfilled Class II vacancy on the board of directors. For a description of the arrangements between the major shareholders regarding the nomination and election of directors, see Item 7. Major Shareholders and Related Party Transactions.

Arne Wilhelmsen has served as a director since 1968. Mr. Wilhelmsen, one of our founders, is a principal and Chairman of the Board of A. Wilhelmsen AS. and other holding companies in the Anders Wilhelmsen & Co. Group. Mr. Wilhelmsen has been involved in the shipping industry for over 40 years.

Compensation

Cash Compensation

Our executive planning committee consists of Messrs. Fain, Williams, Glasier and Thomas F. Murrill, Vice President, Chief Human Resources Officer. We paid our directors and members of our executive planning committee (17 persons) aggregate cash compensation of $4.4 million during the year ended December 31, 2001 and $5.7 million (16 persons) during the year ended December 31, 2000.

Executive Bonus Plan

Our Executive Bonus Plan is designed to attract and retain highly qualified executives who will contribute to our overall performance. Pursuant to the bonus plan, eligible employees are entitled to receive discretionary annual bonuses that are based on various factors deemed appropriate by the Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors, including, but not limited to, our financial performance and the individual performance of eligible employees.

Retirement Plan and Other Executive Compensation Plans

All eligible shoreside officers and employees are participants in our Retirement Plan. Contributions ranging from 8% to 12% of the participant's compensation (as defined in the plan), depending on the length of such participant's employment, are made on an annual basis to the participant's account. At the election of the participant and his or her spouse, benefits generally are payable as a lump sum, a life annuity, a joint and 50 percent survivor annuity or in installments over a period not to exceed 120 months. If a participant's benefit is less than $5,000, it is only payable as a lump sum. Benefits are payable upon the termination of employment or retirement of the participant. Benefits under the plan must commence no later than the later of the April 1st following the year in which the participant attains age 70 1/2, or the participant's termination of employment from the Company.

We also have a Supplemental Executive Retirement Plan. Under the Supplemental Executive Retirement Plan, we accrue, but do not fund, an annual amount for the account of each of our executives equal to the reduction in our contribution under the Retirement Plan in accordance with Section 401(a)(17) of the Internal Revenue Code. Other terms and benefits of the Supplemental Executive Retirement Plan are the same as those of the Retirement Plan.

Richard D. Fain is entitled to receive upon his cessation of employment by us for any reason the assets of a grantor trust established by us for the benefit of Mr. Fain. We make quarterly contributions of 10,086 shares of common stock to the grantor trust and will continue to do so until the earlier of the cessation of Mr. Fain's employment or June 2014. In addition, Mr. Fain is entitled to receive, upon his cessation of employment by us for certain reasons, an amount equal to nine months' compensation and benefits.

The aggregate amount set aside or accrued to provide pension, retirement or other similar deferred benefit programs for the directors and members of the executive planning committee, as a group, was $0.9 million during 2001 and 2000, respectively.

We have stock option plans under which we issue options to our directors, officers and key employees to purchase shares of our common stock. The plans consist of a 1990 Employee Stock Option Plan, a 1995 Incentive Stock Option Plan and a 2000 Stock Option Plan. The 1995 Incentive Stock Option Plan provides for the issuance of up to 6,700,000 shares of our common stock. The 2000 Stock Option Plan provides for the issuance of up to 13,000,000 shares of our common stock. The 1990 Employee Stock Option Plan terminated by its terms in March 2000, although all options that had been outstanding at the time of termination remain in effect. All options terminate on the earlier of the option expiration date (which is generally ten years from the date of grant), or within a specified period following the recipient's cessation of employment or service as a director.

In connection with our initial public offering in April 1993, we issued 379,714 stock options at an exercise price of $9.00 per share to one of our officers. The options, which vested immediately, will generally expire upon termination of the officer's employment. As of February 22, 2002, 354,714 options were outstanding.

During 2001, we issued options covering a total of 6,525,775 shares of common stock to our directors and employees, including 1,455,000 shares to our directors and members of our executive planning committee. The options to our directors and members of our executive planning committee were granted in October 2001 and expire in October 2011 and were issued in the following amounts:

Name	Options	Exercise Price
Tor B. Arneberg	50,000	$9.55
Bernard W. Aronson
50,000 $9.55
John D. Chandris

Our 1994 Employee Stock Purchase Plan provides for the grant of rights to eligible employees to purchase a maximum of 800,000 shares of common stock. The 1994 Employee Stock Purchase Plan is generally available to all of our employees who have been employed for at least one year and who customarily work at least five months per calendar year. Offerings to employees under the 1994 Employee Stock Purchase Plan are made on a quarterly basis. Subject to certain limitations, the purchase price for each share of common stock under the 1994 Employee Stock Purchase Plan is equal to 90% of the average of the market prices of the common stock as reported on the NYSE on the first business day of the purchase period and the last business day of each month of the purchase period.

Effective December 31, 2001, we terminated our Taking Stock in Employees stock award program. The program awarded five shares of our common stock to our employees following completion of each year of employment between January 1, 1998 and December 31, 2001. A total of 39,855 shares had been issued under this program as of February 22, 2002. Employees can elect to receive cash equal to the fair market value of the stock upon vesting.

Board Practices

Our Compensation Committee consists of not less than two directors who are not salaried officers of our company. The purpose of the Compensation Committee is to review the compensation of our executives and to make determinations relative to that. The current members of the Compensation Committee are Mr. Arneberg and Mr. Aronson. The Compensation Committee operates under the authority of our board of directors as provided by the terms of our By-Laws.

The Audit Committee consists of three independent directors. The purpose of the Audit Committee is to provide general oversight of audit, legal compliance and potential conflict of interest matters. The current members of the Audit Committee are Messrs. Arneberg and Aronson. There is currently one unfilled vacancy on the committee. The Audit Committee operates under the authority of our board of directors as provided by the terms of our By-Laws. The Audit Committee has adopted a charter that provides specific guidance to the Committee as to their role, responsibility and compliance with the Securities and Exchange Commission's Audit Committee Rules.

For the term of our board of directors, see the Directors and Senior Management section of this Item 6.

Employees

As of December 31, 2001, we employed approximately 2,600 full-time and 500 part-time employees in our shoreside operations worldwide. We also employed approximately 21,400 crew and staff for our vessels. As of December 31, 2001, approximately 70% of our shipboard employees were covered by collective bargaining agreements. We believe that our relationship with our employees is good.

Share Ownership

The beneficial share ownership as of February 22, 2002 of our directors and members of our executive planning committee is as follows:

Item 7. Major Shareholders and Related Party Transactions

The following table sets forth certain information regarding the beneficial ownership of our common stock as of February 22, 2002 by each person who is known by us to own beneficially more than 5% of the outstanding common stock.

Name	Number of Shares of Common Stock	Percentage Ownership
A. Wilhelmsen AS. ⁽¹⁾	46,409,330	24.1%
Cruise Associates ⁽²⁾
48,281,900 25.1%

- (1) A. Wilhelmsen AS. is a Norwegian corporation, the indirect beneficial owners of which are members of the Wilhelmsen family of Norway.
- (2) Cruise Associates is a Bahamian general partnership, the indirect beneficial owners of which are various trusts primarily for the benefit of certain members of the Pritzker family of Chicago, Illinois, and various trusts primarily for the benefit of certain members of the Ofer family.
- A. Wilhelmsen AS. and Cruise Associates are parties to a shareholders agreement on certain matters relative to our organization and operation and certain matters concerning their respective ownership of our voting stock. During the term of the shareholders agreement, A. Wilhelmsen AS. and Cruise Associates have agreed to vote their shares of common stock in favor of the following individuals as our directors: (i) up to four nominees of A. Wilhelmsen AS. (at least one of whom must be independent); (ii) up to four nominees of Cruise Associates (at least one of whom must be independent); and (iii) one nominee who must be Richard D. Fain or such other individual who is then employed as our chief executive officer. In connection with our acquisition of Celebrity, A. Wilhelmsen AS. and Cruise Associates have agreed to vote their shares of common stock in favor of the election of one additional director to be nominated by Archinav Holdings, Ltd., for a specified period until 2004. In addition, until either of them should decide otherwise, A. Wilhelmsen AS. and Cruise Associates have agreed to vote their shares of common stock in favor of Edwin W. Stephen and William K. Reilly as directors of our Company.

Of the current directors, A. Wilhelmsen AS. nominated Tor B. Arneberg, Arvid Grundekjoen and Arne Wilhelmsen, and Cruise Associates nominated Bernard W. Aronson, Laura Laviada, Eyal Ofer and Thomas J. Pritzker. Archinav Holdings, Ltd. nominated John D. Chandris.

The shareholders agreement provides that A. Wilhelmsen AS. and Cruise Associates will from time to time consider our dividend policy with due regard for the interests of the shareholders in maximizing the return on their investment and our ability to pay such dividends. The declaration of dividends shall at all times be subject to the final determination of our board of directors that a dividend is prudent at that time in consideration of the needs of the business. The shareholders agreement also provides that payment of dividends will depend, among other factors, upon our earnings, financial condition and capital requirements and the income and other tax liabilities of A. Wilhelmsen AS., Cruise Associates and their respective affiliates relating to their ownership of common stock.

In connection with the proposed dual-listed company merger with P&O Princess, A. Wilhelmsen AS. and Cruise Associates entered into in December 2001 a voting agreement with, and delivered irrevocable proxies to, P&O Princess, obligating them to, among other things, vote an aggregate of 44.5% of our outstanding stock held by them in favor of the dual-listed company merger. Approval of the merger will require a vote of two-thirds of all outstanding shares entitled to vote at the meeting. If the dual-listed company merger is completed as contemplated, the shareholders of Royal Caribbean would effectively own an economic interest equal to 49.3% of the combined company and the shareholders of P&O Princess would effectively own an economic interest equal to 50.7% of the combined company.

The combined company would have a unified senior management team. Mr. Richard D. Fain would be Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of the combined company and Mr. Peter Ratcliffe, currently the Chief Executive Officer of P&O Princess, would be the Chief Operating Officer of the combined company. Mr. Nicholas Luff, currently Chief Financial Officer of P&O Princess, would be the Chief Financial Officer of the combined company. The boards of directors of P&O Princess and Royal Caribbean would be identical and each would have 12 members. Six of the initial directors would be designated by Royal Caribbean and six of the initial directors would be designated by P&O Princess, with five of each of the six nominated by both Royal Caribbean and P&O Princess being non-executive directors. Mr. Richard D. Fain would serve as Chairman and Mr. Peter Ratcliffe would serve as the other executive director of the identical boards. The boards would be responsible for the overall direction of the businesses of both companies, including major policy and strategic decision of both companies.

If the merger is completed, our payment of dividends would depend on business conditions, our financial condition and earnings and the financial condition and earnings of the combined company, the ability of P&O Princess to pay its equivalent dividend in accordance with its share of the economic interest in the combined company and other factors. Pursuant to the terms of the merger agreements, we could not declare or pay a dividend without an equivalent dividend (before taxes and other deductions) being declared or paid by P&O Princess and vice versa.

We have agreed with P&O Princess that, until the dual-listed company merger is completed or terminated in accordance with its terms, each company will only pay regular quarterly dividends. We have agreed to coordinate declaration of dividends so that Royal Caribbean shareholders and P&O Princess shareholders will not receive two dividends, or fail to receive one dividend, in respect of the quarter in which the dual-listed company merger is completed.

As of February 22, 2002 there were 1,081 record holders of our common stock in the United States, holding 55,837,820 shares or approximately 29.03% of the total outstanding common stock.

Item 8. Financial Information

Consolidated Statements and Other Financial Information

Our Consolidated Financial Statements have been prepared in accordance with Item 18 and are included beginning on page F-1 of this report.

Litigation

In April 1999, a lawsuit was filed in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York on behalf of current and former crew members alleging that we failed to pay the plaintiffs their full wages. The suit seeks payment of (i) the wages alleged to be owed, (ii) penalty wages under 46 U.S.C. Section 10313 of U.S. law and (iii) punitive damages. In November 1999, a purported class action suit was filed in the same court alleging a similar cause of action. We are not able at this time to estimate the impact of these proceedings on us; there can be no assurance that such proceedings, if decided adversely, would not have a material adverse effect on our results of operations.

We are routinely involved in other claims typical within the cruise industry. The majority of these claims is covered by insurance. We believe the outcome of such other claims, which are not covered by insurance, are not expected to have a material adverse effect upon our financial condition or results of operations.

Policy on Dividend Distributions

For our policy on dividend distributions, see Item 7. Major Shareholders and Related Party Transactions.

Item 10. Additional Information

Articles of Incorporation and By-Laws

Article Third of our Restated Articles of Incorporation provides that we may engage in any lawful act or activity for which companies may be organized under the Business Corporation Act of Liberia. However, we are restricted from doing business in Liberia within the meaning of the Business Corporation Act of Liberia.

In accordance with our By-Laws, our board of directors has the authority to fix the compensation of our directors. There is no requirement that a person own any shares in our company in order to qualify as a director.

Holders of our common stock have an equal right to share in our profits in the form of dividends when declared by our board of directors out of funds legally available for the distribution of dividends. If declared, there are no relevant time limits under Liberian law pursuant to which the entitlement to the dividend would lapse. Holders of our common stock have no rights to any sinking fund.

For additional information about our Articles of Incorporation and By-Laws, and a description of the rights attaching to our shares of stock, see Description of Capital Stock contained in our Registration Statement on Form F-3 as filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission, File No. 333-56058.

The term loan contains covenants that require us, among other things, to maintain minimum net worth and fixed charge coverage and limit our debt to capital ratio.

Buyer Credit Agreement dated as of December 18, 2001 between Constellation Inc. and Credit Agricole Indosuez and Societe Generale. Constellation Inc. entered into a buyer credit agreement for a term loan not to exceed $322.0 million to finance the delivery of Constellation scheduled for the second quarter of 2002. The loan will bear interest at LIBOR plus a margin and will be due in 2010. The loan will be secured by the vessel.

Buyer Credit Agreement dated as of March 31, 2001 between Summit Inc. and Credit Agricole Indosuez and Societe Generale. Summit Inc. entered into a $326.7 million term loan to finance the purchase of Summit. The loan bears interest at 8.0% and is due in 2010. The loan is secured by the vessel.

New Credit Agreement dated as of December 12, 1997 between Seabrook Maritime Inc. and Kreditanstalt fur Wiederaufbau. Seabrook Maritime Inc. entered into a $200.0 million unsecured term loan to finance the purchase of Mercury. The loan bears interest at 8.0% and is due in 2006. We guarantee the loan.

Loan Facility Agreement dated as of November 29, 1993 between Esker Marine Shipping Inc. and Kreditanstalt fur Wiederaufbau. Esker Marine Shipping Inc. entered into a $308.7 million term loan to finance the purchase of Galaxy. The fixed rate portion of the loan bears interest at 7.12% and is due in 2005. The variable portion of the loan bears interest at LIBOR plus 0.45% and is due in 2006. The loan is secured by the vessel. The loan agreement provides for a limited amount of additional borrowings to service principal payments.

Loan Facility Agreement dated as of November 29, 1993 between Blue Sapphire Marine Inc. and Kreditanstalt fur Wiederaufbau. Blue Sapphire Marine Inc. entered into a $301.7 million term loan to finance the purchase of Century. The fixed rate portion of the loan bears interest at 6.73% and is due in 2004. The variable portion of the loan bears interest at LIBOR plus 0.45% and is due in 2005. The loan is secured by the vessel. The loan agreement provides for a limited amount of additional borrowings to service principal payments.

Implementation Agreement dated as of November 19, 2001 between us and P&O Princess. The agreement governs the implementation of the dual-listed company merger between us and P&O Princess and stipulates the conditions precedent which must be satisfied or waived by us and P&O Princess prior to completion of the dual-listed company merger. Under the Implementation Agreement, P&O Princess and we have agreed, among other things, to pay a break fee of $62.5 million to the other company if the Implementation Agreement is terminated in certain circumstances.

Joint Venture Agreement dated as of November 19, 2001 among P&O Princess, Joex Limited and us. This agreement created a joint venture between P&O Princess and us to jointly create and operate a cruise line company to target customers in southern Europe. The joint venture is owned 50% by P&O Princess and 50% by us. Each party has committed up to $500.0 million in shareholder equity, and each party has agreed to assign two identified ship-build contracts to the joint venture company. The joint venture can be terminated by either party if certain commercial benchmarks have not been achieved by January 1, 2003 or April 1, 2003.

Amended and Restated Registration Rights Agreement dated as of July 30, 1997 among us, A. Wilhelmsen AS., Cruise Associates, Monument Capital Corporation, Archinav Holdings, Ltd. and Overseas Cruiseship, Inc. Pursuant to this agreement, A. Wilhelmsen AS. and Cruise Associates have the right on a specified number of occasions to require, subject to certain qualifications and limitations, that we effect the registration under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933 of all or a specified number of shares of common stock. Each of A. Wilhelmsen AS. and Cruise Associates has certain additional registration rights at such time or times as we publicly offer securities. Monument Capital Corporation and Archinav Holdings, Ltd. are also parties to the registration rights agreement and may exercise such rights as provided by the registration rights agreement.

Lease Agreement dated March 3, 1993 between us and G.I.E. Cruise Vision One. In April 1995, we entered into a $260.0 million capital lease to finance Legend of the Seas. The capital lease has an implicit interest rate of 7.8% over 15 years.

Lease Agreement dated March 3, 1993 between us and G.I.E. Cruise Vision Two. In March 1996, we entered into a $264.0 million capital lease to finance Splendour of the Seas. The capital lease has an implicit interest rate of 7.8% over 15 years.

Office Building Lease Agreement dated July 25, 1989 between us and Miami-Dade County, Florida. We entered into a 20-year lease of an office building of approximately 162,500 square feet at the Port of Miami, Florida for use as part of our principal offices. The lease term expires in 2011. Base rent payable under the lease is equal to the amount necessary to satisfy the debt service of the construction costs of $16,500,000 over the lease term. The lease has two five-year renewals.

Office Building Lease Agreement dated January 18, 1994 between us and Miami-Dade County, Florida. We entered into a 20-year lease of an office building of approximately 180,000 square feet at the Port of Miami, Florida for use as part of our principal offices. The lease term expires in 2015. Base rent payable under the lease is equal to the amount necessary to satisfy the construction costs of $16,650,000 over the lease term. The lease has two five-year renewals.

Exchange Controls

There are now no exchange control restrictions on remittances of dividends on our common stock or on the conduct of our operations in Liberia by reason of our incorporation in Liberia.

Taxation

Since (1) we are and intend to maintain our status as a non-resident corporation under the Internal Revenue Code of Liberia and (2) our vessel-owning subsidiaries are not now engaged, and are not in the future expected to engage, in any business in Liberia, including voyages exclusively within the territorial waters of the Republic of Liberia, we have been advised by Watson, Farley & Williams, our special Liberian counsel, that under current Liberian law, no Liberian taxes or withholding will be imposed on payments to holders of our securities other than a holder that is a resident Liberian entity or a resident individual or entity or a citizen of Liberia.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS

To the Shareholders and

Directors of Royal Caribbean Cruises Ltd.:

In our opinion, the accompanying consolidated balance sheets and the related consolidated statements of operations, of cash flows and of shareholders' equity present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Royal Caribbean Cruises Ltd. and its subsidiaries at December 31, 2001 and 2000, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended December 31, 2001 in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management; our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits of these statements in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, which require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, and evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

ROYAL CARIBBEAN CRUISES LTD.

NOTES TO THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Note 1. General

Description of Business

We are a global cruise company. We operate two cruise brands, Royal Caribbean International and Celebrity Cruises, with 15 cruise ships and 8 cruise ships, respectively, at December 31, 2001. Our ships operate on a selection of worldwide itineraries that call on approximately 200 destinations.

Basis for Preparation of Consolidated Financial Statements

The consolidated financial statements are prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles and are presented in U.S. dollars. Estimates are required for the preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Actual results could differ from these estimates. All significant intercompany accounts and transactions are eliminated in consolidation.

Note 2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Cruise Revenues and Expenses

Deposits received on sales of guest cruises represent unearned revenue and are initially recorded as customer deposit liabilities on our balance sheet. Customer deposits are subsequently recognized as cruise revenues, together with revenues from shipboard activities and all associated direct costs of a voyage, upon completion of voyages with durations of ten days or less and on a pro rata basis for voyages in excess of ten days. Minor amounts of revenues and expenses from pro rata voyages are estimated.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash and marketable securities with original maturities of less than 90 days.

Inventories

Inventories consist of provisions, supplies and fuel carried at the lower of cost (weighted-average) or market.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and amortization. We capitalize interest as part of the cost of construction. Significant vessel improvement costs are capitalized as additions to the vessel, while costs of repairs and maintenance are charged to expense as incurred. We review long-lived assets for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate, based on estimated future cash flows, that the carrying amount of these assets may not be fully recoverable.

Depreciation of property and equipment, which includes amortization of vessels under capital leases, is computed using the straight-line method over useful lives of primarily 30 years for vessels and three to ten years for other property and equipment. (See Note 4 Property and Equipment.)

Goodwill

Goodwill represents the excess of cost over the fair value of net assets acquired and is being amortized over 40 years using the straight-line method. We review goodwill and other intangible assets for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of these assets may not be fully recoverable.

F-7

ROYAL CARIBBEAN CRUISES LTD.

Advertising Costs

Advertising costs are expensed as incurred except those costs which result in tangible assets, such as brochures, are treated as prepaid expenses and charged to expense as consumed. Advertising expenses consist of media advertising as well as brochure, production and direct mail costs. Media advertising was $103.4 million, $98.9 million and $93.1 million, and brochure, production and direct mail costs were $77.5 million, $79.2 million and $57.4 million for the years 2001, 2000 and 1999, respectively.

Drydocking

Drydocking costs are accrued evenly over the period to the next scheduled drydocking and are included in accrued expenses and other liabilities.

Financial Instruments

We enter into various forward, swap and option contracts to manage our interest rate exposure and to limit our exposure to fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates and bunker fuel prices.

On January 1, 2001, we adopted Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 133, Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities, as amended, which requires that all derivative instruments be recorded on the balance sheet at their fair value. On an ongoing basis, we assess whether derivatives used in hedging transactions are highly effective in offsetting changes in fair value or cash flow of hedged items and therefore qualify as either a fair value or cash flow hedge. A derivative instrument that hedges the exposure to changes in the fair value of a recognized asset or a liability, or a firm commitment is designated as a fair value hedge. A derivative instrument that hedges a forecasted transaction or the variability of cash flows related to a recognized liability is designated as a cash flow hedge.

Unrealized gains and losses on fair value hedges are recorded on the balance sheet as offsets to the changes in fair value of related hedged assets, liabilities and firm commitments. Realized gains and losses on foreign currency forward contracts that hedge foreign currency denominated firm commitments related to vessels under construction are included in the cost basis of the vessels. Realized gains and losses on all other fair value hedges are recognized in earnings as offsets to the related hedged items. For derivative instruments that qualify as cash flow hedges, the effective portions of changes in fair value of the derivatives are deferred and recorded as a component of other comprehensive income until the hedged transactions occur and are recognized in earnings. All other portions of changes in the fair value of cash flow hedges are recognized in earnings immediately.

Our risk-management policies and objectives for holding hedging instruments have not changed with the adoption of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 133. The implementation of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 133 did not have a material impact on our results of operations or financial position at adoption or during the twelve months ended December 31, 2001.

Foreign Currency Transactions

The majority of our transactions are settled in U.S. dollars. Gains or losses resulting from transactions denominated in other currencies and remeasurements of other currencies are recognized in income currently.

Earnings Per Share

Basic earnings per share is computed by dividing net income, after deducting preferred stock dividends accumulated during the period, by the weighted-average number of shares of common stock outstanding during each period. Diluted earnings per share is computed by dividing net income by the weighted-average number of shares of common stock, common stock equivalents and other potentially dilutive securities outstanding during each period.

Stock-Based Compensation

We account for stock-based compensation using the intrinsic value method and disclose certain fair market value information with respect to our stock-based compensation activity. (See Note 7 Shareholders Equity.)

Segment Reporting

We operate two cruise brands, Royal Caribbean International and Celebrity Cruises. The brands have been aggregated as a single operating segment based on the similarity of their economic characteristics as well as product and services provided.

Information by geographic area is shown in the table below. Revenues are attributed to geographic areas based on the source of the guest.

New Accounting Pronouncements

In June 2001, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets, which addresses how goodwill should be accounted for after having been initially recognized in the financial statements. Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 142 is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2001. Upon adoption of Financial Accounting Standards No. 142, we will cease to amortize goodwill; goodwill amortization was $10.4 million in 2001. In addition, we are required to perform an initial impairment review of our goodwill upon adoption and an annual impairment review thereafter. We currently do not expect to record an impairment charge upon completion of the impairment review.

In August 2001, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 144, Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets. Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 144 supersedes Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 121, Accounting for the Impairment of Long-Lived Assets and for Long-Lived Assets to be Disposed Of, and requires (i) the recognition and measurement of the impairment of long-lived assets to be held and used and (ii) the measurement of long-lived assets to be held for sale. Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 144 is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2001. We do not expect the adoption of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 144 to have a material effect on our results of operations or financial position.

Note 3. Proposed Dual-Listed Company Merger with P&O Princess

On November 19, 2001, we entered into an agreement with P&O Princess Cruises plc (P&O Princess), providing for the combination of Royal Caribbean and P&O Princess as a merger of equals under a dual-listed company structure. If the dual-listed company merger is completed, it would involve a combination of the two companies through a number of contracts and certain amendments to our Articles of Incorporation and By-Laws and to P&O Princess Articles and Memorandum of Association. The two companies would retain their separate legal identities but would operate as if they were a single unified economic entity. The contracts governing the dual-listed company merger would provide that the boards of directors of the two companies would be identical and that, as far as possible, the shareholders of Royal Caribbean and P&O Princess would be placed in substantially the same economic position as if they held shares in a single enterprise which owned all of the assets of both companies. The net effect of the dual-listed company merger would be that the shareholders of Royal Caribbean would own an economic interest equal to 49.3% of the combined company and the shareholders of P&O Princess would own an economic interest equal to 50.7% of the combined company.

The obligations of Royal Caribbean and P&O Princess to effect the dual-listed company merger are subject to the satisfaction of various conditions, including the receipt of certain regulatory approvals and consents and approval by the shareholders of each of Royal Caribbean and P&O Princess. No assurance can be given that all required approvals and consents will be obtained, and if such approvals and consents are obtained, no assurance can be given as to the terms, conditions and timing of the approvals and consents. If the dual-listed company merger is not completed by November 16, 2002, either party can terminate the agreement if it is not in material breach of its obligations thereunder. We have incurred, and continue to incur, costs which have been or will be deferred in connection with the dual-listed company merger. In the event the transaction is not consummated, we would be required to write these costs off, resulting in an estimated impact to earnings of approximately $15 million. If the dual-listed company merger is completed, these deferred costs, together with additional costs, would be capitalized as part of the transaction.

If the merger agreement is terminated under certain circumstances, we would be obligated to pay P&O Princess a break fee of $62.5 million. These circumstances include, among other things, our board of directors withdrawing or adversely modifying its recommendation to shareholders to approve the dual-listed company merger, our board of directors recommending an alternative acquisition transaction to shareholders, and our shareholders failing to approve the dual-listed company merger if another acquisition proposal with respect to Royal Caribbean exists at that time. Similarly, P&O Princess would be obligated to pay us a break fee of $62.5 million upon the occurrence of reciprocal circumstances.

In December 2001, Carnival Corporation (Carnival) announced a competing pre-conditional offer to acquire all of the outstanding shares of P&O Princess. In connection with its pre-conditional offer, Carnival solicited proxies from P&O Princess shareholders in favor of an adjournment of the P&O Princess special meeting prior to a shareholder vote to approve the dual-listed company merger. On February 14, 2002, Royal Caribbean and P&O Princess convened special meetings of their respective shareholders to approve the dual-listed company merger. Prior to voting to approve the merger, the shareholders of each company voted to adjourn their respective meetings until an unspecified future date. We do not know at this time the date on which the meetings will be reconvened.

Vessels under construction include progress payments for the construction of new vessels as well as planning, design, interest, commitment fees and other associated costs. We capitalized interest costs of $37.0 million, $44.2 million and $34.6 million for the years 2001, 2000 and 1999, respectively. Accumulated amortization related to vessels under capital lease was $136.2 million and $112.9 million at December 31, 2001 and 2000, respectively.

Note 5. Other Assets

In July 2000, we purchased a new issue of convertible preferred stock, denominated in British pound sterling, for approximately $300 million from First Choice Holidays PLC. The convertible preferred stock carries a 6.75% coupon. Dividends of $19.4 million and $9.2 million were earned in 2001 and 2000, respectively and recorded in Other income (expense). If fully converted, our holding would represent approximately a 17% interest in First Choice Holidays PLC.

Separately, we entered into a joint venture with First Choice Holidays PLC to launch a new cruise brand, Island Cruises. As part of the transaction, ownership of Viking Serenade was transferred to the new joint venture at a valuation of approximately $95.4 million. The contribution of Viking Serenade represents our 50% investment in the joint venture as well as approximately $47.7 million in proceeds towards the purchase price of the convertible preferred stock. The contribution of Viking Serenade resulted in a deferred gain of approximately $3.8 million, which is being recognized over the estimated remaining useful life of the vessel. Royal Caribbean International operated Viking Serenade under a charter agreement until early 2002, at which time the vessel moved to the new joint venture.

During 2001, we drew $360.0 million under our unsecured term loan that bears interest at LIBOR plus 1.0%, due 2006.

In August 2001, we entered into a $326.7 million term loan bearing interest at a fixed rate of 8.0%, due in 2010 and secured by a Celebrity vessel.

In May 2001, we received net proceeds of $339.4 million from the issuance of Zero Coupon Convertible Notes, due 2021. In February 2001, we received net proceeds of $494.6 million and $560.8 million from the issuance of 8.75% Senior Notes due 2011 and Liquid Yield Option Notes due 2021, respectively.

The Liquid Yield Option Notes and the Zero Coupon Convertible Notes are zero coupon bonds with yields to maturity of 4.875% and 4.75%, respectively, due 2021. Each Liquid Yield Option Note and Zero Coupon Convertible Note was issued at a price of $381.63 and $391.06, respectively, and will have a principal amount at maturity of $1,000. The Liquid Yield Option Notes and Zero Coupon Convertible Notes are convertible at the option of the holder into 17.7 million and 13.8 million shares of common stock, respectively, if the market price of our common stock reaches certain levels. These conditions were not met at December 31, 2001 for the Liquid Yield Option Notes or the Zero Coupon Convertible Notes and therefore, the shares issuable upon conversion are not included in the earnings per share calculation.

We may redeem the Liquid Yield Option Notes beginning on February 2, 2005, and the Zero Coupon Convertible Notes beginning on May 18, 2006, at their accreted values for cash as a whole at any time, or from time to time in part. Holders may require us to purchase any outstanding Liquid Yield Option Notes at their accreted value on February 2, 2005 and February 2, 2011 and any outstanding Zero Coupon Convertible Notes at their accreted value on May 18, 2004, May 18, 2009, and May 18, 2014. We may choose to pay the purchase price in cash or common stock or a combination thereof. In addition, we have a three-year, $345.8 million unsecured variable rate term loan facility available to us should the holders of the Zero Coupon Convertible Notes require us to purchase their notes on May 18, 2004.

During 2001, under the terms of two of our secured term loans, we elected to defer principal payments totaling $64.4 million to 2004 through 2006.

In June 2000, we entered into a $625.0 million unsecured term loan bearing interest at LIBOR plus 1.25%, due 2005.

The contractual interest rates on balances outstanding under our $1.0 billion unsecured revolving credit facility and the $625.0 million unsecured term loan vary with our debt rating.

The Senior Notes, Senior Debentures, Liquid Yield Option Notes and Zero Coupon Convertible Notes are unsecured. The Senior Notes and Senior Debentures are not redeemable prior to maturity.

We entered into a $264.0 million capital lease to finance Splendour of the Seas and a $260.0 million capital lease to finance Legend of the Seas in 1996 and 1995, respectively. The capital leases each have semi-annual payments of $12.0 million over 15 years with final payments of $99.0 million and $97.5 million, respectively.

Our debt agreements contain covenants that require us, among other things, to maintain minimum liquidity, net worth, and fixed charge coverage ratio and limit our debt to capital ratio. We are in compliance with all covenants as of December 31, 2001. Following is a schedule of annual maturities on long-term debt as of December 31, 2001 (in thousands):

Note 7. Shareholders Equity

In April 2000, we redeemed all outstanding shares of our convertible preferred stock and dividends ceased to accrue.

In 1999, we completed a public offering of 11,625,000 shares of common stock at a price of $46.69 per share. Of the total shares sold, 10,825,000 shares were sold by us, and the balance of 800,000 shares were sold by a selling shareholder. After deduction of the underwriting discount and other estimated expenses of the offering, our net proceeds were approximately $487.4 million.

Our Employee Stock Purchase Plan, which has been in effect since January 1, 1994, facilitates the purchase by employees of up to 800,000 shares of common stock. The purchase price is derived from a formula based on 90% of the fair market value of the common stock during the quarterly purchase period, subject to certain restrictions. Shares of common stock of 33,395, 40,838 and 35,263 were issued under the Employee Stock Purchase Plan at a weighted average price of $17.69, $23.09 and $37.81 during 2001, 2000 and 1999, respectively.

Under an executive compensation program approved in 1994, we will award to a trust 10,086 shares of common stock per quarter, up to a maximum of 806,880 shares. We issued 40,344 shares each year under the program during 2001, 2000 and 1999.

Compensation expense related to our Taking Stock in Employees program, which was discontinued effective December 31, 2001, was $1.6 million, $2.1 million and $3.3 million in 2001, 2000 and 1999, respectively. Under the plan, employees are awarded five shares of our stock, or the cash equivalent, at the end of each year of employment.

We have Employee Stock Option Plans, which provide for awards to our officers, directors and key employees of options to purchase shares of our common stock. One of the plans is a tax-qualified Incentive Stock Option Plan. During 2001, one of the Employee Stock Option Plans and the Incentive Stock Option Plan were amended to increase the number of shares reserved for issuance by 5,000,000 and 3,000,000 shares of common stock, respectively. Options are granted at a price not less than the fair value of the shares on the date of grant. Options expire not later than ten years after the date of grant and generally become exercisable in full over three or five years after the grant date.

Note 9. Retirement Plans

We maintain a defined contribution pension plan covering all of our full-time shoreside employees who have completed the minimum period of continuous service. Annual contributions to the plan are based on fixed percentages of participants' salaries and years of service, not to exceed certain maximums. Pension cost was $8.3 million, $7.3 million and $7.2 million for the years 2001, 2000 and 1999, respectively.

Effective January 1, 2000, we instituted a defined benefit pension plan to cover all of our shipboard employees not covered under another pension plan through their collective bargaining agreement. Benefits to eligible employees are accrued based on the employee's years of service. Pension expense was approximately $3.2 million and $1.9 million in 2001 and 2000, respectively.

Note 10. Income Taxes

We and the majority of our subsidiaries are not subject to U.S. corporate income tax on income generated from the international operation of ships pursuant to Section 883 of the Internal Revenue Code, provided that we meet certain tests related to country of incorporation and composition of shareholders. We believe that we and a majority of our subsidiaries meet these tests. Income tax expense related to our remaining subsidiaries is not significant.

The reported fair values are based on a variety of factors and assumptions. Accordingly, the fair values may not represent actual values of the financial instruments that could have been realized as of December 31, 2001 or 2000 or that will be realized in the future and do not include expenses that could be incurred in an actual sale or settlement. The following methods were used to estimate the fair values of our financial instruments, none of which are held for trading or speculative purposes:

ROYAL CARIBBEAN CRUISES LTD.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The carrying amounts of cash and cash equivalents approximate their fair values due to the short maturity of these instruments.

Long-Term Debt

The fair values of our Senior Notes, Senior Debentures, Liquid Yield Option Notes and Zero Coupon Convertible Notes were estimated by obtaining quoted market prices. The fair values of all other debt were estimated using discounted cash flow analyses based on market rates available to us for similar debt with the same remaining maturities.

Foreign Currency Contracts

The fair values of our foreign currency forward contracts were estimated using current market prices for similar instruments. Our exposure to market risk for fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates relates to our firm commitments on vessel construction contracts and forecasted transactions. We use foreign currency forward contracts to mitigate the impact of fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates. As of December 31, 2001, we had foreign currency forward contracts in a notional amount of $1.1 billion maturing through 2003. Our foreign currency forward contracts related to firm commitments on vessels under construction had aggregate unrealized losses of approximately $99.3 million at December 31, 2001.

Interest Rate Swap Agreements

The fair values of our interest rate swap agreements were estimated based on quoted market prices for similar or identical financial instruments to those we hold. Our exposure to market risk for changes in interest rates relates to our long-term debt obligations. Market risk associated with our long-term fixed rate debt is the potential increase in fair value resulting from a decrease in interest rates. Market risk associated with our variable rate debt is the potential increase in interest expense from an increase in interest rates. We enter into interest rate swap agreements to modify our exposure to interest rate movements and to manage our interest expense. As of December 31, 2001, we had interest rate swap agreements in effect, which exchanged fixed interest rates for floating interest rates in a notional amount of $525.0 million, maturing in 2006 through 2011.

Fuel Swap Agreements

The fair values of our fuel swap agreements were estimated based on quoted market prices for similar or identical financial instruments to those we hold. Our exposure to market risk for changes in bunker fuel prices relates to the forecasted consumption of fuel on our vessels. We use fuel swap agreements to mitigate the impact of fluctuations in bunker fuel prices. As of December 31, 2001, we had fuel swap agreements to pay fixed prices for bunker fuel with an aggregate notional amount of $85.2 million, maturing through 2003.

Our exposure under foreign currency contracts, interest rate and fuel swap agreements is limited to the cost of replacing the contracts in the event of non-performance by the counterparties to the contracts, all of which are currently our lending banks. To minimize this risk, we select counterparties with credit risks acceptable to us and we limit our exposure to any individual counterparty. Furthermore, all foreign currency forward contracts are denominated in primary currencies.

Note 12. Commitments and Contingencies

Capital Expenditures

As of December 31, 2001, we have six ships on order. Three are Radiance-class vessels scheduled for delivery in the third quarter of 2002, fourth quarter of 2003 and second quarter of 2004. Two are Voyager-class vessels with delivery scheduled in the first quarters of 2003 and 2004. One is a Millennium-class vessel scheduled for delivery in the second quarter of 2002. The aggregate contract price of the six ships, which excludes capitalized interest and other ancillary costs, is approximately $2.6 billion, of which we have deposited $316.5 million as of December 31, 2001. Additional deposits are due prior to the dates of delivery of $127.0 million in 2002 and $5.2 million in 2003. We anticipate that overall capital expenditures will be approximately $1.1 billion, $1.1 billion and $1.0 billion for 2002, 2003 and 2004, respectively. Two of the ships on order, with an aggregate capacity of 4,200 berths, are committed to the joint venture with P&O Princess. The aggregate contract price of these two ships, excluding capitalized interest and other ancillary costs, is approximately $0.8 billion and is included in our projected capital costs above.

Pursuant to the joint venture agreement entered into in November 2001 with P&O Princess, we have committed up to $500.0 million in shareholder equity, with approximately $5.0 million contributed to date and the balance due and payable when called by the joint venture company. We have agreed to assign our ship-build contracts for Serenade of the Seas and Jewel of the Seas to the joint venture company. The aggregate contract price of these two ships, excluding capitalized interest and other ancillary costs, is approximately $0.8 billion, of which we have deposited $79.3 million as of December 31, 2001. Also, we have obtained commitments for export financing for up to 80% of the contract price of these two vessels. Any payments we have made under these contracts prior to assignment will be credited against our shareholder equity commitment. The joint venture shareholders intend that the joint venture company be financed through third-party indebtedness and each joint venture shareholder has committed to provide necessary credit support in the form of guarantees on a pro rata basis, subject to legal or regulatory restrictions. To the extent that third-party financing cannot be obtained, and if approved in accordance with the terms of the joint venture agreement, the joint venture shareholders will provide financing on a pro rata basis on identical terms. Subject to the terms of the joint venture agreement, the agreement can be terminated by either party if certain commercial benchmarks have not been achieved by January 1, 2003 or April 1, 2003.

Under the joint venture agreement, if a change of control occurs with respect to a joint venture shareholder, the other shareholder has a right to acquire the interest of that shareholder at fair market value in exchange for preferred stock or a 15-year subordinated note (or a combination thereof) of the purchasing shareholder. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the joint venture shareholder subject to a change of control has the right, subject to certain conditions, to put its interest in the joint venture to the other joint venture shareholder at a discount to fair market value in exchange for preferred stock or a 20-year subordinated note (or a combination thereof) of the purchasing shareholder.

Litigation

In April 1999, a lawsuit was filed in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York on behalf of current and former crew members alleging that we failed to pay the plaintiffs their full wages. The suit seeks payment of (i) the wages alleged to be owed, (ii) penalty wages under 46 U.S.C. Section 10313 of U.S. law and (iii) punitive damages. In November 1999, a purported class action suit was filed in the same court alleging a similar cause of action. We are not able at this time to estimate the impact of these proceedings on us; there can be no assurance that such proceedings, if decided adversely, would not have a material adverse effect on our results of operations.

We are routinely involved in other claims typical within the cruise industry. The majority of these claims is covered by insurance. We believe the outcome of such other claims, net of expected insurance recoveries, is not expected to have a material adverse effect upon our financial condition or results of operations.
