Earlier today, Cigna announced it has entered into a definitive agreement to acquire Express Scripts a pharmacy services company. Together, we will create an expanded portfolio of health services that offers greater choice, alignment and value for everyone we serve. With more comprehensive health and well-being engagement between health care professionals and those they serve, we will make it an easier experience for individuals throughout their health care journey.

The combined company will build on the success of Cigna and Express Scripts, bringing together two innovative, complementary and customer-centric health service leaders to chart a healthier, more affordable, and more personalized health care journey for consumers. We are very excited about the opportunities this combination creates for our company, including improving holistic, personal and data-driven, value based care. We will continue to communicate with you as information becomes available.
